AUTO TRAIL'S TOLL RISES

Car Fatalities of 1929 Higher

New York State and City Lead Grewsome List; California Fourth

Los Angeles Ranked Third in Total Casualties, But Seventh Per Capita

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—California was the fourth State in automobile fatalities in 1929, according to Department of Commerce figures just released. New York had the greatest number. Pennsylvania was second, Ohio third.

New York City led the list for motor fatalities in 1929 with Chicago next and Los Angeles third. New York's deaths from this cause were 1338; Chicago, 729; Los Angeles, 390; Detroit, 369; Philadelphia, 356.

In percentages according to population, however, Los Angeles is much lower than other great American cities. Youngstown, O., led with 42.4 per cent; Gary, Ind., 40 per cent; Camden, N. J., 37.6 per cent; Long Beach, 36.7 per cent; Miami, Fla., 35.7; Cleveland, 32.9, and Los Angeles, 32.8 per cent.

SPORTSMAN SUCCUMBS

Polo King Victim of Pneumonia

Harry Payne Whitney Dies Unexpectedly Following Brief Illness

Vast Wealth Devoted Largely to Development of Turf Sports

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Harry Payne Whitney, multimillionaire sportsman and capitalist, died unexpectedly tonight at his home in Fifth avenue. He was 58 years of age, and, although he had been ailing several days, the illness was not considered serious.

He was a member of one of the wealthiest families in the world and the wealth he inherited and produced in mining and real estate was devoted in part to development of turf sports.

Harry Payne Whitney was a brother of the late Payne Whitney, financier, philanthropist and sportsman, who gave millions to charitable and other institutions. When he died while playing tennis on his country estate in 1927, he left an estate with a net valuation of $178,893,000, the largest in the history of the transfer-tax bureau here.

SUDDEN ILLNESS

Through Thomas J. Regan, the financier's secretary, the Whitney family issued the following statement tonight:

"On Tuesday, last, at his residence in New York, Mr. Whitney was taken ill with a slight cold, with fever, from which pneumonia developed, which was apparently not severe until Saturday morning when there was a rapid extension, and he died Sunday evening at 9:35 o'clock (E.S.T.)"

At Mr. Whitney's bedside when he died were his wife, his two daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. McCulloch Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry, and his son, Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney.

The widow, the former Gertrude Vanderbilt, is prominent as a sculptor and in social welfare and relief work. She and Mr. Whitney were married at Newport in 1896.

PREMIER SPORTSMAN

Horse racing, breeding and polo activities made Harry Payne Whitney known as a premier sportsman of America. Much of the wealth he inherited and produced in mining and real estate interests was devoted to development of turf sports.

In the polo field Mr. Whitney was one of about a dozen men in the game's history to hold the maximum handicap of ten goals. He became interested in the sport after leaving college, was said to have sensed the possibilities of the new kind of polo and to have organized the activities which led to the defeat of English teams in international matches.

He was a member of the famous "Big Four" of 1909, which established the reputation of American polo; and was known as "a player par excellence who could invariably be relied upon to pass the ball to the right man at the right moment."

YALE GRADUATE

Harry Payne Whitney was born in New York April 29, 1872, was the son of William C. Whitney, Secretary of the Navy during the first Cleveland administration and a wealthy mining and real estate operator who was determined that his son should succeed to his administrative affairs.

After the younger Whitney's graduation from Yale in 1894 he registered at Columbia University law school and entered the office of Elihu Root. He abandoned law the following year, however, and after a big game hunting trip to India, became identified with his father's interests in the Guggenheim Exploration Company and the American Smelting and Refining Company. He also served later as president of the New York Transportation Company.

There are three children, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Flora Payne (Mrs. G. MacCulloch Miller) and Barbara (Mrs. Barklie McKee Henry.)

OIL CHARGE REFUTED

Wilbur Receives Exoneration

Justice Department Finds No Grounds for Kelley Accusations

Shale Land Administration Declared to Have Been Entirely Regular

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Charges by Ralph S. Kelley that the Interior Department had permitted oil companies to get wrongful possession of valuable oil shale lands in Colorado, were said today by the Department of Justice to have been unsubstantiated by a study of government files and testimony of persons named in the accusations.

Meanwhile, Kelley issued a statement characterizing the Department of Justice report as a "ridiculous whitewash" and asserting it "reeks with misstatements and misrepresentations."

Kelley, six years in charge of the Denver field division of the Interior Department, charged Secretary Wilbur and former officials with permitting oil shale lands to be illegally taken under government grant.

Kelley resigned September 29, he said, in protest against the administration of the oil lands. Secretary Wilbur refused to accept the resignation and suspended Kelley pending an investigation which the Cabinet members requested the Justice Department to make.

WILBUR UPHELD

The investigation of Kelley's charges was made by Seth W. Richardson, an assistant Attorney-General. His report was transmitted to Wilbur today by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell.

In an accompanying note to Wilbur the Attorney-General upheld the Interior Department's administration of the oil shale lands.

"In looking through this report and the attached documents," he wrote, "I should say there is more evidence to support the conclusion that you and your department have been exceedingly strict and exacting in resisting claims for patents than that you have been too liberal."

Richardson reviewed in detail each charge made by the former field agent and said records showed only about 3 per cent of the oil shale lands owned by the government had been patented and that oil shale has no commercial value and will not have until the supply of petroleum in this country is exhausted. What its ultimate value will be, he said, is problematical.

NO IRREGULARITIES

"The investigation, therefore, which has been made by the Department of Justice has been unable to substantiate in any material particular the complaints and charges made by Kelley," Richardson reported. "As he states, the records and files should disclose the existence of the evils of which he complained, but they do not.

"The cases to which Kelley has directed specific attention present, in the files and records of these cases, no evidence of improprieties or irregularities, and certainly no basis for a charge of either wrongful or corrupt administration.

"The condition, therefore, presented by such files and records is entirely harmonious to the physical computations which have been presented in the figures with respect to oil-share acreage. The government oil-shale lands have not been lost or dissipated. Approximately 97 per cent of them still belong to the government. In the Colorado fields 87 per cent of the oil shales are still owned by the United States and the overwhelming majority of the acreage already granted has been granted on the recommendation and with the approval of the applicable field division." (Kelley's office.)

INDIANS KILL DRY RAIDER

Eight Seized as Suspects

Federal Agent Shot as He Enters Home During Fiesta Orgy

Morongo Reservation Near Banning Scene of Week's Tribal Celebration

BANNING, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) Angry resentment at the white man's intrusion flared to murderous fury on the Morongo Indian Reservation early today and Oscar Olson, special Federal prohibition agent, was shot through the heart and instantly killed.

The slaying of Olson closed a week of fiesta and celebration on the part of the Indians. Witnesses at a Coroner's inquest declared he was killed when he and his associate, Condido Hopkins, enforcement officer, went to the home of John Hyde, an Indian, in search of liquor.

EIGHT HELD

As the result of an investigation conducted by Department of Justice agents, Sheriff Sweetzer of Riverside county and Supt. Ellis of the Indian reservation, eight Indians are being held as material witnesses. Two of those held are John Hyde, where the killing took place, and Juan Lopez.

About a dozen Indians were at the Hyde home, some four miles from here on the edge of the desert, when Olson and Hopkins arrived about 4 a.m.

The Indians, according to witnesses, had been indulging in a drinking orgy to climax the week of dance and rites that featured the celebration. The two Federal officers just reached the interior of the home, when they were forced to make a dash for their lives before the enraged Indians.

As Olson backed through the front door, a shot rang out, and the rifle bullet tore into his heart. He dropped dead. Hopkins, who says he is the son of Ramona and is Chief of Police of the reservation, was not injured and escaped the tragedy.

RIFLE USED

Investigators at the scene of the killing report that the Indians have been consuming large amounts of "rub-alcohol" and were fired to intense fury at the sight of the Federal officers. A rifle, reported to be the property of Hyde, was the weapon used in the killing, but authorities are unable to discover just who fired the shot.

Olson, 40 years of age, according to information here, was just recently transferred to prohibition duty on the Indian reservations of Southern California from North Dakota. He is said to have been an enforcement officer for several years, and worked especially among the Indians. His home is in Buxton, N. D., where his widow and three children reside. He has a brother, Dr. Barto Olson, in Los Angeles.

Australian Aviatrix Cuts Nearly Four Hours Off West-East Continent Run

VALLEY STREAM (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (AP)—The Australian aviatrix, Mrs. Keith Miller, landed at Curtiss-Wright Airport at 3:02 p.m. today with the women's records for east-west and west-east transcontinental flight in her possession. She flew from Los Angeles here in 21 hours, 47 minutes, elapsed time. Recently she flew to the Coast in 25 hours, 44 minutes.

The last leg of the flight was from Columbus, O., whence she departed this forenoon at 10:33 o'clock, landing here four hours and nine minutes later.

She bettered by nearly four hours the west-east record of 25 hours, 35 minutes, recently set by Miss Laura Ingalls.

Taking off from Columbus without breakfast, she battled cross-winds which forced her 30 deg. off her course at one time. She was greeted by a crowd of about 300 persons.

Score of Reds Seized in Buffalo

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (AP)—After breaking up a Communist mass meeting in a public square and making three arrests last night, police stormed the headquarters of the party and took twenty-one more prisoners. In the melee, which included hand-to-hand combats with the police, the headquarters was wrecked.

Among the prisoners is Ruth White, 22 years of age, who is charged with assault, third degree, and resisting an officer. She was felled with a police billy after, it is asserted, she slapped a policeman's face.

Leipsic Reds Beat Fascists

LEIPSIC (Germany) Oct. 26. (AP) Seven Fascists were injured, two seriously, in a clash with Communists in the suburb of Leutzsch today. The Fascists, who were distributing pamphlets, were suddenly surrounded by an overwhelming force of Communists.

They took refuge in near-by villas, but the Communists stormed the houses, smashing windows and damaging doorways. The Fascists were severely beaten.

Two Children Burn in Home

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) Oct. 26. (AP) Randall Duard Falls, 4 years of age, and Billie Rudolph Falls, 1, sons of C. A. Falls, were burned to death last night while their mother was at the home of a neighbor across the street. The Falls' home was demolished by fire, the cause of which was unknown.

Instructor of Col. Lindbergh Killed in Car

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 26. (AP)—Erroid G. Bahl, 35 years of age, aviator and former flying instructor of Col. Charles A. Lindbergh, was killed here today when his motor car collided with another machine.

Charles Remington, a salesman, who drove the other car, said Bahl disregarded a traffic signal light. Bahl was employed as a pilot for the Union Electric Light and Power Company, which operates a trimotor plane between St. Louis and a Bagnell (Mo.) power dam project.

Bahl, a native of Nebraska, had been flying since 1918. It was at Lincoln, Neb., that Lindbergh, then a youth seeking instructions in aviation, joined Bahl's barnstorming group and received some instruction from Bahl, whom he mentions in his book "We."

Dead in German Mine Explosion to Exceed 100

SAARBRUECKEN (Germany) Oct. 26. (AP)—The coal mine disaster at Maybach colliery yesterday appears tonight to have taken at least 100 lives.

Ninety bodies are in mortuaries, while all hope has been given up for eleven men known still to be under ground.

Coming before Germany's flags were hauled up from half-mast mourning for the 262 victims of the recent Alsdorf mine explosion, the Maybach disaster fell upon the nation as a stunning shock. The Saarbruecken disaster not only was the second major calamity to hit the German coal fields within a week. It also was the third within four months.

HOOVER TO MAKE RADIO TALK TODAY

Premiers of Japan and Great Britain to Help in London Pact Celebration

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The London naval treaty becomes binding tomorrow upon the governments of the United States, Great Britain and Japan, with President Hoover joining Premiers MacDonald and Hamaguchi in an international broadcast celebrating the occasion.

Every section of the universe is to hear the addresses made simultaneously with the depositing in London of Japan's instrument of ratification. The instruments of the United States and Great Britain, accepting the terms of the treaty which for the first time limits all types of naval vessels, already have been deposited.

Premier Hamaguchi is scheduled to speak first, at 8:50 a.m. (P.S.T.) and if this hook-up is successful it will be the first time Japan has been linked in on an international broadcast in this country.

Following the Japanese Premier President Hoover will speak from the Cabinet room of the White House at 7:02 a.m. (P.S.T.) A group of notables will surround him as he delivers his six-minute address.

Premier MacDonald is to speak next at 7:08 a.m. (P.S.T.) from London, and he is to be followed by Tsuneo Matsudaira, Japanese Ambassador to London.

LINE OF AIR TALKS DISCLOSED IN JAPAN

TOKIO, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Associated Press learned in authoritative quarters tonight that President Hoover, Prime Minister MacDonald and Premier Hamaguchi, celebrating in an international radio broadcast tomorrow the deposit of ratifying instruments for the London naval treaty, will go beyond formal congratulations on past accomplishments and attempt to push forward the cause of naval limitation.

Aviator and His Student Killed

VALLEY STREAM (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (AP)—A pilot and a student aviator were killed today, when their plane nose-dived to the links of the Cold Stream Golf Club, near here.

Maj. Philip Watson, an army reserve officer, and Julius Nester, about 34 years of age, were the victims. They were flying in a biplane about 100 feet above the links when the machine got out of control.

GERMANY FEELS QUAKES

HOHENHEIM (Germany) Oct. 26. (AP)—Earthquake shocks of moderate intensity were recorded by the local observatory today at 8:13 and 8:31 a.m. It was estimated their epicenter was 250 miles away.

Will Rogers Remarks:

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26. [To the Editor of The Times:] Oo-La-Gah, Oklahoma, my real old home, had a fine celebration Saturday. Sure sorry couldn't make it. Unemployment is terrible, but employment is worse.

A prominent miniature golf course out here was robbed the other night. The bandits got five "putters," thirteen balls and 85 cents in currency.

Stanford University has always been kinder hard to get into, but after yesterday's game with Southern California they would take in any moron that couldn't even spell football, as long as he looked like he could carry one.

Yours,

WILL ROGERS.

MUMMY "FORECASTS" WAR

Egyptian Hawk Dripped "Blood" During Period of Boer Hostilities and World Conflict

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Tale of an Egyptian mummified hawk that drips "blood" during war time was told today by Lord Robert Baden-Powell, chief scout. He says he is not superstitious enough to believe the hawk really forecasts the coming of war, but thinks its prophetic powers are "an amazing coincidence."

Asked to amplify a brief reference he made to the bird at a recent banquet, he said:

"The bird, which is in a mummified state, was discovered in 1887 by a friend of mine during excavation work in Egypt. By comparing it with other things discovered at the same time, he concluded that the bird was at least 4000 years old.

"I saw the thing for the first time the other day at a friend's private museum. It is in a wonderful state of preservation and although the eyes are gone one can still clearly see the beak and the features.

"On the shelf where the bird stands, I noticed a dry brown stain, and when I questioned my friend about it he told me that about a month before the outbreak of the Boer war the hawk became damp and gently oozed bubbles of this stuff.

"All through the campaign this 'sweating' continued until about a month before the war ended, when as suddenly and mysteriously as it had begun the dripping ceased.

"But exactly a month before the outbreak of the great war the bubbles again appeared, and the amazing fact is that they again stopped just a month before the Armistice.

"How can one account for it? Is the liquid some preservative used in the mummifying process which is affected by the weather?"

"A point which seems rather to upset this theory is that there surely must have been weather conditions when the bird was dry similar to those when it was wet. And again, how is one to explain that on each occasion the oozing coincides so exactly with the duration of the war?

"Mind you, I am not superstitious enough to think that the hawk by some weird means forecasts war, but no doubt many people would seize upon that theory. Personally I think it is just an amazing coincidence."

FRENCH WATCH NEW RAYS

Skepticism and Alarm Aroused by Reports About Germans Halting Autos at Distance

[Copyright, 1930, by the Chicago Tribune]

PARIS, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Long distance magnetic waves capable of paralyzing automobile and airplane motors with which the Germans are reported to be experimenting successfully have aroused mingled skepticism and alarm in France.

Just at a time when the Paris papers were playing up the horrors of chemical warfare and stressing the impotence of any known means of defense against air raids, dispatches from Prague arrived yesterday stating that in a certain area in Saxony automobiles along a two-mile stretch of road where immobilized at will by the new rays. It is explained in the dispatches that the rays paralyzed the magnetos and shut off the spark.

Today the former War Minister, Paul Painleve, who is also a famous scientist and mathematician, declared that the reported experiment is absurd and expressed his opinion that rays capable of stopping automobile engines will never be discovered. He admitted, however, that certain rays are known which could stop a small delicate motor if the magneto were especially tuned in.

"It is impossible for a magneto not especially prepared to receive these radiations," he declared. "I don't believe the reported Saxony experiments; besides they could have no practical value because only the motor which has been especially prepared could be affected by the rays."

M. Painleve pointed out the case of the famous English heat rays which never materialized and the experiment which was tried while he was War Minister, the setting off of a mine in Cherbourg Harbor by the rays from a machine miles away, which turned out to be the fake of an international adventurer.

M. Leon Daudet, Royalist leader, however, declared in today's Action Francaise that he knows a young scientist who is on the point of perfecting airplane rays and declares that the Germans are also succeeding.

TRADE HORIZON FOUND BRIGHT

Business Parley Surveys Nine Months of 1930

New Capital Provided for Productive Purposes

Prices of Raw Materials Being Stabilized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Optimism over the future of business, both nationally and internationally, was expressed today by the National Business Survey Conference in a summary of economic conditions for the first nine months of 1930.

The organization, set up a year ago by business and financial leaders in co-operation with President Hoover, has conducted a continuous study of business conditions.

"In the preparation of this summary several factors were apparent," the report, signed by Julius H. Barnes, chairman, said. "Among these were the large amount of new capital provided for productive purposes and evidences of stabilization or advancing tendencies in prices of raw materials. All such factors each business man will wish to weigh for himself."

BAND LENDING MOUNTS

Supporting this conclusion, it was pointed out that lending operations of banks markedly had increased; that capital issues for September were 80 per cent greater than those of August, and that "a decreasing number of foreclosures and delinquencies reflected continued improvement in the field of first-lein banking." No uniform trend, either up or down, was visible as to saving deposits.

Installment selling of automobiles and other items was said to be showing "no material increase in repossessions." Some betterment exists in wholesale collections with no change in retail collections. Life insurance selling increased in September over August. Premium income of fire insurance companies has declined.

For the first nine months of 1930, the report said, residential construction had declined under last year's mark by $714,000,000, but public works and public utility construction had been above last year's volume by $180,000,000. Paving contracts exceeded last year's total by 7 per cent. Residential vacancies over the country were normal for September in six out of seventeen districts of the United States.

Street railway traffic in September was 8 per cent under that of the same month last year, but August records of such traffic were 10 per cent under last year's. Freight traffic on railroads was less.

Seasonal increases were noted in telephone communication and in radio sales. Postal receipts showed a decline in the previous rate of recession for September.

New capital investments in utilities continued to be above last year's records in most cases, the survey continued. Output of electrical equipment was above 1928 levels, though below that of 1929. Stocks on hand of petroleum products declined. Metal prices dropped, and output rates in steel and copper were lower than the average. September automobile production was 42 per cent below that of last year but inventories of auto tires have decreased.

Production of cotton seed products and industrial alcohol has been at high rates, the report said. September also "carried forward seasonal improvement in the textile industry," with increased takings of cotton by mills. Consumption of silk markedly increased.

Export demand for apples was greater than last year while domestic shipments of fruits and vegetables remained at 1929 levels.

Milk consumption has held firm, but in "terms of consumer outlay," produce was said to have brought in 15 per cent less during September than over a five-year average. Stocks of raw sugar have declined and prices risen.

"A number of raw materials now show increases in prices," the report noted, naming cotton, corn, wheat and coffee.

Foreign trade volume was said to have declined but it added that abroad there "were promising signs of stable conditions and also of improvement in variety of industries, scattered through many countries."

BRIDGE GETS MECHANICAL AID

New Device Shuffles and Deals

Miss Nina Peterson Cranks Out a Hand

CLEVELAND (O.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—The fumbling dealer in a bridge game will no longer be told to "get a basket." In fact, according to L. A. Lux of this city, there will be no need for a fumbling dealer. For the first successful shuffling and dealing machine has been patented by Lux.

The little machine, upon which Lux has been working two years, was invented to eliminate the greatest time-waster for serious-minded bridge players—shuffling and dealing. The pack of cards is placed on a small form between a pair of rollers and a spring. The dealer turns a crank and the cards are whisked in rotation into four separate compartments. Seven seconds are required to deal, and about twenty seconds for the complete process of shuffling and dealing. Lux's machine weighs less than a pound.

KELLEY CHARGE HELD BASELESS

Justice Department Reports on Investigation

Fraud Evidence Declared Entirely Lacking

"story containing charges against the Department of Interior and various officials thereof."

The Denver field agent, it continues, did not report to the department until August 5, where he remained until September 1, when he "absented himself without permission" until he resigned.

The report reviews Kelley's refusal to aid in the investigation, says papers Kelley charged had been destroyed are in the department files, that a case Kelley said had been decided for the government really was a decision against the government and that former Secretary Work, former Assistant Secretary Finney and other officials had acted properly and in good faith in handling the oil-shale patent cases.

Kelley's charges that politics influenced the department in its decision are described as unfounded and Richardson said Kelley's allegation that Secretary Wilbur favored oil companies is untrue. He cited a number of suits filed against Wilbur by oil companies to compel the Secretary to relax orders pertaining to them.

KELLEY ANALYZED

"The record and the files in the department, together with Kelley's correspondence," the report says, "together with the language used by Kelley in his newspaper story, indicate fairly that he makes extreme charges readily, carelessly and excitedly; that he is prone to believe people who disagree with him to be venal and dishonest, and that he, and he alone, possesses the proper amount of knowledge and judgment to correctly decide oil-shale matters. . . . At his work at Denver, most of the lawyers and claimants, including their witnesses, were charged with bad faith and worse, and a considerable group of reputable lawyers found it necessary to formally protest to the Department of Interior against Kelley's conduct."

The report said Kelley's method of computing the value of oil-shale land by multiplying the theoretical ultimate production by the theoretical value shows "the basic lack of judgment in controversial matters possessed by Kelley.

"The department finds no merit or substance in the Kelley charges made against the Department of the Interior," the report concludes. "It has been unable to find any evidence of corruptness, irregularity or wrong doing in connection with the administration of the Interior Department of oil-shale lands in the past, and, there is every evidence, under the present administration of Secretary Wilbur, that oil-shale lands of the United States have been fully, fairly, adequately and lawfully protected, conserved and administered."

DEATH CLAIMS H. P. WHITNEY

evidence of the business ability which distinguished his father in 1901, when despite the fact that he had entries in an important horse show in New York, he went with Daniel Guggenheim and others to Colorado, Mexico and the Southwest, returning with silver, lead and copper leases aggregating $10,000,000 in value.

When his father died in 1904, he inherited a fortune of approximately $34,000,000. During the latter years of his life he devoted his time to his business interests and sporting activities, serving as president of the Whitney Realty Company, director of the Guaranty Trust Company, and the Metropolitan Opera Company, and vice-president of the Saratoga Association for the Improvement of the Breed of Horses. He was also member of approximately a score of clubs.

Although his father was an active Democrat, Harry Payne Whitney never assumed the place in politics occupied by his father. He confined his political activities, with the exception of a brief service as Commissioner of Public Statistics in New York, to financial and moral support.

In addition to his turf activities he was an ardent devotee of baseball and hunting. For many years he was said to have paid $75,000 for a few days' shooting at Holwick, Eng.

MEXICAN GENERALS BANQUET IN AMITY

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles and Gen. Joaquin Amaro, the two strongest military men in Mexico, sat side by side last night at a banquet given by officers of the Mexico City garrison, an incident considered to have great political significance. The presence of the two generals together was taken as refutation of reports during the recent political crisis that there had been a serious disagreement between them. Gen. Calles delivered a speech intended to dispell rumors that Gen. Amaro, Minister of War, is ambitious for a higher place in the government and is converting the army into a machine to serve his own interests.

SHELLING OF SHIP LAID TO IMPUDENCE

BUENOS AIRES, Oct. 26. (AP)—A Rio de Janeiro dispatch to La Nacion today quotes military authorities as saying the shelling of the German steamship Baden was due to the impudence of her commander, who attempted to leave port, notwithstanding warnings to the contrary by the Portress Santa Cruz Lage.

They said the fortress fired three blank shots and finally when the Baden had passed the fire range the Portress Vigia fired a projectile which, after shattering one of the ship's masts, exploded in the immigrants' quarters.

VON HINDENBURG WILL ACCEPT SALARY CUT

BERLIN, Oct. 26. (AP)—President Von Hindenburg today notified the Finance Ministry he will accept a 20 per cent reduction in his salary beginning November 1. The reduction, part of Chancellor Bruening's economy program, has not yet been officially put into effect, but all the Cabinet ministers have accepted cuts in similar manner.

COLORED HAREM GIVEN ESTATE

Negro Makes Bequests to His Twenty-Two Wives and Forty-Two Children

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The last will of a Negro providing for twenty-two wives and forty-two children was admitted to probate here. He is Henry Doherty of Compos-square, Lagos, a merchant, who was falsely described as an Irishman.

His estate amounts to $292,500. He left $1250 to a church missionary society, $500 and $15 monthly to seven wives and $500 to another wife. He provided the remaining wives with property bequests.

He left $2500 to each male child and $1250 to the female children. He also provided for their education.

FOOD TAX QUESTION AT LONDON

New Zealand Premier Sees No Prospect of Success in Imperial Conference

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The veil that has shrouded deliberations of the imperial conference since its opening session was ripped aside tonight by Premier Forbes of New Zealand, who declared the attitude of the British Labor government on tariff leaves "little hope of real progress." Premier Forbes is head of a government that staunchly stands for higher imperial tariffs.

"We simply seem to be drifting and not getting anywhere," he said in an interview.

"The whole question is wrapped up in that of food taxes. Mr. Snowden says distinctly there will be no food taxes—well, you can't get beyond that.

"Instead of food taxes, the government is suggesting theoretical problems. We are practical people in the Antipodes. We know things which will work and have worked, but we look upon theoretical things with some suspicion.

"The attitude of the government, therefore, leaves little hope of real progress."

LAST YEAR'S CAR DEATHS HIGHER

in which automobiles were involved caused 29,531 deaths in 1929 with a death rate of 23.4 per 100,000 population. Of this total, collisions of automobiles with railroad trains and with street cars were responsible for 1868 and 907 deaths, respectively, which, if excluded would leave 27,066 deaths with a death rate of 23.3.

The death registration area in 1929 was composed of forty-six States and the District of Columbia and nine registration cities in nonregistration States, and included 95.7 per cent of the total population of continental United States.

DEATH RATE RISES

Assuming that the same death rate would hold true for the remainder of continental United States, the number of deaths in 1929 from accidents in which automobiles were involved is estimated as 30,858 for the whole country, as compared with an estimate of 27,618 for the year 1928. These figures indicate an increase of more than 3000 deaths from this cause in a single year.

Comparing the States, the greatest number of deaths occurred in New York, 3192, followed by Pennsylvania, 2331; Ohio, 2220, and California, 2271. Nevada had the highest death rate per 100,000 population, 51.1. Next in order are California, 41.2; Arizona, 36.2; Florida, 35.5; Ohio, 33.3; Indiana, 34.1, and Wyoming, 33.7.

CITIES' FATALITIES

Cities other than the five named, with more than 100 deaths are Cleveland, 294; St. Louis, 152; Pittsburgh, 150; Baltimore, 143; Buffalo, 136; Boston, 133; Cincinnati, 131; Newark, 121; Indianapolis, 107; San Francisco, 107, and New Orleans, 103.

Chicago had the greatest number of deaths from collisions of automobiles with railroad trains, twenty-six, and with street cars, thirty. Next in order are Gary with fourteen deaths from collisions of automobiles with railroad trains and Los Angeles with nineteen deaths from collisions of automobiles with street cars.

GOLF COURSE FACES NEW KIND OF SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—For the first time in the history of local courts, a damage suit has been filed against a golf course for not erecting barriers along fairways bordering a public highway and the case when tried, will be based, attorneys said, on an old English law that has not been invoked for 100 years. The complainant is Ferdinand Federlin, who asks $50,473 for a fractured skull suffered by his wife and his loss of her company. She was struck, he charges, by a ball from the Ingleside course which went through the windshield of their automobile.

DENVER MURDER ALIBI WEAKENED

Solution in O'Loughlin Case Believed to Be Near

Friend of Child's Mother Refutes Own Story

Tells New Tale of Doings on Night of Crime

DENVER, Oct. 26. (AP)—A written statement which police believe may result in a complete solution of the mystery slaying of Leona O'Loughlin, 10 years of age, was taken today from Mrs. Ethel Sparr, central figure in the alibi of Mrs. Pearl O'Loughlin, the child's stepmother, who is charged with Leona's murder.

Mrs. Sparr's statement, according to A. T. Clark, captain of detectives, recited that previous stories of events on the night of Tuesday the 14th inst., were constructed by her and Mrs. O'Loughlin. In that night Leona was beaten over the head and her body thrown in Berkeley Park lake.

Mrs. O'Loughlin had stated previously, and Mrs. Sparr confirmed that Mrs. O'Loughlin twice visited the Sparr home on that night and had arrived about 8:30 p.m., left and then returned about half an hour later.

Today Mrs. Sparr told police Mrs. O'Loughlin did not arrive until about 10:30 o'clock and was dishevelled and muddy and in a state of great excitement, authorities said. Police quoted Mrs. Sparr as saying Mrs. O'Loughlin's shoes were muddy and her dress wet above the knees.

The break in Mrs. O'Loughlin's alibi which police have been seeking since the woman's arrest a week ago, came after Mrs. Sparr had been questioned for more than seven hours Saturday by Dist.-Atty. Wettengel and further interrogated by Chief of Police Reed.

Mrs. Sparr's statements today confirm statements previously taken from two men roomers at Mrs. Sparr's house. Report Terrill had told police he was certain Mrs. O'Loughlin had not reached the Sparr house before 10 o'clock. Another roomer said the woman had not been there to his knowledge when he went to sleep about 9:30 o'clock.

Mrs. O'Loughlin pleaded not guilty to charges of first-degree murder when arraigned yesterday in West Side Criminal Court. At the same time, her brother-in-law, Frank O'Loughlin, pleaded not guilty to murder charges in connection with Leona's death.

Rivera Accused of 'Catering' to American Guests

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Charges of "catering to American tourists," have been brought against Diego Rivera, celebrated Mexican painter, by the revolutionary union of painters and sculptors.

The union, which recently expelled Senor Rivera, charges in the press the painter invites tourists to dinner at his home with the object of interesting them in buying his work.

It also accuses him of defaming the Spanish Conquistadores in the murals he painted for the old Cortes Palace in Cuernavaca.

AMERICAN ADVISER TO POLAND HONORED

WARSAW, Oct. 26. (AP)—Charles Dewey, American adviser to Poland, has been named an honorary member of the Council of the Bank of Poland, in appreciation of his work in reorganizing Polish finances.

Mr. Dewey's resignation was made effective the 20th inst., on the theory that Poland had carried out his stabilization regulations, and, therefore, had no further need of him. Both the press and public officials paid tribute to the results obtained during his financial stewardship.

PLAGUE CLAIMS WARD EDMONDS

Noted Stanford Athlete Dies of Infantile Paralysis

Laurels Won at Pole Vault, Hurdles and Golf

Body Taken to San Diego for Burial at Old Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Ward Edmonds, 22 years of age, noted Stanford University pole vaulter, hurdler, and golfer, died today in Stanford Hospital here, after a short illness with infantile paralysis.

Edmonds who, since his graduation last year from the Palo Alto institution, has been connected with the head office of the Bank of Italy here, was transferred to Stanford Hospital from St. Mary's Hospital only yesterday.

SAN DIEGO BORN

The son of Warner Edmonds, Santa Barbara manager of the Bank of Italy, the former Cardinal athlete was a native of San Diego.

His father, mother, two brothers, Warner Edmonds, Jr., and George, and sister Janet, were at the bedside when death came.

The body of Edmonds, who was a member of Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity, was sent to San Diego tonight for burial Tuesday in Glen Abbey Memorial Park, Chula Vista.

Edmonds was the greatest pole vaulter ever developed at Stanford and helped his alma mater win the intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track and field championships in 1927-28 and 29. Also an outstanding hurdler, he competed in both the low and high barrier events in addition to vaulting and his versatility was the contributing factor in Stanford's national triumphs over the three-year stretch.

WORLD PEER

R. L. "Dink" Templeton, Stanford track and field coach, expressed the opinion today Edmonds would have become a world record-holder in the pole vault if he had not been needed in the hurdles and could have confined his activities to his favorite event.

In the 1929 I.C.A.A.A.A. championships Edmonds tied for first place in the pole vault with Williams of Southern California and Sturdy of Yale at 13ft. 9in. and a week later broke the national collegiate record at Chicago with 13ft. 9 5-8in.

Edmonds also was a member of the Stanford golf team for three years, competing as a two-handicap man. This year he was a member of the San Francisco Olympic Club track and field team. He majored in economics at Stanford.

BANDIT ROBS WIRE OFFICE IN GLENDALE

Hold-up Man Uses Fake Message to Gain Entry to Telegraph Station

GLENDALE, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) Pulling a new ruse, a bandit tonight worked his way into the Western Union telegraph office at 221½ South Brand Boulevard and robbed the cash drawer of $230, the day's receipts.

C. R. Long, assistant manager, closed the office at 6 p.m. and sent the employees home while he remained to check up the day's business. Half an hour later he was disturbed by a heavy pounding on the door and through the window observed a man waving a message blank and requesting that it be filed. As Long opened the door he faced a drawn revolver. The bandit hurried Long to a room in the rear and locked the door. He then removed the money and walked from the office.

Loud calls from below aroused residents of an apartment over the telegraph offices and at 7:30 p.m. they called police, who released Long. Detectives Warwick and Freeman were placed on the bandit's trail.

Wilbur Receives Data for Child Health Meeting

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Confidence that a program can be arranged to improve the health of American children was expressed today by Secretary Wilbur as chairman of President Hoover's conference on child health and protection.

Wilbur said all reports and recommendations for the conference meeting next month have been received. They consist of eighteen 10,000-word summaries, the essence of the findings of 1200 experts working on 140 subcommittees, and are now neatly stacked in an office in the Interior Building.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Ellery Montrose, salesman, shot and killed himself in his home here today. Acquaintances said he had been morose since his wife died two months ago.

As a member of the National Guard Signal Corps thirty-five years ago, he figured in the capture of Theodore Durrant, notorious "belfry" murderer who was hanged in 1898 for the murder of two young women.

NAVAL MEN COMMENDED FOR RESCUE

Seven Who Saved Army Flyers in Plane Mishap Honored at Washington

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Four naval officers who rescued several army flyers from drowning in the Pacific Ocean and three navy enlisted men who aided them have been commended by Secretary Adams.

The army planes were on a training flight in the Hawaiian Islands when a bomber took a nose dive. Its crew took to parachutes and fell in the ocean. Two amphibian army planes went to their aid, but the heavy seas made rescue very difficult.

Two naval flying boats, commanded by Commander V. C. Herdster of Ballston Spa, N.Y., and Lieut. Meinrad A. Schur of San Diego, Cal., were accompanying the flight. Schur dived down and the army men were rescued and were all saved by the S.S. Hawaii.

Schur, Herbster, Lieut. Clarence A. Hawkins of Wichita, Kan., and Lieut. W. R. Spear of Chula Vista, Cal., commander of the S.S. Pelican, which picked up the crew of the army amphibians, have been given special letters of commendation.

The enlisted men commended were Albert Redfearn Schlacks, aviation pilot of Farmington, Mich., John Howard Dodson, chief radioman of Franklin, Pa., and Anthony Joseph Kachergis, aviation machinist's mate of Pittston, Pa., who, with Lieut. Hawkins, were in Schur's plane.

Girl Visitors of Prisoner Held

DETROIT, Oct. 26. (AP) — Police announced today that two young women who visited Angelo Livechi at the Wayne County Jail Saturday were arrested and are held incommunicado in connection with the slaying of Jerry Buckley, radio political commentator.

Livecchi is awaiting trial on a murder charge and is accused by police of being one of the "trigger men" in the Buckley assassination.

The women held are Dorothy Allen, 24 years of age, and Dorothy Eckert, 24. They probably will be taken before the twenty-two-man jury which is investigating the Buckley slaying tomorrow.

Plot Inspected in Theater Fire

OAKLAND, Oct. 26. (AP)—The possible incendiary origin of a fire early today in the Orpheum Theater, Oakland, which was checked before it gained headway, is being investigated tonight by police and firemen.

An employee of the theater discovered the flames in straw which had been scattered about the entrance and lobby as coloring for the picture. Simultaneously, he said, he saw a youth hurriedly join two others in an automobile and drive away.

Tucson Scents Double Murder

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Bodies of two persons believed by police to have been murdered were found on a vacant lot here today. They were identified as Jesse F. Morgan, Denver, Colo., and Conradox Villa, Tucson, a clerk.

Police tonight said eight suspects, including two women, were being held for investigation.

ANNIVERSARY FINDS NORDICS FRIENDLIER

BLOWS STRUCK AT MORAN GANG

Chicago Fears New Outbreak of Capone Feud

Leader of North Side Band Tossed Into Jail

Detective Squads Comb Area Ruled by Aiello

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Spurred by recurrent reports of mobilization of a new force for a war against the regime of "Scarface Al" Capone, police struck twice today at the remnants of the decimated Moran-Aiello gang.

George (Bugs) Moran, who alone of the leaders of the North Side entente rode through the six-year vendetta with the Capone gang and who is reputed to be prime mover in the marshalling of the new mob, was captured by police at a roadhouse in Bluff Lake, Ill.

AIELLO DOMAIN COMBED

Simultaneously detective squads combed the Aiello domain in Chicago, raiding the bullet-scarred headquarters of the clan whose pistols supported Joe Aiello in his insistent efforts to gain control of the local Unione Siciliana. No gunmen were found in the district nor were any located before the $11,000 bier of Aiello, who fell Thursday with 135 bullets in his body.

The raiders learned many peace-loving Italians, have been hurriedly moving from the district. This, investigators said, is certain evidence the Aiellos plan a fight to the finish.

Dominic Aiello, dubbed "the sharpshooter," will succeed to the Aiello clan leadership, police said. He has been tried for murder several times but acquitted.

BUGS MORAN JAILED

Moran was taken as he sat reading newspaper accounts of the lavish funeral planned for the man who shared with him the leadership of the North Side gang since the slaying of Dion O'Banion in 1924—also the man, police said, who was to march with Moran in the plotted campaign against their common enemy, "Scarface Al."

A double-barreled shotgun was within arm's reach of Moran but he made no attempt to use it. He was taken to court and charged with vagrancy and with conspiracy to defeat justice in concealing Leo Mongoven, his will o' the wisp bodyguard, who has eluded authorities for months. A $30,000 bond was set; Moran was unable to provide it and was taken to jail.

SENTENCES FIXED FOR SLAYERS

Two in San Quentin for Decade Given Thirty-five and Thirty-six Years

SAN QUENTIN, Oct. 26 (AP)—Two men who have served more than ten years in San Quentin penitentiary for murder in the second degree today had their terms fixed at thirty-five and thirty-six years by the State Prison Board.

Harry S. New, who confessed shooting his sweetheart to death in Los Angeles, had his term fixed at thirty-six years, with the last ten years to be on parole. He entered the penitentiary February 3, 1920. New is the reputed son of Harry S. New, former United States Senator and former Postmaster-General.

The term of Ben F. Obenchain, convicted of second-degree murder in Madera county, was fixed at thirty-five years with the last eight to be on parole. He entered the prison in January, 1920.

H. F. Prather, former Mendocino county clerk convicted of embezzling fish and game funds, was given a five-year term by the board. It recommended that he be paroled when he has served eighteen months, which will be about six months hence.

Edna Sharp, convicted in San Francisco of child stealing, was given a seven-year term. She entered the prison in February, 1929. The board recommended she be paroled when she has served three and a half years.

Motorists Fail to Save Life of Boy in Cave-in WAHOO (Neb.) Oct. 26. (AP)—The body of Melvin Schmidt, 10 years of age, was recovered tonight about an hour after he had been buried in a cave-in of a sandbank. The landslide occurred on the farm of the boy's father, John C. Schmidt, east of here.

Melvin and a playmate were digging at the foot of the shaft when suddenly it fell. Melvin was covered with about four feet of sand. The boy's chum, Richard Hugil, ran to the Schmidt farmhouse to get help.

Mrs. Schmidt stopped motorists on a highway near by and soon more than a dozen were working to unearth the body. Efforts by a Wahoo doctor to resuscitate the boy failed.

Broker Ends Life With Gun

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 26. (AP)—Sidney F. Tyler Brock, member of the brokerage concern of Reilly, Brock & Co., ended his life today, police say, by shooting himself in the head.

His senior partner, George K. Reilly, took his life in a similar manner last Thursday.

The authorities expressed the belief that business worries had led both men to take their lives.

STUNTING FLYER KILLED

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Michael Moher, 27 years of age, a commercial aviator, was killed today when his plane fell while he was stunting over a suburban flying field.

SAVING by the "BUDGET PLAN"

IT IS just about as easy for a man with a salary or a steady income to "go into credit" as it is for him to "go into debt."

The word "debt" has an unpleasant sound. To escape this, advocates of installment selling have coined a more pleasant expression..."Buying on the budget plan." The man who buys "on the budget plan" must set aside regularly a definite sum out of his wages or income, to meet the installments.

This method of buying...enjoying the use of the merchandise while paying for it is a means of anticipating an expected pleasure or need.

But don't overlook the unexpected; the emergency for which a reserve of money is needed: the opportunity open only for cash. Apply the same installment plan to your Bank Account. You know you ought to have $500, or $1000 or more in that reserve. Buy it, as you would a luxury, by budgeting...pay to your own account a definite part of the money you receive.

WHAT OWNERS SAY

The manufacturers of a new automobile are prejudiced in favor of it. Competitors are apt to be prejudiced against it. There is one reliable source of unprejudiced information, and that is the owner who has had experience with the car. We introduced the Cord front-drive automobile very conservatively because we did not expect the public to believe the truth about its many exclusive advantages until several thousands of owners had driven Cord cars many thousands of miles. It is now our privilege to offer you the testimony of owners, which, we are sure, will be far more convincing than anything we might say.

DIPLOMAT WILL DIRECT DINNERS

White House Functions This Year Play Safe

Hoover Nominates Scapegoat to Arrange Affairs

F. Lammot Belin in Charge of State Receptions

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2. (AP)—An official social calendar of twelve state functions, with F. Lammot Belin as their director, has been announced at the White House.

Opening one day after the short session of Congress starts, the crowded White House social season will include two events the first week and one each week thereafter, with the final reception on Monday, February 16, just two days before the opening of an early Lenten season.

DIPLOMAT NEEDED

F. Lammot Belin, the new steersman for the State functions, will be appointed when he returns to Washington November 15 from his latest diplomatic post as First Secretary in London. The White House duties will be a part of his position as chief of the Division of International Conferences and Protocol of the State Department. In assuming his bifunctional post he will be given the rank of Minister, held also by Warren D. Robbins, his predecessor.

A brilliant function is scheduled for every Thursday night except New Year's, when the time-honored morning reception to the public takes place.

SOIREE SCHEDULED

As in previous years dinners will be held at 8 p.m., and receptions at 9 o'clock. The first function will be the dinner to Cabinet members Tuesday, December 2, next. Two days thereafter and on succeeding Thursdays, receptions and dinners will occur in the following order—diplomatic reception, judicial reception, Vice-President's dinner, New Year's reception, diplomatic dinner, reception to members of the Senate, dinner to the Chief Justice and Supreme Court, reception to members of the House of Representatives, Speaker's dinner, Army and Navy reception. The last reception, to officials of six departments, will be on Monday, February 16.

TEACHERS GIVEN ULTIMATUM

Absence for Matrimony Held "Inexcusable" and "Neglect of Duty"

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Public-school teachers should look on marriage and honeymoons in the light of home work and not as school-time activities.

"Absence from school by a teacher for the purpose of marriage or a honeymoon trip," Supt. Shea announced to district superintendents and principals today, "is inexcusable and is regarded by the superintendent of schools and the board of superintendents as neglect of duty."

HEBREWS OF BRITAIN ADD TO PROTEST

Board of Deputies Sends Condemnation of Policy to All of Parliament

LONDON, Oct. 26. (AP)—The chorus of Jewish protests against the Labor government's statement of policy in Palestine was swelled today by a condemnatory resolution passed by the Jewish Board of Deputies, the most important and representative organization of British Jewry.

The board unanimously put on record "its profound conviction that the government's policy outlined in the white paper on Palestine is contrary to the spirit of the mandate and of public pledges made in the name of England by successive British governments."

The board will send a copy of its resolution to every member of Parliament.

Lord Rothschild, a prominent member, said: "It looks very strongly—I don't say it is—as if the government were trying to upset the mandate by roundabout means."

JEWS FEAR PANIC AS RESULT OF MOVE

JERUSALEM, Oct. 26. (AP)—The Jewish Telegraphic Agency reports a conference of representatives of all Jewish economic and financial institutions in Palestine to take measures to avert a financial panic in the Jewish community as a result of the new British statement of policy is being seriously considered by executives of the Jewish agency.

Oregon Hunter Dies From Shot

OREGON CITY (Or.) Oct. 26. (AP) Herbert Bogan, 47 years of age, Portland carpenter, died at a hospital here tonight from loss of blood caused when he shot his right arm off accidentally on a hunting trip. His shotgun was discharged when Bogan was removing it from the car to shoot at a China pheasant.

Royce Sutter, 16, son of Asa Sutter of Lebanon, Or., lost one foot yesterday while he and other boys were on a hunting trip. A shotgun in the hands of a companion was discharged accidentally, the full shot striking young Sutter in the ankle.

Cutters Hunting Drifting Launch

CARLSBAD, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) Coast Guard cutters from San Pedro were tonight searching for a commercial fishing boat with five men on board, reported to be drifting helplessly about three miles from the Encinitas shore, near here.

This afternoon two small boys rowed to the fishing boat and offered to land the men, but the offer of aid was refused. The men said they had been drifting for three days and were without food or water. They said they were from San Pedro.

COLORADO HIGHWAY ENGINEER SUCCUMBS

DENVER, Oct. 26. (AP)—Louis D. Blauvelt, 63 years of age, Colorado Highway Engineer since 1921, died at his home here today after an illness of more than two months. His condition became critical yesterday. Blauvelt served as consulting engineer in the boring of the Moffat Tunnel. He was for sixteen years associated with the executive staff of the Denver and Salt Lake (Moffat) Railroad and held various executive positions with railroads in the West.

SNOOZER ESTABLISHES RECORD FOR LAZINESS

YONKERS (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Some sort of a record for laziness was established today by Frank De Angelis, 50 years of age. He fell asleep in his home here while smoking a cigaret and his mattress caught fire. His wife dragged him to safety and he became so enraged at being awakened that, she charges, he struck her while she was putting the fire out. She had him arrested and he was held in $200 bail for a hearing tomorrow.

DRY AGENTS MUST START TO SCHOOL

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Fifty prohibition agents working in Northern California territory will start to school here tomorrow, attending classes in constitutional law and criminal investigation, to increase the efficiency of the department. Attendance is compulsory and the students will be marked on their grades.

ANTI-JAZZ BAT EJECTS FAMILY

Spokane House Occupied by Huge Gray Vampire

Seven-Foot Winged Ghost Goes Through Walls

Hundreds Go to See It, But None Sleep There

SPOKANE (Wash.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Fantastic tales of a Dracula-like gray bat-ghost with a dislike for jazz music necessitated police control of hundreds of curious persons who swarmed about the "haunted house" today, but no one offered to sleep in it.

Mrs. I. Johnston and family moved from 29 La Crosse avenue, suffering from extreme nervousness, after taking oath that something resembling "a huge gray bat about seven feet tall," beat against the windows, walked through the walls, turned off the radio when jazz was played, and cut lights and water off and on. Friends of the family said they would corroborate the story.

After publication of the story, hundreds of persons flocked to the house. Armed guards were posted to fend off souvenir hunters, and a traffic policeman was detailed to handle more than 250 cars, parked at vantage points.

The Johnstons and several of their friends accused the "vampire" of being translucent, moving portraits about, smelling disagreeable, frightening persons and dogs, and beating its wings and coming through closed windows.

"Mediums" immediately began theorizing, some suggesting a buried corpse in the cellar and others a homesick phantom.

One James Anderson offered to guard the house one night, but the "bat ghost" came and sat on his bed, so he left, Mrs. Johnston said. Police did not offer to spend the night, contenting themselves with controlling the curious.

ROLPH WILL CURTAIL HIS ACTIVITIES

Candidate for Governor Ordered by Doctors to Take Needed Rest at Once

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—A curtailment of the campaign program of Mayor James Rolph, Jr., Republican candidate for Governor, was announced here tonight with a statement signed by two of the Mayor's physicians, saying a period of rest is necessary.

The statement was issued by Marshall Hale, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, and was signed by John Gallwey, M.D., and John H. Graves, M.D.

In an added statement, Mayor Rolph said: "While I greatly appreciate the many arrangements made for me in Southern California for the final week of my campaign, I must accede to the wishes of my physicians and take the rest which they deem necessary.

Hindus Make Boycott Slogan Part of Prayer

BOMBAY, Oct. 26. (AP)—A slogan calling for a boycott of British goods has been made part of the Hindu early morning prayer.

The idea originated in this city and leaders of the Congress party are endeavoring to spread it throughout the country as part of their program to gain independence.

In their prayer the Hindus include: "Let boycott of British goods be my creed," and "Let not my body be polluted by anything foreign."

TAGORE, IMPROVED, ABLE TO TRAVEL

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Dr. Rabindranath Tagore, 69-year-old Indian poet and mystic, who was stricken with a serious heart attack here a week ago, left today for Philadelphia. He will remain in that city a few days and then go to New York, from which port he will sail for India about the middle of November. His physician here, Dr. H. N. Marvin, said that while Dr. Tagore's condition has been improved by a week of rest, his patient still is in a "very weakened condition."

BOY IN INDIA REPORTED AS SACRIFICE VICTIM

PATNA (India) Oct. 26. (AP)—A 7-year-old Indian boy was reported here to have been sacrificed in connection with practice of black magic in Barpali, Sambalpur district. The lad's body was discovered in a well in the house of Jadu Sonari. The police say they found in Sonari's home a set of instructions concerning animal sacrifices. Several persons have been arrested.

"GIRL IN THE TAXI" ON STAGE AND IN LIFE

Clara Joel

ACTRESS TO ASK $100,000 IN TAXI SUIT

Clara Joel, Beauty Gone, Unable to Work Since Accident, She Says

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) Penniless and her beauty gone, Clara Joel, the actress who made her Broadway debut in the title role of the "Girl in the Taxi" for Al Woods many years ago, will file suit against the Yellow Cab Company tomorrow for $100,000.

Wearing a silver plate to support a broken jaw and with her face badly scarred, Miss Joel will ask Supreme Court Justice Mitchell to compensate her for injuries she received in a taxicab accident two years ago.

Miss Joel was injured when a cab in which she was riding crashed into a pillar. Since then she has been unable to work, according to her lawyer.

Miss Evenson, Missionary in China, Released

HANKOW (China) Oct. 26. (AP)—Miss Bergliot Evenson, American Lutheran missionary stationed at Loshan, Honan Province, who was taken prisoner by bandits, has been released and arrived here safely today.

Miss Evenson and Rev. K. N. Tvedt, a Norwegian, and his wife were taken prisoner when the Communist army raided Loshan the 16th inst. A letter received here said their captors demanded a ransom of $200,000. Nothing further has been heard of the Tvedts.

Train Carries Death Wreck

JOLIET (Ill.) Oct. 26. (AP)—When a Michigan Central freight train pulled into Peoria today part of a wrecked automobile was discovered atop one of the box cars.

A phone call to Chicago, fifty miles distant and starting point of the train, revealed a woman motorist, Mrs. Beatrice Boyle, 23 years of age, had driven her machine against the car there and had been killed. Part of the automobile burst into flames and part landed on the roof of the car.

The crew had been unaware of the accident.

MOSCOW REDS FIND COUNTER-MOVEMENT

MOSCOW, Oct. 26. (AP)—The secret police today announced the discovery of a secret counter revolutionary society called "the Industrial party," which it accused of attempting to create crises in various soviet industries. Leaders of the party are said to have confessed they carried out instructions of a White Russian organization in Paris known as the "trade and industrial committee," which is headed by former Russian manufacturers and capitalists. The leading members of the society, mostly engineers and technicians will be tried soon by the Supreme Court.

CHANGE OF POLICY BY FARM BOARD ASKED

DULUTH (Minn.) Oct. 26. (AP)—The Duluth Board of Trade announced tonight it has adopted and sent to President Hoover a resolution urging a change in policies of the Federal Farm Board in so far as it is in competition with private business. The resolution says the Farm Board is operating in a manner directly opposed to principles which President Hoover enunciated in his Cleveland address the 2nd inst.

ACTRESS HURT IN CRASH

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Miss Dorothea Martin, 26 years of age, of Los Angeles, motion-picture actress, was bruised today when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a truck.

ORATORS GIVEN LOTS OF TIME

Plans for Eighth National Contest Announced

Speeches to Be Pertaining to Constitution

Preliminary Rounds to Start Next Month

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Plans for the Eighth National Oratorical Contest and the Sixth International Oratorical Contest, of which the national competition on the Constitution is a part, have been announced here by Randolph Leigh, director-general of the contest. For students in the United States, the grand prize will again be a summer tour of Europe for the seven national finalists. There will be, in addition, attractive local awards by local newspaper sponsors.

The chief changes in the working arrangements of the 1931 contest have to do with the judging system.

The six-minute prepared speeches and the four-minute extemporaneous speeches, which were so successful in the 1930 contest, will be retained as the chief feature in the competition.

TIME NOT CHANGED

Heretofore the official announcement of detailed plans for the contest has been made on February 1 of each year and the competitions have been conducted during the spring months. The present announcement of the contest, months in advance of the previous announcement date, does not mean any change in the time in which the actual competitions will be held. The contest will be held in the spring months as in the past. This announcement is merely made at the request of numerous teachers and students who wish to begin work on the contest during the first school term, in preparation for the actual tests in the second term. As in the past, the speeches must be related to the Constitution of the United States and the orations must be original.

The judging system for 1931 will be a combination of the low point total and the majority vote system. The innovation, however, will be in the prohibition of consultation of judges. In case of a nondecisive first ballot, the judges will not consult as in the past, but will reballot, limiting their second ballots to the rating of the three contestants who made the best showing on the initial ballot.

EXTEMPORANEOUS SPEECH

At the newspaper, zone and national finals, each contestant, at the conclusion of the delivery of his six-minute set speech, will be handed a slip of paper containing the topic which he is to discuss extemporaneously for not more than four minutes, as soon as the other set speeches have been delivered. This means that if there are seven speakers on a program, each speaker will have about forty-five minutes or an hour in which to collect his thoughts before speaking on the extempore topic.

The judges will take into consideration the performance of the contestant, both on the prepared and on the extemporaneous topic, and will be asked to attach equal importance to each.

Each speaker will be allowed to leave the platform at the conclusion of his prepared speech, to consider his extemporaneous topic, returning to the platform in time to give that speech.

NO HELP ALLOWED

During that period of retirement and thought, the contestant must not consult persons or books. In making his extemporaneous speech, the speaker must not use or have before him either notes or reference books.

Contestants will be expected to use practically the entire four minutes. The judges will be so advised, but will not be restricted further in that regard.

The topics for the extemporaneous speeches will deal in each case with some additional and more particularized phase of the prepared speech. The topics will be announced by the national management for each zone and national finalist, and will differ for each speaker and each occasion.

Each newspaper will prepare and announce the extemporaneous topics for its own grand or territorial finals.

CONTEST SPONSORS

The complete list of sponsors of the 1931 contest will be announced later. The American committee is made up of the following:

Frank B. Noyes, Washington Star; Walter A. Strong, Chicago Daily News; Adolph Ochs, New York Times; George B. Longan, Kansas City Star; Harry Chandler, Los Angeles Times; Clark Howell, Atlanta Constitution.

The schedule of the principal meetings for 1931 follows:

First selections (within each school) by March 13.
District finals, by March 28.
Newspaper finals, by April 24.
National semifinals, by May 15.
National finals (Washington) by May 23.
International finals (Washington) by October 24.

The seven zone meetings will be held in Los Angeles, Kansas City, Chicago, New York City, Springfield, Birmingham and Washington.

SENATOR TO SPEAK

EXETER, Oct. 26.—Senator Young of Los Gatos will come here Tuesday to speak on the amendments to be voted upon at the general election in November, according to Mrs. E. G. Dudley, program chairman of the Exeter Woman's Club for the coming year. Senator Young is declared particularly qualified to give information on the amendments, and his appearance here is anticipated by voters of the community seeking enlightenment on the various propositions.

MINISTERS NAME LEADER

EXETER, Oct. 26. — Rev. H. V. Moore, pastor of the Exeter Methodist Church, South, was elected President of the Exeter Ministerial Union at the last regular meeting of that organization. Plans were made for holding the regular community Thanksgiving service at the local First Baptist Church. Rev. G. H. Mitchell, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, will deliver the Thanksgiving sermon.

HALL OF FAME ADDS FOUR

Poet, Painter, Scientist and Statesman From List of 105 Candidates Win Honor

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—Robert Underwood Johnson has announced that a poet, a painter, a scientist and a statesman had been elected to the Hall of Fame on the campus of New York University.

They are Walt Whitman, James A. MacNeil Whistler, Matthew Fontain Maury and James Monroe, and their busts will be placed with those of sixty-five other famous historical figures in the Hall of Fame.

All but four of the 106 electors voted at the quinquennial election just ended and sixty-four votes were needed for elections. There were 105 candidates.

Whistler, the artist best known for the painting popularly known as Whistler's mother, received seventy-four votes, more than any other candidate.

Monroe, Fifth President of the United States during whose administration the Monroe Doctrine originated, and Maury, whose work made possible oceanic weather charts and transoceanic cable lines, each received sixty-six votes.

Whitman, the "good grey poet" best known for his "Leaves of Grass," got just sixty-four votes, the exact number necessary for elections.

William Penn, founder of Pennsylvania, won fifty-eight votes, more than any other unsuccessful candidate. Next to him was Cyrus H. McCormick, inventor of the harvester, with fifty-three. Of the other candidates thirty-three got more than ten votes; twenty-one from five to ten; twenty-nine from one to five, and sixteen got none. None of the woman candidates, among whom was Martha Washington, got as many as ten votes.

In the group that got less than ten votes, aside from the women, were such figures as Francis Scott Key, Christopher (Kit) Carson, Jefferson Davis, William McKinley and Paul Revere.

TULARE MAN HONORED

TULARE, Oct. 26.—Theotonio I. Martin of Tulare was elected Supreme Marshal of the California Union of Portuguese at its golden jubilee in San Leandro, according to word received here.

Pilot Starts Hunt for Lost Canada Flyers

ATLIN (B. C.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Pilot Frank Dorbandt, Alaskan aviator, arrived here today from Telegraph Creek, B. C., and tomorrow will hop off for Liard Post in search of Capt. E. J. A. Burke, Vancouver aviator, and two companions.

Burke, his mechanic, Emil Kading, and "Bob" Martin, prospector, have been missing since the 10th inst., when they left here on a prospecting flight to the Far North.

Dorbandt, who abandoned a pioneering flight over a new air route to Alaska from the State of Washington to search for the Burke party, was accompanied by Pilot Alonzo Cope.

HANCOCK FLYERS AT AIRPORT DEDICATION

HANFORD, Oct. 26. — Flyers from the Hancock Foundation College of Aeronautics will participate in the events which will mark the dedication of Hanford's Municipal Airport on November 15, next, it was made known last night by the program committee. Commercial flying only is taught at the college.

BANKER TAKEN BY KIDNAPERS

Illinois Community Aroused as Result of Bold Coup

Armed Citizens Hunting for Mysterious Strangers

Pair Lurking Near Home Prior to Disappearance

GALVA (Ill.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Elmer Yocum, bank president and Galva's wealthiest citizen, is believed to have been kidnaped last night from his baronial estate on the outskirts of the town in a daring coup that has aroused this staid farming community to fever pitch.

Although his disappearance is veiled in mystery, Sheriff Neal of Cambridge county, when told the banker last was seen leaving the grounds in the company of two strange men who had lurked about the estate through the evening, pronounced it a kidnaping for ransom.

Scores of armed citizens, accompanied by officials, scoured the prairies, towns and highways of Henry county, but were unable to find a trace of the banker or his purported abductors.

Mrs. Yocum, the banker's wife, told police her husband had driven his two small daughters to a motion-picture show in Galva at about 7 o'clock. He returned alone shortly after 7, she said, and as he left his garage was accosted by two men who asked the direction of a home in the neighborhood.

Mrs. Young said her husband volunteered the information and left the men down the driveway toward the street. When he had not returned at 9 o'clock she called the police.

The Yocum girls, questioned later, said a small dark sedan containing two men had been parked in the shadows near the Yocum estate as their father drove them into town.

EMPLOYMENT WORK PUSHED

Croxton Due to Arrive in Washington Today

Organizing of Region Plans Under Way at Once

Hoover Interviewer Tells of Building Projects

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Regional work of the President's emergency committee for employment will go forward tomorrow when Fred C. Croxton, Columbus, O., arrives to begin the campaign for jobs in the Great Lakes and Midwestern States.

While Col. Woods, chairman of the committee, was in New York, appealing for co-operation of industry, government bodies and the public, the working organization here continued to gather information on the situation throughout the States.

When the chairman returns Tuesday, Secretary Hunt expects to be able to show some concrete results of the campaign. In the meantime offers of assistance are being accepted from welfare organizations.

HOOVER'S PLANS

In that connection, Senator Glenn, Republican, Illinois, in a statement today, said he learned in conferences with President Hoover, and members of his Cabinet, that the Federal government has a thorough and systematic program under way to relieve unemployment.

"It is expected that in view of this unemployment situation," Glenn said, "a vigorous effort will be made at the December session of Congress to provide for an enlargement of the $115,000,000 public buildings program.

BEING SPEEDED

Federal building and construction projects, Glenn said, are being speeded up to the point where the amount of government money expended during this fiscal year, ending June 30, 1931, will aggregate more than three times the total of the money expended by the government in the last three fiscal years.

Indicative of the help the government is lending toward the solution of the unemployment problem, is a statement being prepared by the Postoffice Department to show how many persons are to be given employment during the Christmas holiday season as a result of an executive order waiving civil service qualifications for bread-winners. This is expected to be announced either tomorrow or Tuesday.

GENERAL MOTORS WILL CALL BACK MEN

TARRYTOWN (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Chevrolet Motor and Fisher Body companies, largest automobile plants of General Motors in the East, will ease the unemployment situation here by calling back to work between 1500 and 2000 men within a week, an announcement today said.

Only former employees will be taken on. Within the past year General Motors has completed new plant equipment here valued at $3,000,000. Three thousand hands are employed when the plant is running at full production schedule.

CHILD SUCCUMBS IN UNEXPLAINED BLAZE

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—Four-year-old Mary Cummings died in the San Francisco hospital today of burns suffered ten days ago. She lost consciousness soon after her mother found her screaming and wrapped in flames. She never came out of the coma. The child's mother, Mrs. Ann Cummings, said she had gone to answer the door bell when the little girl's screams called her to the kitchen. She was unable to explain how the girl's clothing caught fire.

FAMILIES URGED TO HELP

Col. Woods in Radio Talk Asks Americans to Have Done Many Little Odd Jobs

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—A direct appeal to the individual American family to do its bit toward relieving unemployment was broadcast tonight by Col. Arthur Woods, chairman of President Hoover's emergency committee, in an address over a National Broadcasting Company network.

"Let us all spruce up our homes," said Col. Woods. "Make the little repairs that are needed, do that little job of painting that we thought about so long, fix up the odd corners of the yard, replace the worn-out or broken parts that halt the smooth running of the household.

WAY POINTED OUT

"Let us do the same thing in our communities. We can give work to hundreds of thousands by improving shabby playgrounds, unsightly vacant lots, dirty streets and by cleaning up all those community black spots that have annoyed us as conscientious citizens so long."

Col. Woods, who spoke during Collier's hour, said that if the aggregate 24,000,000 families will follow this program as far as means permit, it will help alleviate the present condition.

"Savings bank deposits show an increase," he added. "Certainly America has not become a hoarding nation afraid of its own future. The problem should be solved. It will be solved. There can be no compromise in its solution."

CHANCE AT FOLLS

At another point in his talk, Col. Woods said:

"Speaking as I am to you in your homes, I shall not talk to you of what the United States government, the State, the county, the city and other units of government can do to undertake public works and alleviate unemployment.

"Four hundred and fifty million dollars of State and municipal bonds for public works entailing the use of labor and material are now before the American people for vote on November 4, next."

GRAPE PLAN HELD TO BE SUCCESSFUL

Industry Escaped Crash Because of Federal Aid, Association Head Says

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—"The grape industry of California has been saved from complete disaster this season," by reason of the Federal Farm Board program and the control board's management, according to Burton A. Towne, president of the California Vineyardists' Association.

Towne, in a summary of the grape situation to date made to the members of the association, reports that while opening prices for fresh grapes were low, prices advanced with the coming of cooler fall weather, until by the third week of this month they were higher than in 1928 and in many varieties better than in 1929.

Delay in the sign-up campaign, which was not completed until July 22, was responsible for the grapes growers not receiving full benefit of the Federal Farm Board's plan, stated Towne. But even with the delay, the control board took 400,000 tons of surplus grapes off the market.

GIRL ACCIDENTALLY KILLED BY BROTHER

LEWISTOWN (Mont.) Oct. 26. (AP) Helen Lankutis, 9 years of age, was killed at the Lankutis ranch home near Forest Grove today by a bullet fired accidentally from a gun in the hands of her 11-year-old brother, Justis.

BORIS AND BRIDE SAIL FOR HOME

Sixty Thousand Italians Join in Farewell Cheering

Giovanna Again Weeping in Bidding Kin Good-by

Tears Give Way to Smile as Ship Leaves Shore

BRINDISI (Italy) Oct. 26. (AP)—King Boris of Bulgaria and his Queen, the former Princess Giovanna of Italy, departed today aboard the Bulgarian royal yacht Czar Ferdinand for the Bulgarian port of Varna to the farewell cheers of 60,000 persons.

Giovanna appeared deeply affected as she bade good-by to her sister, the Princess Mafalda, and her brother, Prince Humbert of Piedmont. The bride, who cried during her marriage ceremony yesterday, again broke into tears, her sister's eyes were moist and her brother visibly was moved.

As the ship pulled away from shore, however, she smiled just as she smiled yesterday after her tears. She gave the madly cheering thousands lining the docks the Roman salute, while King Boris doffed his cap.

A few minutes after the King and Queen sailed, the Crown Prince and Princess of Piedmont and the Prince and Princess of Hesse, the latter the former Princess Mafalda, departed aboard the Italian yacht Quarto to escort the bridal couple part of the distance toward Varna.

The populace continued cheering and ships in the harbor continued saluting until the two vessels with their escort of four Italian scout cruisers passed from sight.

CHAUVINISTS RESISTED

MOSCOW, Oct. 26. (AP)—The official government newspaper Izvestia gives notice that "Great Russia chauvinists," who aim to merge the various soviet unions into one government, are at odds with the Stalin administration's policy and are to be resisted.

STUDENT HORN TOOTERS CITED

Arrests Follow Celebration of Football Victory

Assemblyman Bliss Says He Will Amend Law

His Son One of Those Taken in Number Arrested

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 26.—One of the most intensive drives against traffic violators ever launched by city police here, culminated this week-end with the wholesale arrest of twenty or twenty-five high school students for violation of the section of the E Moor Vehicle Act prohibiting the use of horns except for warnings. The students started out to celebrate the victory of the local high school eleven over the Santa Maria team.

Following the arrest of the students, including the son of Assemblyman George Bliss of Carpinteria, the Assemblyman issued a curt statement of criticism of the arrest of students on the grounds that the youth of the city should be permitted to have their innocent and spontaneous fun on special occasions. As the result of the arrests Bliss declared he would introduce in the next session of the Legislature an amendment to that section of the Motor Vehicle Act permitting municipalities and other political subdivisions the right to make exceptions for the use of automobile horns for special events.

"The State Legislature did not pass the act with the intention of interfering with the innocent pastime of the school kids or the public in general on the occasion of festivity and celebration," he said.

"If the officers of the law must be instructed as to just how the law should be enforced, I guess we will have to put the exceptions in the act. I plan to introduce a qualification to the section in the next meeting of the Legislature."

The traffic drive, started the first of the week, has netted nearly 150 citations, including the arrest of the school children. On Friday seventy motorists were cited, thirty-nine of these received tickets for speeding.

The high school students were cited to appear in Police Court tomorrow

Stolen Machine Gun and Pistols Found in Cabin

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 26.—Additional arrests today grew out of the theft of a machine gun and twenty army pistols from the armory of Company M, California National Guard. H. F. Rabb and H. G. Culberson, both 31 years of age, were detained by the police at the request of Capt. I. N. Gilbert of Company M, who received from Federal authorities a confession said to have been made by Ralph Rohrer and Joseph A. Bailey, who were arrested on the 14th inst., at Oklahoma City, charged with the theft of the guns. The machine gun and ten pistols were recovered tonight by Capt. Gilbert and Lieut. C. R. Page in the cabin at Strawberry Flat, where Rohrer is said to have confessed that he secreted them.

Rabb and Culberson are held for investigation on the declaration of the two prisoners that they bought two of the stolen government pistols.

The confession said ten pistols were sold at Mexicali and that the machine gun was buried in the San Bernardino Mountains near Crestline. Rohrer and Bailey were secretly brought to the County Jail here by Federal agents.

State Asks for Crash Damages

CHINO, Oct. 26. — Acting for James P. Reeder, employed by the city, the State Compensation Insurance Commission has on file in Superior Court a suit asking $30,-$58.70 damages from David S. Kilpatrick and the Kilpatrick National Bakery.

The suit is outcome of an accident on Sixth street near D street here, about 4:30 a.m. on January 16, 1929, in which Reeder was struck by a bread truck, said to be the property of the bakery company.

Reeder was engaged in sweeping the streets of Chino, when the truck knocked him down, according to the complaint. He received a number of serious injuries.

The insurance company paid Reeder $658.70 to cover medical and ambulance costs, and on behalf of their client, filed the damage suit.

TARZANA COMMUNITY TO HAVE OWN CHURCH

TARZANA, Oct. 26. — Church members here who have been worshiping at Reseda, town on the north, met yesterday and started plans to build a Community Church for this section, at some point on Reseda Boulevard near Ventura Boulevard. The building planned will be of stucco finish, have a seating capacity of 300 and cost about $2500. A movement is now afoot to get a resident of the community to give the church site.

PRIESTS TRANSFERRED

VAN NUYS, Oct. 26.—Rev. P. F. O'Connor, who for the last two years has been assistant priest at St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church here, has been transferred to St. George's Church at Ontario. His successor will be Rev. John Redahan of St. Nicholas Church, Los Angeles.

EXHIBIT OF FLOWERS IN SOUTH GATE

Garden Club Plans Annual Show for Next Friday and Saturday at Chamber

SOUTH GATE, Oct. 26.—The Garden Club, a section of the South Gate Woman's Club, is to hold its third annual Flower Show on Friday in the Chamber of Commerce Building on Long Beach Boulevard, the annual event to continue the following day. According to plans of the committee, this will be the largest show of its kind ever held in this city.

The show this year will include a new feature, when there will be a special division for entries made by the local school children. Widespread interest has been taken by the children as a result of a show held by one of the grades at the San Gabriel School recently, and many of the children will enter their exhibits at the coming show.

The outstanding flower is to be the chrysanthemum, according to Mrs. Otis Fry, section chairman. Many gorgeous blooms are to be entered as there are numerous garden owners here who have developed large numbers of this variety of flowers. There will be special entertainment provided during the two days and evenings of the show.

The judges selected are Mrs. Grace Thiel of Ventura district chairman of the garden clubs; Mrs. Harrington of San Gabriel, district vice-chairman, and Mr. McNab, radio speaker.

Lots of Gas Used to Get to Classes

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 26.—Those old days when pupils used to brag how far they had to ride horseback to get to the little red schoolhouse in the center of their school district aren't one-two-three to the distance a large percentage of the pupils of San Fernando High School have to ride before they get to classes. The only difference is that the vehicular transportation is by motor instead of by horse.

The total enrollment at San Fernando High is 1160. Of the number, 401 reside in the San Fernando city limits. Pacoima sends 142 pupils, Tujunga, 127; Roscoe, 74; Newhall, 53; Sunland, 45; Sepulveda, 43; Sylmar, 42; Saugus, 21; Mint Canyon, 15; Castaic, 14. About two dozen others come from various sparsely settled sections adjacent to the San Fernando municipal limits.

Numbers of students have to ride from twenty to thirty miles daily to and from the high school.

Prize-Winning "Girls" Band of Other Gender

INGLEWOOD, Oct. 26.—Members of the Inglewood Boys' Band are displaying a handsome banner and a cash prize of $50 as the result of winning first place in the district band contest held in Redondo Beach in connection with the recent kiddies' parade.

The honor and the generous prize assuage somewhat the chagrin of the band boys in having been inadvertantly listed at the head of th prize winners as the "Inglewood Girls' Band." And this in spite of distinctly masculine uniforms of natty white trousers and trim scarlet jackets.

Herbert K. Smith is director of the band, the personnel of which includes no feminine member with the exception of Donna Jean Lewis, drum major. The organization, with fifty-four members and its own color guard, is sponsored by the Inglewood Kiwanis Club and will represent the club at the California-Nevada district convention to be held in Oakland next month. Great credit is due the band considering the fact that it is only a year old, it is declared by James H. Dalton, secretary of the Redondo Chamber of Commerce.

Legion Plans Turkey Shoot

GLENDORA, Oct. 26.—If plans already underway are any criterion, the twelfth annual turkey shoot, staged on Thanksgiving Day by Frank J. Gard Post, American Legion, will outclass all prior ones, according to Arthur Venberg, one of the executives in charge.

The shoot is held at the Gordon Blackwood ranch on East Alosta avenue on Thanksgiving morning. As all events will be open to men, women and children, chances to carry off at least one turkey to a family, will be many.

From proceeds of the turkey shoot, the Legion finances much of its work here during the year. Included in the yearly expenditures are appropriations made to charities, civic betterment, Boy Scouts and veterans' aid.

CHILDREN'S HOME AT ONTARIO PROGRESSES

ONTARIO, Oct. 26.—Work has progressed so far on the Church of Christ Children's home that within a short time it will be ready for occupancy, it was announced today. Rev. R. C. Yadon, pastor of the Church of Christ here, said today the name of the home has been changed from Pacific Christian Home to Church of Christ Children's Home. It is sponsored by all the churches of Christ on the Pacific Coast. Quite a ceremony was held at the ground-breaking for the new home at Francis street and San Antonio avenue.

ORANGE IN HOLIDAY PLANS

Merchants May Adopt Novel Scheme for Unveiling Their Windows in Triple Celebration

ORANGE, Oct. 26.—Plans for decorating the community Christmas tree in the plaza, thus transforming it into the "largest Christmas tree in Orange county," were formulated at a meeting of the Orange Merchants' Service Bureau here last night.

The merchants, at the same time, made plans for unveiling the Christmas windows on the night of December 10, the same night that the lights are to be turned on for the Christmas-tree decorations.

A triple celebration is to be held on that evening, featured by the unveiling of shop windows throughout the city, holding of "open house" by the various stores, and the awarding of a series of merchandise prizes to be displayed in the windows.

The plan for universal unveiling of Christmas windows throughout the city was adopted after it was suggested by F. V. Throne, new member of the organization, who said the scheme had been successfully tried in the north.

A committee consisting of Carl Stuckey, Samuel Hart, A. D Burkett, George Beckman and E. H. Smith, was appointed to work out details for the affair.

A number of spectacular features are being planned in connection with the unveiling of the windows. If Throne's plan is followed, all the windows are to be kept darkened until 7 p.m., when at a given signal the display lights are to be flashed on throughout the business district.

The same signal, which would probably be flashed by Boy Scout buglers assembled in the Plaza, would also signalize the flashing on of the lights on the Christmas tree in the Plaza.

As soon as the lights are turned on, shoppers would begin searching for prizes placed in all shop windows and at the same time be given the opportunity to inspect the array of Christmas goods on display. The awarding of prizes is to be repeated again on the night of December 23, the plan replacing the former policy of awarding turkeys at Christmas time.

SAN DIEGO GETS RATE ON HONEY

Port Will Get Same Figure on Western Product as Two Other Harbors

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26.—Honey from Idaho and Montana for export to Europe will be given freight rates to San Diego Harbor that are the same as to Los Angeles and San Francisco harbors, according to an agreement between officials of the Santa Fe and Union Pacific railroads and C. F. Reynolds, manager of the traffic department of the Chamber of Commerce.

The agreement means at 20 per cent reduction to this harbor and places the port here on an equality with northern ports for European trade. The export rate is $1.05 per 100 pounds, subject to minimum weight per carload of 36,000 pounds.

Negotiations were started by the chamber traffic department more than a year ago when the $1.05 export rate on honey was established from Utah, Colorado and Wyoming points to Los Angeles and San Francisco, and subsequently they were made applicable to San Diego Harbor.

Santa Barbara Courthouse Lit Up for Wedding

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 26.—California's three-day marriage law and the provision in it requiring the presence of both contracting parties to obtain the final papers, made one of the most unique weddings ever performed here. It was the marriage of Frances Johnson and Alfred Stoltze Melling, both of Hollywood, who were made man and wife shortly after midnight this morning in the patio of the Courthouse here in a blaze of incandescent glory. All of the lights, nearly 100 huge high-powered flood lights, were turned on for the couple by Justice of the Peace Thomas Poole.

The instance of the spectacular wedding occurred when Miss Johnson appeared at the County Clerk's office for the license yesterday morning the bridegroom was not with her. When Deputy Clerk Dawe explained he could not issue the license without the other party being present, she extracted a promise from him to be at the Courthouse at 11 o'clock at night to issue the license. Then the justice of the peace was called and the marriage performed.

Templar Grand Commander in Redlands Visit

REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—Right Eminent Sir James T. Langford, Grand Commander of the Knights Templar of California, made his official visit to the commanderies of Riverside, San Bernardino and Redlands at the Masonic Temple last night. It attracted Templars from all parts of the south.

Dinner was served at 6:30 p.m. and the Riverside Commandery was given the honor of receiving the Grand Commander and his suite. The Redlands Commandery conducted the long-form opening and the San Bernardino Commandery had charge thereafter.

The Grand Commander made an excellent talk in which he told of the fine progress being made by the Knights Templar in the State. Today he went to Pasadena to be present for the big field day, parade, and drill of the teams of the commanderies of the south.

FORMER KIWANIANS WELCOMED BY CLUB

ONTARIO, Oct. 26.—Former members of Ontario Kiwanis Club who have strayed from their luncheon table, were welcomed back as special guests at the first annual home coming held by the club at Hotel Ontario. Dr. Ralph Alexander, first president of the club, presided over the home-coming program. Those who were rounded up from distant points included Curtis Williams, Wilmer White, Chester Fisk, Willard D. Ball, Jr., E. W. Schneewels, Ned Hadley, H. W. Vermilyea, W. A. McConnell, P. Van den Berg, Warren C. Emmons, E. Larson, S. M. Hoyt, Rev. J. A. Stavely, Don F. Craig, V. C. Gardner, Phil Lawton, A. J. Hall and S. D. Falconer.

HOME RAZED DUE TO BLAST OF OIL STOVE

UPLAND, Oct. 26.—A sudden blast of an oil stove that threw burning oil about the kitchen, caused Mr. and Mrs. Peter Guthrie of Thirteenth street to lose their two-story home and practically everything in the structure. Guthrie was seated in the kitchen when the oil stove blew up and showered him with oil. He managed to run from the house safely, but the fire gained such headway the home was lost by the time the firemen arrived.

Electricians and Rattler Battle Beneath House

MONROVIA, Oct. 26.—Rattlesnakes are not the friendliest of associates when you come in contact with them under the house, is the belief of Harold Swensen, local electrician, who had one strike within a half-inch of his face as he was crawling beneath the home of M. R. Black, to drill holes for electrical wiring.

Swensen naturally becoming resentful as well as surprised, got out from under the house in a hurry and finding a sizable stick, went back after the rattler. After a lively battle under the house, the snake retreated to a woodpile in the yard, with Swensen following closely. However, the woodpile was no obstacle in the way of Swensen, who continued the battle to death, as he finally dragged the rattler from the woodpile and killed it. The snake measured three feet in length and had six rattlers and a button.

After killing the snake, Swensen, rather nonchalant about the incident, crawled back under the house and completed the wiring.

Squirrels Need Cull Walnuts

MONROVIA, Oct. 26.—There is insufficient food at Forest Home to keep the native squirrels through the winter, according to Roy D. Stone, local broker, who has devised a plan to relieve the situation.

Stone announced today that anyone having cull walnuts leave them at his offices in the Neville Building, Monrovia, and he will have them delivered at Forest Home, to be fed to the squirrels during the winter.

OFFICERS CHOSEN BY HIGH SCHOOL FROSH

CRYER TO BE SPEAKER

VAN NUYS, Oct. 26. — Former Mayor George E. Cryer will be principal speaker Wednesday at the Van Nuys Rotary Club luncheon. C. C. Bowerman, manager of the local branch of the Security-First National Bank, will introduce the former Mayor.

SHE CAN TELL OF BRIDGE LEAP

Mrs. Margaret White First to Survive Pasadena Jump

Sixty-four-Year-Old Woman Incurs Broken Ankle

Poverty and Illness Given as Causes of Suicide Try

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Asserted to be the first person to leap from the Colorado-street bridge with the intention of suicide who has survived the attempt, a woman giving her name as Mrs. Margaret White, 64 years of age, of the Taylor Hotel, was given first aid in the Emergency Hospital for a broken ankle late today.

Police report that Mrs. White, who has refused to reveal anything but her name regarding her identity, jumped from the railing at the west end of the span where the drop is less than twenty-five feet.

Passing motorists witnessed the thirty-second bridge-suicide attempt and it required fifteen traffic officers to clear the way for the city ambulance because of the traffic congestion.

At the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, it was found that Mrs. White's injuries apparently are confined to a broken right ankle and shock. She assigned poverty and illness as motives for her act. When she declared that she would repeat the attempt to end her life, police officers announced that they will seek a psychopathic complaint against her so that she may be confined in the psychopathic ward of the Los Angeles General Hospital.

Her pocketbook contained only 60 cents, and in view of her reticence about revealing the names of relatives, detectives announced that they would make a thorough search of her room in the local hotel with a view to shedding more light on the case.

The only comparable instance in which someone has survived a Colorado-street bridge leap occurred two years ago, when a young man, in order to prove his courage to his fiancee, jumped from the south railing into the top of an eucalptus tree. At the point where he made this jump, the fall to the canyon bottom is 150 feet. He jumped horizontally across eight feet of space, and catching hold of the tree branches, slid down the trunk safely to the floor of the Arroyo Seco.

A woman who jumped from the span three years ago, lived for five hours in terrible agony, but in most instances, the victims died less than five minutes after striking the rocks.

Honey Men in Move to Form Co-operative

UPLAND, Oct. 26.—Through the efforts of William Atchley, local honey producer, San Bernardino county bee inspector, and authority on bee culture, a Southern California honey-marketing association, patterned on lines similar to the California Fruit Growers' Exchange, is expected to be in operation within the near future.

Honey produced in Southern California would be marketed through the central organization, according to Atchley's program, which is rapidly taking shape.

Atchley has the only Federal bonded warehouse for honey in Southern California. His warehouse will be used for storing the Southern California honey supply and released for marketing when prices are considered favorable.

Wholesale distribution would be effected through an international organization.

A Federal loan plan for honey producers is also under consideration.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT HERMOSA PLANNED

HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 26.—Sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, early preparations are being made for Christmas-season decorations and for the annual merchants' holiday opening and the municipal Christmas tree. Plans before the committee at this time provide for the placing of all street and store decorations in time for the holiday opening, set for December 13. As in former years, there will be a municipal Christmas tree in the square on Pier avenue and a program and goodies for the children. Mrs. George Learned will have charge of the community singing, Frank Russell, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, and committeemen representing the various organizations taking part in the plan, are handling the general arrangements.

TORREY PINES ROAD BEGINS

Construction Work on New East Route Over Cliffs Will Start This Week

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26.—Actual construction work on the new east route over Torrey Pines cliffs is scheduled to get under way this week. The first work will be the removal of brush from the right-of-way and then shovels will bite into the earth as they carve a new road from the hillside. Contract to do the work was let to the Daley Corporation, well-known local firm, and the progress of the job will be under both State and city inspection.

State engineers will keep an eye on the work to see that it meets State requirements for grade and curve radius, while the city inspectors will maintain a watch to see that the customary city specifications are carried out. A third inspection will be the citizen-labor inspection, which sees that only citizens of San Diego work on the job.

The new grade will leave the Torry Pines mesa road south of the reservoir on the mesa and swing northeastward down the hillside. It will join the causeway at the bottom of the grade near where the present grade meets the causeway.

State aid in paving the new grade is hoped for by the city as the road will be one of the most heavily traveled trunk highways in the State.

Mayor Clark is working on plans for another road project, this time in Powder House Canyon in the park, where a truck road is planned.

This road would be part of the city's unemployment-relief plan, giving work to citizens now jobless.

CITRUS SEASON ENDING

Redlands Orange Shipping Closes This Week; Less Fruit Sent Out, But Net Returns Larger

REDLANDS, Oct. 26.—The Redlands orange-shipping season closes this week with the shipping of twenty-three carloads of fruit, which makes a season's total of 3624 cars. This is only about 65 per cent of a normal crop, but returns from the various shipping organizations indicate the growers will receive as much in money for their fruit this year as in most years when they have 5000 cars, or more, to send East.

S. B. Marshall, sales manager of the Mutual Orange Distributors, said, "The season just closed on both navels and Valencias from the Redlands district, although it brought approximately the same money to the community as last year's crop, from a citrus growers' standpoint was more profitable. The grower received an average of approximately $2.80 for navel oranges and $2.70 for Valencia oranges, which is better than 4 cents per pound, for the fruit shipped last season. This year the figures are $4.35 for navels and $5.75 for Valencias. The Valencia oranges have topped the market all year."

Marshall says that the extra cost of packing, picking and handling a larger crop more than made up for the difference in the size of the fruit, and the grower had more money for himself this year.

"The citrus industry was probably the only farming interest on the continent to make a profit this last season," he said. "Generally, the growers of all other fruits and grains have not received a profitable price for their products."

Santa Monica Bans Handbill Nuisance There

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—Distribution of handbills, advertising samples, dodgers, circulars, booklets and other notices of commercial advertising, has been forbidden in Santa Monica by an ordinance passed by the City Council.

The ordinance specifies that only newspapers capable of being entered as second-class matter, under United States Postoffice regulations, shall be exempt from the new ban, which goes into effect in thirty days. Violation of the ordinance will be punished by a fine of not more than $500, a prison sentence of not more than six months, or both.

Delivery of the banned commercial-advertising matter was held a public nuisance, littering streets, lawns and porches, also contributing to crime by informing crooks of the absence of residents from their homes, through the accumulation of such litter strewn about the property.

Flood Channel Patrol System Office at Covina

COVINA, Oct. 26.—Definite establishment here of a patrol system to check and report on flood channels in the Covina district, is announced by E. C. Eaton, of the county flood control department, who has been granted the use of the Covina Fire Hall, as his headquarters for the work in this district.

The objective of the patrol will be to maintain accurate data for future flood-control projects and to aid in the conservation of life and property.

According to Eaton, similar patrols will cover virtually all of the flood-control channels in the county district. The Covina Firehall was selected as headquarters for this section of the valley, due to its strategic location and convenience to the central office of the Covina district telephone exchange. The patrol will be inaugurated here about November 15, it is said.

BURRO THIEF TAKES SCHOOLBOY'S STEED

ONTARIO, Oct. 26.—The horse thief has gone, the auto thief is here, and now the donkey-stealer makes his appearance, and a little boy, who didn't give his name, is the first loser of his burro locomotion to date. While the youngster was in his classroom at Junior High School, his burro was tethered to a tree near by. Came the close of the school day and the boy went to the hitching rack only to discover his burro was gone. Tearfully he trudged to the police station and told his tale. The police are helping him look for his donkey.

THIEVES STRIP HOME OF FIVE COSTLY RUGS

CAHUENGA PARK, Oct. 26.—Police are investigating an odd theft here. According to their report, two men in a roadster drove up in front of the home of Roy T. Minor, 3937 Sunswept avenue, entered the dwelling and carried out five Chinese rugs valued at $2130. Minor on his return home found the burglars had entered the place by using a jimmy on a bedroom window. He told police that recently he paid a Los Angeles furniture and rug store $1000 for the largest rug of the five stolen.

SAN FERNANDO BAND MAY BE IN PARADE

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 26.—Plans are being considered for entering the local high-school brass band in the Pasadena Rose Parade on New Year's Day in place of a decorated float as a San Fernando entry. Charles H. Temple, a director of the San Fernando Chamber of Commerce, is conferring with high-school officials in regard to the matter. The band is under the direction of Charles H. Tingle. Last year San Fernando had a prize-winning float in the parade.

PIONEER OF CHICAGO ILL IN PASADENA

Gustavus A. Schwartz, Midwick Club Founder, in Critical Condition

PASADENA, Oct. 26.—Gustavus A. Schwartz, pioneer Chicago broker and one of the founders of the Midwick Country Club, is critically ill at the Hotel Maryland, it was learned today.

Advised by telegram to come here without delay, Philip Schwartz of Suffield, Ct., a nephew, arrived here last night and went at once to his uncle's bedside.

Mr. Schwartz, who is 82 years of age, was very active in the early social and business affairs in Chicago. He was a member of the firm of Schwartz & Dupee, Chicago brokers, and has amassed a fortune which he has continued to use quietly for philanthropic work. He was a charter member and took an active part in the organization of the Chicago Club, ultra-exclusive organization of business men.

After coming to this city in 1905, he became one of the founders of the Midwick Country Club and is an active member at the present time of both the Midwick and Annandale country clubs here.

Three Injured in Two Crashes on Coast Road

SAN CLEMENTE, Oct. 26.—Three persons were injured in two separate automobile accidents on Coast Highway near here and are in the San Clemente Hospital, two of them in a very critical condition.

H. H. Sanford, 851 Temple street, San Diego, sustained a broken back; Mrs. Josephine Monroe, 22, of 2002 Logan street, San Diego, suffered a cracked vertebra and a broken jaw. Dr. Garnet B. Grant said this morning that, although both are in a very serious condition, they may live.

Sanford was riding on a truckload of apples as a passenger of A. G. Matson, 4385 Alabama street, San Diego, when the truck collided with a car driven by J. B. McElroy of 646 North Marble street, Los Angeles. The truck turned over, pinning Sanford beneath it. Matson received severe cuts and bruises. Mrs. McElroy, and daughter Helen, who were occupants of the McElroy machine, were cut and bruised.

In a second accident, in which Mrs. Monroe was injured, she was a passenger in a car which plunged off the highway and overturned. Harold Eckert, driver of the car, and David Pavia, passenger, were scratched and bruised. The men are sailors of Submarine No. 46, stationed at San Diego.

MISTRESS AND DRIVER OF CAR BOTH CITED

SANTA MONICA, Oct. 26.—Mrs. E. B. Rivers, residing at the Uplifters' Club in Rustic Canyon, exclusive and fashionable retreat of the wealthy, was ordered to face Police Judge Spencer, the 31st inst. today on a charge of failing to heed a boulevard stop on Broadway at Fourteenth street, the charge having been preferred yesterday by Officer Stedman, who reported he was almost bowled over by her car. Her chauffeur, Ralph Fearer, was also arrested, on another charge, after the same officer reported he had been compelled to chase the car at an asserted speed of sixty miles an hour down Ocean avenue, earlier in the week, the pursuit finally winding up at the Rivers's garage after the course had led over a route of dirt roads in the canyon, Stedman asserted.

CENTENARIAN PEEVED BY THEFT OF HIS AX

UPLAND, Oct. 26.—E. C. Harwood, "grand old man of Upland," is 100 years of age, but he would like to meet the thief who stole his ax so he could tell him what his opinion is of such a pilferer. Each morning Harwood spends a half-hour on the woodpile, sawing wood for a while, and then chopping the blocks he has sawed. While resting after his session with the woodpile, a thief entered the yard and walked out with the ax, either for a souvenir or to use it for what it is intended. Harwood didn't let the theft of his ax halt his exercise program, and doubled up on the sawing until someone went to town and purchased him another ax.

BISHOP NAMES PRIEST FOR BURBANK CHURCH

BURBANK, Oct. 26.—News was received here today from the office of Bishop Cantwell in Los Angeles that the Rev. Martin Keating who has been priest at St. John's Catholic Church at San Diego, has been appointed priest of the Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Burbank, to succeed the late Rev. Father O'Donnell who died a short while ago. Father Keating is now on his annual vacation. It is expected he will take charge here within the next two weeks.

THREE HEALTH CLASSES BEG

Two for Teachers and [illegible] for Students Formed

Backed by Ventura County Health Department

Red Cross Instruction Given in Various Schools

VENTURA, Oct. 26.—Two health classes for teachers and one for students have been established in Ventura county as part of the educational program sponsored by the Ventura county health department, according to Dr. J. A. Kline, county health officer.

The two classes for teachers, one of which started Thursday, are in communicable diseases and [illegible] first aid, and are the [illegible] mapped out by the American Red Cross Society.

Their purpose is to acquaint instructors with first symptoms of dangerous and infectious diseases as a precautionary measure to the victims and other children while the first-aid part will enable the teachers to care for minor [illegible].

Teachers from elementary and high schools in the west portion of the county, embracing Ventura, Avenue, Ojai, Santa Ana, [illegible] Briggs and Mound, are holding their class at 3:30 p.m. Thursday in the Avenue school, with Olive [illegible] lan, county supervising nurse, as instructor.

Instructors from the east part of the county, including Fillmore, Santa Paula, Oxnard, Camarillo, Piru, Santa Rosa and Saticoy, are holding their class at the same time at the Camarillo grammar school, with Mrs. Grace Key Mullin of the county health department staff in charge of this class. Both courses will run for a period of [illegible] weeks.

A home nursing and hygiene class for girls will begin Monday at the Oxnard High School with Miss [illegible] lan as instructor. This course is similar to the one conducted by the health department last year in the Moorpark school, which was the first to be attempted in the county and which was very successful. Regular school credits will be allowed on the course.

Rolph, Merriam at Fontana for Meeting Tonight

SAN BERNARDINO, Oct. 26.—At their only dinner-meeting engagement in San Bernardino county during the campaign, Governor James Rolph, Jr., of San Francisco and Senator Frank F. Merriam of Long Beach will be the guests at the annual meeting of the Fontana Chamber of Commerce this night.

The meeting will be attended by 300 prominent San Bernardino county residents. Admission to the meeting at which a dinner will be served, is by invitation.

Mayor Rolph and Senator Merriam will close a busy day in speaking at the Fontana meeting. They will arrive in San Bernardino county, speaking at Ontario, 5 p.m. From Ontario they will go to Riverside, making brief addresses there at 7 p.m. and arriving in Fontana for the dinner meeting.

Although the Fontana meeting will be a nonpartisan affair, Republican leaders of the county will attend, greeting the visitors at a reception following the evening program.

Tiny Stroller in Sleep Found Trudging in Fog

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Oct. 26.—At 2 o'clock in the morning, police Officers Berdleman and [illegible] were driving on their rounds on the east side of the city, they discovered a diminutive figure [illegible] ing along the side of the pavement. The officers turned the [illegible] of the car on the little [illegible] fellow, clad only in pajamas, [illegible] he blinked his eyes, stretched up his arms and said, "The streets streets don't look right."

Harold Conrad, 3 years, of [illegible] who had slipped out of his home little bed, unlocked the door and wandered away in a dense fog, was found strolling in his sleep [illegible] a mile from home. His pajamas and his feet were wet and [illegible] by the fog.

He was taken safely home to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Conrad, who had not been disturbed by his quiet departure.

ELIGIBLE FOR PLACES IN DETECTIVE BUREAU

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 26.—Twelve officers of the San Fernando Valley police division are successful candidates for places in the detective examination of the Los Angeles Police Department, it is announced here by Lieut. [illegible]. They are Paul E. Harrison, G. L. Hall, L. M. Lake, W. O. Mann, [illegible] Stonesipher, H. A. Walton, [illegible] Halliburton, W. D. Wright, [illegible] Reimer, Charles [illegible] Wallace and L. G. Weitzel. The grades were above 93 per cent.

VOTE MUNITIONS RUSHED TO OHIO

Battle Rages for Control of House in Congress

Election Generals Fight to Protect Holdings

Heavy Guns Active in Five Border States

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Ohio and her neighbor States of Indiana, Kentucky, West Virginia and Missouri constitute the battle ground in the closing campaign for control of the House, the chief prize of the November 4 election.

Into this territory, known on the political map as "border States," Republicans and Democrats are dumping their campaign chests, and where the money goes is a pretty sure sign of where lie the hopes and fears of the election generals.

These States comprising the border land between the normally Democratic South and Republican North swelled the Republican majority in the House in the Hoover landslide of 1928. To protect these gains the Republicans are campaigning vigorously, while the Democrats are just as determinedly going after their lost ground as well as some new territory.

Senate campaign managers also agree that control of the next Senate rests in the outcome of the races in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky.

OHIO CHIEF BATTLEGROUND

The Republican Congressional Committee made its heaviest contributions in Ohio, spending $12,500 in twelve districts there, and the Democrats likewise have given their candidates in this State their biggest help, sending $9000 into eight districts. Both committees have sent money into the Fifth, Eighth, Twelfth, Thirteenth and Seventeenth Ohio districts.

Missouri was second in line for campaign funds from both the Republicans and Democrats, their reports showing the Republicans spending $7000 in eight districts and the Democrats $2000 in six districts. Both committees are concentrating on the Fourth, Seventh, Thirteenth and Sixteenth districts in Missouri.

West Virginia House candidates have received $1900 from the Democrats and $4000 from the Republicans with both parties sending money to the Second, Third and Fourth districts.

In Indiana, the Republicans have sent $4000 into six districts, while the Democrats have dispatched $1280 into five districts. Both parties are spending funds in the Fifth, Eleventh and Twelfth districts in Indiana now held by Republicans.

"RAID" PROTECTED

While the Republicans have sent $3750 to protect their "raid" in Kentucky in the 1928 election, the Democrats so far have sent funds into only one district, the third, in that State.

Otherwise, the campaign managers have spread their funds over sporadic spots throughout the nation. Both the Republicans and Democrats, however, have sent money in the drive for House members into Connecticut, Massachusetts, Maryland, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Utah, North Dakota, South Dakota, Oakland and Oregon.

To win the House, the Democrats must overturn fifty-four Republicans now in office, while the Democratic leaders confidently predict they will do this, the Republican chieftains just as confidently insist their party will be continued in power in the next House.

G.O.P. EXPECTS TO KEEP HOUSE

Democratic Claims Denied by Republican Leaders

Loss of Fifty-four Seats in November Unlikely

Ohio and Missouri Admitted to Be Weakest Spots

Clinton W. Gilbert, astute political analyst and Washington correspondent, is making a pre-election survey of conditions in States where close Senatorial contests are expected. The following is the third of a series of articles he is writing, based on his findings.

BY CLINTON W. GILBERT

(Copyright, 1930, Philadelphia Public Ledger.)

CHICAGO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—The campaign headquarters of the Republican Congressional Committee is in this city, with Representative Wood, chairman, and Earl Venerable, executive secretary, in charge.

This committee, in spite of reports widely published, does not concede the election of a Democratic House in November. On the contrary, the managers of the Republican Congressional compaign are extremely hopeful of the election of a Republican majority in the House.

Of course, they expect a falling off from the present Republican majority, which was obtained in the Hoover landslide. Midterm elections always reduce the House majority of the party in power. And this election, according to the Republican view, will do rather more than the usual election in cutting down the existing majority.

SAFE MARGIN SEEN

But the Republican party managers, after canvassing the situation, believe there is a safe margin for them. In other words, they do not think the Democrats can gain the fifty-four seats which they will have to gain in order to elect a Democratic Speaker in the House and organize the House committees with Democratic majorities in them.

Recent reports from the States are rather more favorable than earlier reports from the Republican point of view, all except reports from Ohio and Missouri, where the Republican party is admittedly in a bad way. The opinion is held that the wet-dry fight is more dangerous to the Republican party than the losses the party may sustain through the business depression.

The Republicans base their hopes of retaining the House upon a variety of considerations. In the first place, not all sections of the country are affected alike in this election. The wet-dry fight is only serious in a portion of the country and the business depression is not equally severe in all parts of the nation.

REASONS GIVEN

For example, west of the Mississippi River, exclusive of Missouri, the Republicans will lose very few Congressmen. Several reasons exist for this. In the first place, in the agricultural States of the West the Republican Congressmen have satisfied their constituents. None of the progressive Republican Senators from this region is in danger of defeat. Moreover, the Democratic party in this whole region is so weak that, except in a very few instances, the election of Democratic Congressmen is regarded as impossible.

Then, too, most of the States are not so badly affected by the economic depression as have been the industrial States farther east. These Western States were pretty thoroughly deflated in the agricultural depression that preceded the present situation and so have not greatly suffered in the last year.

I overheard three western State Commissioners of Agriculture on their way to Washington discussing the situation in the West. One of them said (and the others acquiesced.) "Minnesota, Nebraska and Wisconsin are sitting on top of the world."

The mountain States also are reported to be fairly prosperous. Only in Colorado of this group are the Republicans in trouble, and there the difficulty is factional.

So there is a considerable section of the country where Republican losses will probably be no greater than expected in a midyear election.

In the East there was no Hoover sweep in 1928. Smith carried Massachusetts in 1926. So not much paring down of Republican strength in that State is to be expected in the next election. Smith barely missed carrying New York and Roosevelt carried it in 1928.

In general that year was a year of reduced Republican majorities in the East. So there was not generally any inflation of Republican strength in that section. Whatever Democratic gains may be in the East will result from wet-dry fights. In New Jersey Dwight W. Morrow as the Republican candidate for Senator is expected to help the Republicans hold their present strength in the House.

So the Democrats will have to make the gain of fifty-four or more seats which they need to get control of the House in a limited area. And even in this area, the personal strength of many of the sitting Republican Congressmen in their districts is counted upon to limit the possible Democratic gains.

SOME QUALMS FELT

Reasoning thus, the Republican campaign managers are far from conceding the election of a Democratic House. But they are unquestionably nervous and jumpy over the situation. It is common for a party to lose control of the House after a severe economic depression. All precedents point to the loss of the House this time by the party in power, and if it were not for the exceptional condition existing this time it would be difficult for the Republican managers to keep their courage up.

The situation in Ohio, which is frankly recognized by the Republicans at party headquarters here, is disconcerting. It is realized that several Republican seats in that State will be lost, though the Republicans do not concede that more than a majority of the new Ohio delegation will be Democratic, which is about what the Democrats claim.

It is thought here that the situation in Ohio is exceptional. There is a great revolt against the Anti-Saloon League in Ohio. Moreover, the Democrats have a very strong candidate for Senator in Ohio, while the Republican candidate for Senator there is weak and Ohio, moreover, is a State that often swings to the Democratic party.

SINCE the beginning of mankind there has been, of necessity, the burial service... yet every day many persons face the responsibility of making funeral arrangements for the first time. How are they to decide at once... and unerringly... the bewildering problems that suddenly arise? What are the accepted standards? The costs?

Inexperience is apt to incur a dear price in such an emergency, unless there is wise discrimination in the choice of a funeral director. For, among reputable morticians, customs have changed. The Ruppe' Mortuary believes that only the highest scientific standards, and the most modern equipment, are acceptable. It believes in protection against ill-advised expenditures. It believes in serving graciously people from every walk of life, no matter how much or how little is spent.

In its uncompromising adherence to these ideals, the Ruppe' Mortuary offers an outstandingly fine and complete establishment, with many exclusive features. Thirty years of patronage affirms the public's heartfelt appreciation of all those modern, individual qualities of Ruppe' Service which do so much to temper the sorrow of bereavement.

SERVICES RANGING from $70 to $7500

Whatever its cost, every Ruppe' Service includes the use of the same splendid facilities, such as homelike slumber rooms for adults and children ...Rose chapel for intimate family services...Green chapel for large public services...Secluded family rooms adjoining chapels...Private entrances...Estey Pipe Organ (the only Los Angeles mortuary with this feature)...Earl C. Houck, resident vocal soloist ...Complete Packard equipment throughout...Free private parking space for 150 cars, with attendant ...Largest assortment of caskets in the city. The Ruppe' organization relieves you of all details, attending to funeral notices, telegrams, burial permits, flowers, insurance and transportation.

Community Chest Opens Drive for $3,200,000 Annual Charity Fund Today

AN ARMY OF 15,000 unpaid volunteer solicitors will take the field today in an effort to raise the annual Community Chest fund which this year is set at $3,200,000. There are twenty-four member agencies of the Chest through which aid and relief are extended to the sick, the poor, orphans, crippled children, the unemployed and the helpless aged. Economic conditions existing at this time causing destitution among thousands of families heretofore self-supporting make the amount set by the Chest imperative. The quota represents the minimum amount needed for the year 1931. Photos below on this page portray the activities of some of the agencies which will benefit through the Chest fund.

HORSESHOE SINKS IN WEAK COFFEE

New York Restaurateur Now Knows How to Make "Java" for Cowboys

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Hearing some of the contestants in the rodeo now holding forth in Madison Square Garden bewailing the fact that they couldn't get "Cowboy Coffee" in New York, an eager and willing Broadway restaurateur begged for the recipe. This is what one of the ten-gallon hatters told him:

"Add one pound of coffee to two gallons of water, boil two hours. Then drop a horseshoe into the pot. If it sinks, the coffee isn't done."

to submit to onerous credit rules. The producers asserted that to correct abuses and unfair practices arising out of the change of ownership of theaters it was necessary to enforce these rules to prevent the new owners from breaking the uncompleted contracts.

The government failed in its contention the rules operated as a coercive restraint which exceeded any legitimate attempt to remedy conditions in the industry.

The trial court sustained the government in its charge that the defendants unlawfully were coercing the exhibitors by enforcing compulsory arbitration of all disputes arising under the contracts. The members of the film boards of trade were found to have agreed among themselves, without the knowledge of the ten big distributors, to refuse to contract for future motion-picture films with any exhibitor who had failed to comply with an arbitration award.

British Inland Waterway to Be Modernized

BIRMINGHAM (Eng.) Oct. 26. (AP) England's "inland waterway" from here to London is to undergo modernisation costing about $5,000,000 if governmental sanction is accorded plans of the Grand Union Canal Company.

The company proposes to deepen and widen the canal and to motorize the fleet, thus doing away with the horse-drawn barges. It would take 900 men three years to complete the plans.

Direct communication will be afforded then between tide-water on the Thames and the wharves of this city without the costly process of lightering.

MEXICO WILL EXHIBIT RED'S PAPERS TO FISH

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 26. (AP)—Police circles reported today that Representative Fish will come to Mexico shortly with police officials from Washington and New York to examine documents seized here last July at the time of the arrest of Mark Lulinsky, agent of the Amtorg Trading Company. According to the reports, the sending of these documents to the United States proved to be impracticable and for this reason Mr. Fish decided on a trip to Mexico. The Lulinsky documents are said to reveal Communist plans in the United States.

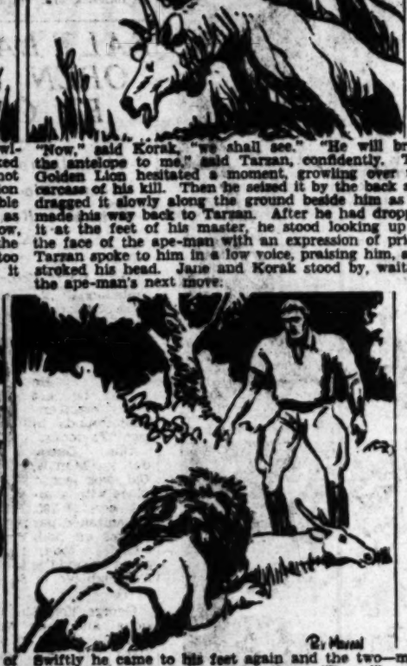
TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

The Golden Lion rumbled a hoarse audible acknowledgment of Tarzan's command. Stealthily he worked his way through the bush. The antelopes fed on, not suspecting the danger so near them. Now the lion was gathering for the charge. The only noticeable movement was the twitching of his tail. Then, as lightning from the sky, as an arrow from the bow, Jad-bal-ja shot forward. He was almost upon the buck before the animal realized it. Then it was too late. The lion rose on its hind feet and seized it while the balance of the herd fled.

"Now," said Korak, "we shall see." "He will bring the antelope to me," said Tarzan, confidently. The Golden Lion hesitated a moment, growling over the carcass of his kill. Then he seized it by the back and dragged it slowly along the ground beside him as he made his way back to Tarzan. After he had dropped it at the feet of his master, he stood looking up at the face of the ape-man with an expression of pride. Tarzan spoke to him in a low voice, praising him, and stroked his head. Jane and Korak stood by, waiting the ape-man's next move.

Tarzan, drawing his hunting knife, cut the jugular of the antelope. This would be the test. What would Jad-bal-ja do with the smell of fresh, hot blood in his nostrils? He sniffed at it and growled. With bared fangs he eyed the three wickedly. The ape-man pushed him away with his open palm. The lion growled again angrily and snapped at him. Quick is Numa, quick is Bara the deer, but Tarzan of the Apes is lightning. So swiftly did he strike, and so heavily, that Jad-bal-ja was falling on his back almost in the very instant that he had growled at Tarzan.



Swiftly he came to his feet again and the two—man and beast—stood facing each other. "Down!" commanded Tarzan. "Lie down, Jad-bal-ja!" His voice was low and firm. The lion hesitated but for an instant, and then lay down as Tarzan of the Apes had taught him to do at the word of command. Tarzan turned and lifted the carcass of the antelope to his shoulder. "Come," he said to Jad-bal-ja. The lion obediently followed them back to the horses. "You win," said Korak. "How do you do it?" "There is but one Tarzan," said Lady Greystoke, with pride in her voice.

ZUPPKE LAUDS HARRY NEWMAN

Michigan Quarterback Best Passer Since Friedman

Illinois Coach Says Purdue Earned Wisconsin Win

Big Ten Grid Race May End Up in Four-Way Tie

BY BOB ZUPPKE
Football Coach, University of Illinois

CHAMPAIGN (Ill.) Oct. 26. (NANA)—Michigan is likely to win the Big Ten championship, or at least get a tie for the title because the Wolverines in Harry Newman have the best passer seen in the West since the days of Benny Friedman.

Although defeating Illinois, 15-7, Michigan had no scoring punch except Newman's passing, w h i c h turned the tide of a close game. The Illinois secondary defense was weak against his passes: still Newman will worry the best in any game he plays. He is exceptionally accurate and can probably throw farther than any other player in the Big Ten. If a coach has no long passer on his squad, he cannot practice his men against long ones.

Newman, I should say, is a more powerful passer than Rentner of Northwestern; that is, he has more steam and strength in his tosses. Newman is not a great all-around player but his passing talent is a great asset.

ILLINOIS IMPROVED

Illinois had improved mechanically and smeared the Michigan running attack, but our boys still lacked the game sense. We had our chances to win but they went glimmering with bobbles at critical times.

Wisconsin would have tied Purdue by making the try for point after touchdown but Purdue had more scoring opportunities and deserved to win. The Wisconsin defense against passes was bad. Against passing it is fatal if your backs permit the receivers to get behind them, and this is what happened to Wisconsin and Illinois. Twice Moss, Purdue's end, got behind the Bedgers' secondary line and muffed passes which were sure touchdowns.

The fact that Wisconsin de-

"Yes, I used to get a bit sick and tired of hearing so much about the superiority of Pop's stuff over mine," replied Jones.

"Did you happen to mention to your boys that crack of Warner's about them being somewhat dumb?"

"Well, yes I did say something to them about it."

"When did you first call it to their attention?"

"Why, the morning it appeared in The Times," was Jones's reply.

"Ever mention it to them again during the week?"

KRIEGER WINS FEATURE MOTOR RACE AT ASCOT

Johnny Krieger served notice on local racing drivers that he will have to be reckoned with in future meets when he won the forty-lap main event at the Legion Ascot Speedway yesterday in the good time of 19m. 50s. Last year Krieger was well up in the championship standings. For the larger part of this season, however, the flying Dutchman, as he is known, ran into a good deal of hard luck. If his victory can be used as a criterion, it is evident that he is well on his way to a comeback and will make things lively for the other pilots at the local racing plant.

Vic Felt, a newcomer to these parts, took second in the feature affair and was closely followed by Ernie Triplett in third place. Mel McKee was fourth and Arval Brunmier fifth.

The lead in the main event changed hands so many times that the large crowd spent most of its time standing up and rooting for its favorite. Krieger held the lead for the first six laps, losing it to Francis Quinn, who in turn lost it to Brunmier. Brunmier led till the twenty-seventh turn when he broke an axle shaft and dropped back to fifth place.

Quinn slipped into Brunmier's position and apparently had the race sewed up when his rear wheels locked and he narrowly escaped tearing through the fence. At this point Krieger again went out in front and stayed there until the finish.

The battle for second place between Triplett and Felt was one of the highlights of the afternoon. On the thirty-third lap the casing on Triplett's tire came loose and flapped and split the air with every revolution of the wheel. Triplett was slowed down considerably allowing Felt to creep up to within several feet of his car.

As they came into the stretch on the last turn Felt shot by Triplett and finished less than a car length ahead of the "Belvedere Bad Boy." By this time Ernie's tire was in shreds and just as he crossed the

ARMY HOLDS MARINES EVEN

SAN DIEGO, Oct. 26. (AP)—The West Coast Army team of San Francisco and the San Diego Marines played to a 13-to-13 tie here this afternoon.

The Army was the first to count, going right down the field after taking the opening kick-off. Sullivan crossed the goal and place-kicked for the extra point.

The Marines tallied in the second period, Parker scoring on a long pass from Donnelly, but the kick for the extra point was blocked.

The Jarheads went to the front in the third quarter when Keegan dashed through the Marine secondary defense after taking a pass from Ganuzzi, good for 13 yards. Conversion failed.

Cornelison, Marine center, intercepted one of Ganuzzi's passes on the Marine 18-yard line late in the fourth quarter and dashed 82 yards to score the deciding touchdown. Trees place kicked the point that tied the game.

GONZAGA BOWS TO ST. MARY'S

Slip Madigan's Team Scores 41-to-0 Victory

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (AP)—St. Mary's Gaels crushed Gonzaga's Bulldogs, 41-0, today at Kezar Stadium, before a crowd of 20,000 persons.

Showing considerably more offensive punch than in preceding games, the Gaels drove through the Bulldog line for huge gains and exhibited a versatile passing attack to complete the rout. The visitors gave a good account of themselves in the first period, holding the Gaels to a single touchdown, but the St. Mary's machine started clicking in the second quarter.

From then on one sustained thrust followed another as the Californians chalked up two touchdowns in the second quarter, shoved over two more in the third and closed with a rush in the last few minutes with third and fourth-string players helping put across the sixth touchdown.

The first touchdown followed Berillas's blocked kick, Ebding, right end, recovering for St. Mary's, and running eight yards to Gonzaga's 14-yard line. Stennett, left half, punched the ball over. In the second quarter, Stennett passed twenty-nine yards to Toscani and on the next play the latter ran around right end, seventeen yards to score. Stennett bucked through to count again in the second period, after a long pass had put the Gaels within striking distance.

Toscani scored both touchdowns

Only Thirty-six Unbeaten Teams Remain; Fourteen in Thick of Battle

BY RALPH HUSTON

The annual race for national football honors was further narrowed down over the week-end, when nineteen previously undefeated teams were tumbled out of the standing. Only thirty-six now remain, and nine of these have been tied.

Among the elevens, always of national rank, which lost Saturday were Stanford, Wisconsin, Vanderbilt, New York U., Pittsburgh, Penn State, Florida and Texas. Army, while still unbeaten, was partially eliminated from consideration when it was tied 7-7 by the already beaten Yale team.

Of the thirty-six, only fourteen are really eligible for the national crown. The other teams are of the minor variety, and do not meet strong competition. The list is divided as follows:

East—Army, Cornell, Dartmouth, Fordham, Allegheny, St. Johns of Brooklyn, and Western Maryland.

Midwest—Notre Dame, Northwestern, Michigan, Kansas, Detroit, Ashland, Akron, Bowling Green (Ohio,) Capital, Heidelberg, Michigan State, Muskingum, Marquette, North Dakota and Oklahoma City.

South — Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Texas Christian, Clemson, Louisville and Tulsa.

Pacific Coast — Washington State, Oregon, San Diego State, Nevada and Santa Barbara State.

Rocky Mountain — Utah and Colorado.

Clemson, Oklahoma City and North Dakota top the list with six consecutive victories. Eight teams have won five straight, including Dartmouth, which tops the scorers with 232 points. Only two teams have not been scored on—Texas Christian, and Ashland. Both have played scoreless ties. Dartmouth was scored on for the first time

La Barba Bout at Cut Prices

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—The ten-round bout between Fidel LaBarba, former world's flyweight champion, and Kid Chocolate, spectacular Cuban, to be fought next Monday night, in Madison Square Garden, has been scheduled at prices ranging from $1 to $6 plus tax. It will serve as a barometer for prices to future ring matches of more than ordinary importance, according to Matchmaker Tom McArdle. Ordinarily the contest could be expected to justify a higher maximum admission charge than $7.50 which is the price spectators will be asked to pay, including the tax.

STARS PITCHED TO 8-TO-4 TRIUMPH BY SHELLENBACK

Vittmen Capture Four Out of Five Play-off Tilts From Angels to Cop Second Straight Title

BY BOB RAY

Hollywood Stars—Pacific Coast League champions for 1930! That's the title that Oscar Vitt's slugging Sheiks earned at Wrigley Field yesterday when they once more humbled Jack Lelivelt's Angels, 8 to 4, to break up the pennant playoff series by capturing the required four victories in only five games.

The 1930 pennant made it two championships in a row for Bill Lane, whose Stars also won the play-off last fall from the Mission Reds.

To Frank Shellenback, veteran spitball ace of the Hollywood mound staff, went the honor of pitching Hollywood to its deciding victory. Shelly held the Angels to eight hits and experienced his only moments of discomfiture in the sixth and seventh innings, when the Angels scored their four runs. In the sixth it was a walk followed by successive home runs by Ray Jacobs and Carl Dittmar that brought the Angels their first three tallies. An error by Brannan paved the way for the fourth Seraph score in the seventh.

BALLOU CHASED

Win Ballou for the second time in the series found the Hollywood attack too much for him to stop and finally gave way to a pinch-hitter in the seventh with the score 7 to 3 against him. Art Delaney blanked the Sheiks in the eighth but was lifted for a pinch-hitter so Lefty Peters finished. Dave Barbee touched Peters for a homer over the left-field wall to account for the final Hollywood tally. Otis Brannan also smacked a circuit clout for the Sheiks, his homer coming in the fifth.

A crowd of 10,500 fans turned out to see the Seraphs make their last stand against a slugging band of Stars that were not to be denied.

It was a wild and woolly series, this one, with the cannonading so heavy that only two pitchers—Jim Turner and Shellenback—lasting full games. And both of them were walloped to the showers in their first starts. The Angel mound staff just went completely to pieces and that ruined the Seraphs, who went into the play-off believing their mound staff had an edge on the Hollywood hurlers.

LOTS OF THRILLS

But despite the big scores the games provided more than their

SALT LAKE OPEN WON BY COOPER

Olin Dutra Finishes in Second Place After Par Smashing Rounds

SALT LAKE CITY (Utah) Oct. 26. (AP)—Harry Cooper, Los Angeles professional, won the $5000 Salt Lake City open g o l f tournament here today with a seventy-two-hole score of 283. He toured the last two eighteen-hole rounds in par 72's today.

Olin Dutra, Santa Monica, Cal., won second place with a total score of 285. He smashed par figures on both rounds today, going around the first eighteen in 68, and the second in 71.

George Von Elm, Detroit professional, and Craig Wood, professional of Bloomfield, N. J., tied for third place with 290. Von Elm, making his debut as a "business-man golfer," finished the last eighteen holes in 68, low for the afternoon round.

Wood made the last round in 71.

Cooper, who has led the field since the start of the tournament, wins the $1500 first prize and Dutra receives $1000 second money.

Von Elm and Wood received $500 each; Al Espinosa, $250; Abe Espinosa, $150; Mangrum and McSpadden, $100 each, and Thompson and Ong, $50 each.

Cooper won an additional 100 for the two low eighteen-hole scores Friday and Saturday, while Dutra won $50 for the low score this morning and Von Elm an added $50 for the low afternoon score.

Dutra fairly burned up the course today, but a slump near the end of the final round cost him first money. He finished with a 68, four under par, on

JONES PROUD OF BOYS

S.C. Coach Feels That Blocking of His Players Had Considerable to Do With Win Over Stanford

BY HOWARD JONES
Coach University of Southern California

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

I don't exactly know what a coach ought to say when his football team defeats one of his chief rivals by a score of 41 to 12. This is what our Southern California eleven did to Stanford Saturday and I must say that, like Knute Rockne with his Ramblers against Carnegie Tech and Pittsburgh, I was somewhat surprised at the size of the score, particularly as our games with Stanford have usually been close struggles.

Naturally I was pleased with the showing of my boys and I want to give them credit for playing the football of which they were really capable. O u r task now, of course, is to get them in this frame of mind again for our remaining hard games. If this can be done we should make it fairly interesting for the other teams on our schedule.

Y o u don't have to be connected w i t h football for any great length of time to know that blocking is one of the important fundamentals of the game. I felt on Saturday that our players blocked their opponents as foes should be blocked and while giving credit to our ball carriers for their efficiency I want to say that it was this factor that had more to do with our success than anything else. This is shown in that only one of our touchdowns came via the forward-pass route.

We of Southern California take this Stanford game rather seriously each year and as long as our boys continue to play up to their ability as they did Saturday I think we will be able to give Glenn Warner's teams an argument.

I liked the way Marshall Duffield came back after a rather disappointing exhibition against Washington State. It takes considerable of a man to shake off the discouragement of an unsatisfactory performance and come back as Duffield did on Saturday. He ran our team well and carried the ball excellently.

There were others on the team who demonstrated that they are made of the proper stuff, notably Pinckert, Baker and Hall, none of whom had played their best football against Washington State. I know that these players felt pretty well down in the mouth following that game and that they were able to come back and play as they did Saturday must naturally be a source of comfort to all three.

Marger Apsit, halfback, played a fine game of football for us. He is

Pacific Southwest P. G. A. Officially Takes Stand Against Ten Per Cent Issue

GAINES WINS INVITATION PLAY AT SAN BERNARDINO

"Pro" Golfers Not in Favor of Prize Cut

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Standing back of the action taken by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce and other Southern California organizations without reservation, the P.G.A. of the Pacific Southwest yesterday officially announced itself as opposed to paying 10 per cent of tournament money to the National Professional Golfers' Association tournament bureau.

WILLIS T. HUNTER.

A. J. (Pat) Patterson, secretary-treasurer of the local body, and a vice-president of the National P.G.A. last year, wishes it to be known that the pros have never favored the tournament bureau.

"I am sick and tired," said Pat last night, "of having people call up and bawl me out about this 10 per cent business. I want it to be known that the Pacific Southwest P.G.A. has never, and never will, back the National P.G.A. in this movement.

"I am going back East next month to represent the Pacific Coast when the P.G.A. meets and I suppose I'll get hail columbia for my stand, but I've been in dutch before, so it wont be a new experience."

The attitude of the P.G.A. was firmly established in the following letter received yesterday:

There has been so much publicity, adverse to the Professional Golfers' Association, that I believe it will be well to make clear the position of the P.G.A. of the Pacific-Southwest regarding the now-famous 10 per cent.

This association, individually and collectively, by resolution and by word of mouth have been first, last and all the time opposed to the deducting of any per cent from prize winners' purses for any purpose whatsoever.

The first $10,000 tournament was started by the P.G.A. of Southern California, as the present organization was then known, and it was started by them in that ten of our members posted in the bank their individual checks for One Thousand ($1000) Dollars apiece to guarantee the purse money.

The manifold and intricate details connected with the handling of such an event as this was too much for our organization, and the Junior Chamber of Commerce assumed all the details as well as the financial obligations from us and have since carried on successfully not only the local events but have been almost 100 per cent instrumental in securing additional tournaments throughout the Pacific Coast for the winter season.

We believe that if there were to be any 10 per cent to be deducted from the purses that the Junior Chamber of Commerce of the city of Los Angeles should receive it and not any representative of any group, but we do believe that if any of the prize winners wish to give 10 per cent of any amount of their winnings to the Tournament Bureau or any individual or group of individuals it is their privilege to do so, but we firmly maintain that the sponsors of money tournaments should not be placed in the position of a collection agency.

Trusting that you will understand thoroughly that this association is not in sympathy with the Tournament Bureau's actions, and that your public will not, in this, tie up the P.G.A. of this district with the Tournament Bureau's actions, I am,

Sincerely yours,

J. A. PATTERSON.

Officers of the Pacific-Southwest P.G.A. are Willie Hunter, president; Lewis Scott, vice-president, and Patterson, secretary.

MRS. DAVIS, CECIL NOE WIN MIXED FOURSOMES

Mrs. Richard Davis paired with Cecil Noe yesterday at the Fox Hills Country Club to win low gross in the mixed foursomes. Second low gross went to Mrs. George Saunders and Johnny Mascall. Mrs. A. G. Morse and Dr. Speicher, and Mrs. A. Anderson and Marvin Lewis were winners of first and second low net, respectively.

SAN GABRIEL CELEBRATES OPENING OF NEW GREENS

President Wescott of the San Gabriel Country Club writes in that in interclub tournament will be held on Saturday to celebrate the opening of the club's new greens, which were put in by Billy Bell.

Club members will be divided into two teams, the Reds and the Blues, and the losers will pay for a steak dinner to be held at the club in the evening.

In addition to completely rebuilding the greens and planting them to cocoos bent grass, the traps throughout the course were made over and fine white sand was used in them. On the back nine, holes fourteen, fifteen and sixteen have been entirely changed.

GOOD-FELLOWSHIP TOURNEY ENDS AT CALIFORNIA

Flight winners of the good-fellowship tournament which has been in progress at the California Country Club for the past few weeks were announced yesterday.

The results were as follows:

C. R. Cheney flight—D. P. O'Keefe defeated H. O. Roosch, 1 up; D. P. O'Keefe flight—E. Rickershauser defeated Dr. V. Goodfellow, 1 up; K. R. Burns flight—S. McKinnon defeated Fred Larson, 1 up; H. L. Burton flight—W. B. Law defeated Wilfred Graham, 4 and 3. Fred Oberle flight—L. L. Doty defeated R. M. Hobon, 1 up; Guy Hanson flight—C. F. Berry defeated Louis Supple, 3 and 4; Dr. Wallace Dodge flight—J. M. McKenzie defeated W. D. Lee, 3 and 2; H. S. Walton flight—R. K. McLaughlin defeated M. P. Bridge, 3 and 2; C. Scully flight—E. Palmer defeated Jay Welton, 5 and 3.

Scores Blow Sky High in Heavy Winds

Jack Gaines of Girard won the San Bernardino Valley Country Club invitation tournament yesterday with a total of 72-75—147 for the thirty-six-hole medal-play competition.

JACK GAINES

A stiff wind played havoc with the scoring. Gaines beat out Southern California's amateur champion, Fay Colman of the California Country Club, by two strokes. Fay finished with 78-71—149.

Low net in Class A went to J. A. Ross of Brentwood, 151-10—141.

J. C. Sheldon of San Bernardino was winner of low gross in Class B with 81-79—159. Dr. E. J. Atkinson copped the low net trophy, 165-20—145.

Class C prizes went to Neal Bowser for low gross, 91-83—174, and Roy Hoagland and M. D. Grausman tied for low net, 178-28—150.

H. R. Jantzen scored 89-85—174 to win low gross in Class D. J. A. Dow taking low net with 167-36—151.

The invitational was the first attempted at San Bernardino and proved unusually successful, according to A. R. "Ollie" Painter, who directed the play. J. G. Knapp was chairman of the tournament committee.

Knapp announced yesterday that the Pacific Southwest P.G.A. will stage a sweepstakes over the Gate City links today.

An exhibition match has also been lined up for December, the Dutra boys, Olin and Mortie, to face the Espinosas, Al and Abe.

MR. AND MRS. REYNOLDS WIN AT LOS ANGELES

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Reynolds won the mixed foursomes at the Los Angeles Country Club yesterday, 171-34-147. F. S. Hardin and Phil Ayres were second, 159-8-151, and Mrs. O. J. Johnson and George W. Weber finished third, 179-26-153.

SPOKANE CANCELS OPEN GOLF TOURNAMENT

Word was received from John McKinley, chairman of the Spokane golf tournament committee, that the Spokane open tournament scheduled for November 1 and 2, next, had been called off. The Professional Golfers' Association of America, under whose auspices the tournament was to have been held, advised Spokane officials that on account of counter-attractions it was impossible to assure a strong field of professional "big shots" from the East.

FOX HILLS GROOMS COURSE FOR INVITATIONAL

With the east course of the Fox Hills Country Club rounding into excellent shape, members of the Culver City club are preparing to stage their first annual invitation tournament next week.

For the past several months the course has been carefully groomed for this event and with the fairways showing a fine growth of grass and the greens better than ever, Fox Hills members the confident that the championship course will prove to be a tough test for Southern California leading amateurs.

Among those who will take a crack at Johnny Mescall's course record of 67 are Fay Coleman, Southern California amateur champion; Johnny Dawson, one of the outstanding amateurs in the country; Lester Coleman of California, Bill Jelliffe of Girard, Phil Carter of Rancho, Mike Marchetti of Rancho and C. K. Manhart of Fox Hills.

Coleman had a 73 over the east course a few days ago and plays the Fox Hills layout well.

President Art Jones has lined up a brilliant array of silverware, and thirty-four trophies will be awarded.

Ten flights will qualify for the match play and the qualifying will be according to handicap with low gross and low net trophies to be awarded in each of the four handicap classes, scratch to 6, 7 to 12, 13 to 18, and 19 to 24.

Match play starts Thursday, November 6, while Tuesday and Wednesday have been set aside for the eighteen-hole qualifying round. There will be a consolation round Saturday, November 8, for those who fail to qualify and those defeated in first-round matches. Mixed foursomes are scheduled for Sunday.

The east course will be open for practice on Thursday and Friday of this week and next Monday.

Entries can be made at the club by calling TW. 1106.

A. K. BOURNE GOLD BALL TOURNAMENT PLANNED

The A. K. Bourne gold and silverball tournament, which was last won by George Lance of Rancho at the Annandale Country Club, will be staged on November 18 and 19 over the Pasadena municipal course in Brookside Park.

The tournament will again be thirty-six holes medal play, and the field will be limited to players with handicaps from scratch to eight.

Lance waged a sensational battle last year to edge out George (Jix) Von Elm.

COLLEGES MAKE PEACE

COLLEGE STATION (Tex.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Resumption of athletic relations between Texas A. and M. College and Baylor University, severed in the fall of 1926, was authorized in a joint statement signed by President T. O. Walton of A. and M. and President S. P. Brooks of Baylor and announced here today.

THREE STARS DEFY CHAMPION

Trio of Giants Challenge Gus Sonnenberg

Three of the outstanding heavyweight wrestlers of the world, Ed (Strangler) Lewis, Joe Stecher and Everett Marshall, have each wired a challenge to meet the winner of the finish title battle between "Dynamite" Gus Sonnenberg and Don George, scheduled for the Olympic on Wednesday night.

STRANGLER LEWIS

Lewis, who is en route to America from Japan, where he has been the past two weeks trying to get bouts with the greatest jiu-jitsu exponents of the Orient, is anxious to meet Sonnenberg here, now that the billygoat butt has been barred. This is the hold Sonnenberg has always resorted to in the past to dispose of the former champion.

Stecher, who is reported to have been in Southern California for the past few days, and who also was beaten here by Sonnenberg with the illegal hold, is another who wants a return match with the billy-goat butt barred. The powerful Nebraskan watched George go through several workouts, and was deeply impressed with the challenger's ability, it was reported.

Neither Stecher or Lewis have ever seen George in action against topnotch competition, but each is very anxious to get the first bout with him, should he dispose of Sonnenberg.

Marshall is the grappler who is after a match with George, exclusively, at this time. There has been so much talk among the experts and near experts on the respective abilities of these two, that Marshall would like nothing better to get George into the ring and settle the argument in a finish bout.

George declared yesterday that if he won the title Wednesday night, he would be willing to meet any one of the three challengers Promoter Lou Daro selected for him. He is confident he can beat any one of the three. He points to the fact that he has defeated Marin Plentina, whom Stecher has sidestepped for years, and he had an easy time beating Bob McCoy, who held Lewis to an hour and a half draw in the East and who gave Marshall a tough battle here.

COOPER VICTOR AT SALT LAKE

the third round, and on the fourth was five under par through the thirteenth, birding the tenth, eleventh and twelfth holes in a row. He slipped one over on the fourteenth and the fifteenth and took a fatal 7 on the eighteenth.

Cooper had trouble with his driver on both rounds yet he managed to birdie enough holes to counteract his mistakes. He started the final day seven strokes ahead of Dutra, but was only three in the lead at the beginning of the last round. He shot even par through the fifth, but took a bad 7 on the par 4 sixth. He then settled down and bagged three birdies to finish the round even par.

Von Elm profited to the extent of $550 for his initial "business-man" effort. He shot mediocre 75's on the first two days, but came back with a 72 and a 68 today, to finish the seventy-two holes only two over par.

The remainder of the first ten finished as follows:

Al Espinosa, Chicago, fifth	302
Abe Espinosa, Chicago, sixth	303
Ray Mangrum, Dallas, Tex., seventh	307
H. McSpadden, Kansas City, eighth	308
Jim Thompson, Colorado Springs, ninth	309

UPSETS FEATURE SOCCER

Victorias Surprise Pasadenans; Richfield Oils in Triumph Over Scots, 2 to 1

Two unexpected soccer upsets were recorded out at Loyola Field yesterday afternoon when the Victorias, the newest team in the league, defeated the Pasadena Country Club eleven, a group of fast youngsters, 3 goals to 2 in the main game of the program, and the Richfield Oilers, considered a weak combination, won its second game in two seasons when it nosed out Danny Stevenson's Scots, 2 to 1, in the preliminary battle.

The main tilt was featured by the fast work of the Vics, who were expected to be slow in comparison to the Pasadena boys. In the last play of the game, the Crown City eleven was given a free kick at the goal on a penalty on the Victorias. Herbert Freud, goal keeper, staved off a tie score on his team by miraculously blocking the free kick. Erich Linkel, center half, was responsible for two of the Vic's goals, while Max Seedorf, outside right, scored the other tally. The losers' goals were both scored by H. Monk, inside right, in the second half of the game.

The Richfield-Scot encounter turned out to be an unspirited affair toward the end of the game, when the Scots put over a tally without any seeming opposition from the Oilers. Rowse, right half, and Saunders, center forward, scored the winning goals, while Laurieson, outside right for the Scots, tallied his squad's lone point. The Richfield eleven showed a much better game of football this week than in any of its other encounters, and in the future should put up stiff opposition for any of the squads.

At Tournament Park, Pasadena, the Hollywood eleven, league champions, defeated the Vikings, 2 to 1, in the main battle, while the L. A. A. C. squad defeated the Sons of St. George, 2 to 2, in the preliminary encounter.

After yesterday's games, there are three undefeated teams—Hollywood, L.A.A.C. and the Magyars. The standings of the clubs, with their total points won, follow: Hollywood, 8; L.A.A.C., 6; Magyars, 6; Vikings, 4; Richfield, 4; Scots, 2; Pasadena, 2; Victorias, 2, and the Sons, 0.

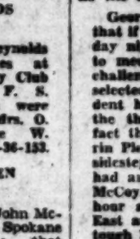
ROGERS, JR., STEALS SPOTLIGHT

Youngster Leads Polo Team to Victory Over Famous Dad at Uplifters' Club; Record Crowd for Beach Field Watches Mallet Tilt

BY FRANK ROCHE

All I know is what I read in the papers, says Will Rogers from day to day, but the humorist, ex-Mayor, cowboy, Ambassador-at-large (self appointed) and what not, knew something yesterday on the Uplifters' polo field without first reading it in the public prints. And that something was this—that Will Rogers, Jr., his oldest offspring, stole the show from him yesterday in a polo game played at the Rustic Canyon Field before 5000 Southland fans.



WILL ROGERS JR.

Will, Sr., captained the Reds and Will, Jr., skippered the Blues into action. The score at the end of eight hard chukkers of play was, the Blues 8, and the Reds 6. In addition Will, Jr., scored half of the goals registered by the winning four, while his illustrious dad had quite a time tallying one for his side.

The two Rogers—Will, Sr., and Jr., drew a record crowd to the Uplifters' Field but what they drew inside of the inclosure was nothing compared to the mob that packed the surrounding hills (on the nut) as the box office sharps term it, to see the two members of the Rogers family gallop in the polo battle.

Young Will has a good deal of respect for his dad at everything except polo judging from his individual clashes in action with his pater. When the elder Rogers bumped young Will hard in trying to keep him from the ball he was bumped back in anything but ladylike fashion. In fact, Young Bill often started the bumping and as the score shows was on top most of the time.

Will, Jr., scored in the first, second, third and sixth chukkers; Will, Sr., scored in the fourth chukker, Will, Sr., played at back for the Reds. Will, Jr., was the No. 1 for the Blues. Polo followers know that means that they ride opposite each other in the game. It was supposed to be great fun—it was for Will, Jr., anyhow.

The game itself was a runaway for the first half for the Blues, led by Young Will and Snowy Baker, but in the last four chukkers the Reds came on to make things very interesting. The elder Rogers and his team-mates, T. Lyel Puckett, Charles Crawford and Lionel Pedley, staged a furious rally in the seventh chukker, which netted them three goals and almost turned the tide of the game for a moment, but when things looked bad Young Will bumped into the picture bumping his dad out and it was all over but the shouting when the Blues scored again in the eighth chukker.

Reggie Weiss shared the high-scoring honors with Young Will.

After the game was over someone asked young Bill how he enjoyed it and he said, "Ask dad, he knows?"

YELLOW JACKET POLOISTS WIN OVER WHITES

Led by Perry Gordon at No. 1, who tallied four goals for high scoring honors, the Yellow Jacket polo-ists defeated the Whites, 11 to 4, yesterday on the Hollywood Polo and Hunt Club field.

The winners uncorked a brilliant offense in the final three chukkers that netted seven goals and clinched the game. Fred De Lacey and Joe Smith also rode well for the winners and chalked up two goals apiece. Kirk Steinert at No. 2, with a pair of goals, and I. D. Smith at back were the leading performers for the Whites.

Charnock and Vines Triumph

With most of the first and second-round matches of the men's doubles being run off, play began yesterday in the first Sycamore Grove reunion doubles tennis tournament on the two courts of the Sycamore Grove Park.

The wholly unexpected entrance of Henry Ellsworth Vines, 1930 Pacific Southwest singles champion and one of the sensations of the year in the tennis world, in the men's doubles with Dick Charnock, former Pasadena champion, added great flavor to the class of the tournament. In their first match Vines and Charnock took things easy by defeating Miller and Miller, 6-1, 9-7.

One upset was recorded yesterday, when Millman and Condon eliminated Clay Mahoney and Bob Brashear, the fourth seeded combination, by scores of 6-1, 6-4, in a second-round match. Only one three-set match was played during the day's matches, this coming when Bortz and Harris defeated Beaton and Zasquez, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Play will continue next Sunday, with the first round of the mixed doubles being scheduled. Entries in the mixed doubles event will not close until this Wednesday night.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS

First round—Woodrow and Mclquin defeated Riggs and partner by default; Rollo and McDavitt defeated Crocett and Stewart, 6-4, 7-5; Reynolds and Reynolds defeated Clemens and Capen, 6-1, 6-3; Hover and Fowler defeated Purpur and Hover, 6-0, 6-1; Millman and Condon defeated Powell and Gill, 6-0, 6-4.

Second round—Dworkin and Pabe defeated Woodrow and Mclquin, 6-0, 6-0; Bortz and Harris defeated Beaton and Zasquez, 2-6, 6-1, 6-2; Belzie and McDavitt defeated Bellusche and Campion, 6-3, 6-1; Clano and Saunders defeated Ordway and Wachter, 6-4, 6-3; Law and Day defeated Moore and Hawks, 6-0, 6-2; Charnock and Vines defeated Miller and Miller, 6-1, 9-7; Reynolds and Reynolds defeated Moore and Hawks, 6-0, 6-2; De Lara and Williams defeated Bond and partner by default; Scholts and Kelch defeated Wachols and Wachols, 6-4, 6-4; Millman and Condon defeated Mahoney and Brashear, 6-1, 6-4; Hall and Custer defeated Lockard and Sperry, 6-0, 6-2; Johnson and Millman leading Weever and Warren, 6-4, 3-all, when called because of darkness.

Maple Leafs, Monarchs to Mix Tonight

Although they have won both of their league games and have previously beaten the Monarchs, the Maple Leafs will be short-enders in the betting tonight when the rival sextets skate on the ice at the Palais de Glace. The contest, a Southern California Senior Ice Hockey League tilt, will start at 8:30.

Addition of Steve Crouch, a husky defense, to the line-up has bolstered the Monarchs considerably. They presented a stone-wall bulwark against the Bruins last Thursday and held the latter team scoreless. On the other hand, the Maple Leafs possess a bunch of sharpshooting forwards, among them being Bert Clark and "Whitey" Chapman, and it is believed that if any team in the league is to break through the Monarch defense it will be the Leafs.

LOAYZA WINS RING LAURELS OF CHILE

SANTIAGO (Chile) Oct. 26. (AP)—Stanislaus Loayza, who has done most of his fighting in the United States in recent years, today won the lightweight championship of his native country, Chile, getting a technical knockout over Luis Vincentini in the final round of their scheduled ten-round bout. A crowd of 25,000 paid about $20,000 to see the title fight.

Longshoremen Cop Game, 24-12

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Manuel Laraneta's Longshoremen continued their sweep through Southland independent competition here today by crushing the Santa Barbara A.C. eleven under a 24-12 score.

"Gunboat" Hartjes scored twice for the winners. He smashed over from the 3-yard line twice for touchdowns. In the second and fourth quarters to climax drives from midfield.

The summary:

Longshoremen (24)		Santa Barbara (12)
Murphy	L.E.R.	Bonetti

Bears, Pirates Will Collide on Ice Tonight

If you like your hockey fast, furious and a little rough then tonight's ice hockey clash at the Winter Garden Ice Palace, between the Sunfreze Bears and Union Oil Pirates should amply provide your evening's entertainment. The two clubs are meeting in a regular Southern California league game, and each is determined to stay on top of the heap.

DOYLE PLANS TO DOLE OUT BELTS

Promoter of Olympic Would Reward Coast Champs

Jack Doyle may inaugurate the plan of giving championship belts in conjunction with the Boxing Commission to establish title-holders in all divisions for the Pacific Coast.

JACK DOYLE

The Olympic promotor has had the idea under consideration for some time and more definite announcements are expected soon. Eliminations have been held more or less in the past, but no attention was focused on declaring western champions except as the fighters laid claim themselves to honors.

Doyle believes this would fit in nicely with the policy of giving youngsters a chance to show their worth in longer bouts and would be one means of stimulating new interest in the game.

In some cases Coast champions might outshadow national or so-called world champions. The Boxing Commission of this State has never dignified outstanding western fighters by sanctioning a sectional title, but the present body is known to be interested in Doyle's plan.

The Benny Miller-Oscar Rankins middleweight bout at the Olympic tomorrow night is an example of one elimination. The old guard of 160-pounders passed on with the suspensions of Bert Colima and Ace Hudkins here recently, leaving the way open to youngsters.

Rankins won from Colima in the bout which caused the Mexican to be set down on a foul. The Negro was the best fighter of the two, however, and was headed for a knockout, it appeared, when the contest was stopped.

Miller, making his first start as a middleweight, is the big threat locally. Constant improvement since he started his comeback has put him in the limelight with eight knockouts in eleven starts.

Rankins with a record of nineteen knockouts in twenty - seven starts hardly figures to be a short-ender against Miller tomorrow night, but sentiment is with the popular Benny.

feated Pennsylvania, 27-0, gives a slant on the class of the teams in the first division of the Big Ten. Northwestern, Michigan, Purdue and Wisconsin are certainly among the outstanding teams of the country.

MAY END IN TIE

The conference race may be all knotted up at the finish and Purdue and Wisconsin, although each has been defeated, will be buoyed by this prospect. Wisconsin has a big, powerful team and if Coach Thistlethwaite can bolster his pass defense, the Badgers may take Northwestern later on.

The performances of the Notre Dame backs as the Irish overwhelmed Pitt convinced me that as a group they are the greatest ball-carriers in the country. One critic whose judgment I have faith does not think the Irish line can possibly be as good as last season, but it must be strong when in the first scrimmage Schwartz can get loose for a 60-yard run for a touchdown. It can be seen that Rockne is making the most of his fine material and doing one of the best coaching jobs of his career.

Mississippi held Chicago to a scoreless tie, the Maroons looking somewhat worse than expected. Indiana, another Big Ten weak sister this year, was easy for Southern Methodist, which surprised no one.

Kansas and Oklahoma still lead the Big Six with two victories each. Kansas, without the services of Jim Bausch, defeated Iowa State decisively enough, but the Jayhawkers did not show the class expected. Oklahoma gave the Kansas Aggies their second defeat.

Krieger gave indication of what was to come when he won the first ten lap act in 4m. 49 2-5s. The mark was officially announced as a new track record. Other event winners were Triplett, Quinn, Sam Hoffman and Curley Grandel.

The results:

Italian Helmet Dash, 2 laps—Won by Ernie Triplett; Arval Brummier, second; Johnny Krieger, third. Time, 34.95s.

Second race, ten laps—Won by Johnny Krieger; Arval Brummier, second; Ernie Triplett, third. Time, 4m. 49 2-5s. (New track record.)

Third race, ten laps—Won by Francis Quinn; Shorty Canlon second; Vic Felt, third. Time, 4m. 52s.

Fourth race, ten laps—Won by Sam Hoffman; Mel McKee, second; Charley Gelson, third. Time, 4m. 57s.

Fifth race, forty laps—Won by Johnny Krieger; Vic Felt, second; Ernie Triplett, third; Mel McKee, fourth; Arval Brummier, fifth. Time, 19m. 15s.

Consolation race—Won by Curley Grandel; Chester Gardner, second; Sam Palmer, third. Time, 5m. 10s.

HANDBALL TOURNEY CARDED BY WILLIAMS

The Al Williams handball tournament, which will be held in the Al Williams handball courts in the Arcade Building and on the roof of the Roosevelt Building, promises to be an exciting and interesting event.

The number of members who have signed up is so large that Manager Feldman has found it necessary to divide the tournament into three flights. A handsome silver cup will be awarded the winner of each flight.

A number of business and professional men, new to athletics, will participate in this tournament.

Bausch Not to Be Barred Out

LAWRENCE (Kan.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Evidence resulting in the virtual ostracism of the University of Kansas from "Big Six" Conference athletics on charges of alleged recruiting and subsidization of athletes, was presented the School Athletic Board today, which then announced it was making its own private investigation. In a formal statement, the athletic board said that George C. Shaad, Kansas member of the "Big Six" faculty advisory group, had reported evidence leading to the conference order was inadequate. Following the meeting Dean Shaad said that James Bausch, star K. U. football player, named in the complaint, would not be barred from competition.

The only intimation of the course of future action of Kansas University was contained in one brief sentence. It read: "The University of Kansas athletic board has taken measures to secure information for its own guidance."

NATIONAL GRID RACE NARROWS

Saturday in the 7-2 victory over Harvard.

There are only two games for Saturday in which the opponents are undefeated. Albama, fresh from its victory over Vanderbilt, takes on another strong rival, Kentucky; and the Army meet North Dakota, and, if not on edge, may be upset. North Dakota will play the Los Angeles Firemen here late in the season.

Other strong teams play the unbeaten squads, however. Columbia faces Cornell, Detroit plays Iowa, Dartmouth faces Yale, Fordham plays West Virginia, Georgia encounters Florida and so on. The complete list is given below. Here is how the leaders stand:

Dartmouth, Yale, Army and Fordham Stand Out Prominently Among Eastern Elevens

BIG GREEN TEAM WILL BE HARD CLUB TO STOP

Play of Ben Ticknor Stands Out in Saturday's Games; Dartmouth Faces Yale Next Week-end

BY EDWIN B. DOOLEY

Former All-American Quarterback at Dartmouth

HANOVER (Mass.) Oct. 26.—Dartmouth, Yale, Army and Fordham assumed new and rather imposing proportions in eastern football circles, when the curtain of night blotted out one of the most miserable days football ever experienced, last Saturday. Cold driving rains slashed down behind a strong northeast wind made the Yale bowl, the Harvard stadium and other eastern gridirons unfit places to play on. Teams were handicapped in that their passing game was limited and their running attack considerably slowed. Handling the wet ball was risky business, and as a result there was plenty of fumbling and many low scores.

Dartmouth by holding Yale to a tie, a game which, by the way, was played in spite of the services of its greatest player, Albie Booth, on his first attempt to gain, demonstrated that it has a team which cannot be overlooked. Maj. Ralph Sasse, the Cadets' new coach, is using the Warner style of attack with marked success. Harvard fell before it, and Yale could not do better than a tie.

BILL SPAULDING

COACH JIMMY CRISS

Dartmouth's showing which will have to be duplicated from now on is Dartmouth's. The 7-to-2 score with Harvard does not indicate the true strength of the big green organization. It has backs aplenty, speed, deception, and worlds of football knowledge. Every gesture the team makes shows co-ordination, confidence and aggressiveness. It had the best herculean linemen on the field all afternoon, and if the Crimson boys could have gotten a foothold on the treacherous turf Dartmouth would have been unbeatable.

THIRD QUARTER

Bill Morton, the Indians have a backfield as versatile as they come. His punting against Harvard was almost phenomenal. True, he was aided by a good wind, but even the wind was not the cause of his kick out of five rolling out downs's 1, 2 and 3-yard lines. He can run a broken field like a veteran better and punt with them all. He's the man Stanford has to watch, and if they stop Coach Jack Cannell has another, Wild Bill McCall, to put in the game.

Pacific coast fans are discussing around the family circle, and forget to say a word for Big Brother Harvard's gallant captain and one of the best pivot men in football today. Ticknor plays a fine game on the defense and it's interesting to say he gets his tackles. Smart, aggressive and powerful, he plays with inspiration and makes a point of being in the right place at the right time. Twice he kicked off for his team and raced down to crash the ball carrier to the earth with a regular football tackle—which, by the way, is a spectacular movement.

Captain Harding, Harvard's left end, blocked the kick that led to Yale's only and two points for his team. Another player deserving of praise is Hinkey, who covers his territory with the ability and fervor of the late Sam, Frank Hinkey, and broke through under kicks with deadly precision.

Dartmouth can take Yale next week, the Green team will be primed up to a banner season. Yale's only claim to fame is that Cornell won the way. Dartmouth, with abundant material, well coached, the Green outfit should be a hard team to beat.

FOURTEEN IN ROW

Dartmouth's victory over the fast-stepping New York University eleven was the Maroons' fourteenth consecutive victory and sets Maj. Cavan's team up as one of the strongest in this section.

Dartmouth has a powerful line of veterans drilled to masterful play by Bill Spaulding, a coach whose ability is now acknowledged. Chick Harding's team is more versatile, and the ingenuability of the Ram backfield will not defeat for the Victors.

Yale's team sank lower than ever before in football sea last Saturday. Never before has a Yale team had good material and not any semblance of an offense. Coach Roper's last year at Yale appears to be a sad one. Three defeats in three starts is Yale's record to date, with little hope of improving.

HOWARD JONES PLANNING LEAP

on the links. It was the first game of golf the Trojan mentor has played in several weeks so busy has he been preparing for Stanford.

Of the players returning here yesterday only Marger Apsit and Marshall Duffield were incapacitated. Apsit had to ride to the train at Palo Alto in an ambulance, having been socked on the head. But he was all right in a few hours. Duffield suffered from an injured ankle all week and Jones did not know until game time whether he could start the Santa Monica flash. That Marsh came through and played as he did is all the more remarkable considering his condition.

The immediate question now, at least from the public's viewpoint, is: What can be done about the Denver game, Denver having lost, 59 to 0 to Utah Saturday? The writer has a few solutions to offer:

(1.) Cancel the darn thing.

(2.) Invite the Los Angeles Fire Department team to (a) play one-half for Denver; (b) play a full game along with Denver so as to give fans a double-header.

(3.) Spot Denver 40 points on the scoreboard and get some fun of seeing whether the Trojans, employing largely reserves, can overtake Jeff Cravath's boys.

(4.) Let only third and fourth-string players perform against the lowly visitors.

(5.) Stay at home and play bridge, mow the lawn or jump in the ocean with Jones.

Seriously this Fire Department team is a pretty good eleven with more than Don Moses on it and the writer for one would much prefer to see such players as Russell Striff, Chang Artman, Royce Wheeler and others in there trying to stop the Trojans than suffer through a contest with deah old Denvah.

Apparently the only football for the week will be that on Friday night when Bill Spaulding's improved Bruins entertain Stanford. And what reason has anyone for suspecting that the Cards will furnish much football that evening?

DENVER TEAM ARRIVES TODAY

Denver University's football squad of thirty-five arrives on the Gold Coast Limited of the Union Pacific system this morning. The team detrains at Los Angeles at 8:15 a.m. Denver U. meets U.S.C. Saturday.

HOWARD JONES PROUD OF MEN

a hard working boy and I know his steady performance had a lot to do with our victory.

For Stanford I thought that Moffatt, halfback, showed himself to be a good football player. With a little more help from his teammates he woud have made a much better showing.

I was proud of all the boys and only hope that they can continue to play as well as they did against Stanford. They have it in them to do so.

As to statistics we had quite a margin, gaining 481 yards from scrimmage and an additional fifty-three yards from passes as against 141 and 130 for Stanford.

Getting off to a good start by scoring two touchdowns in the first period helped us a lot, but we still had a fight on our hands for Stanford managed to tally soon after we had made our second score.

Washington's 13-to-0 victory over California was something of a surprise, although not unexpected in view of the fine progress which Jimmy Phelan has been making with his material at the Seattle institution. The Huskies will make it tough for other teams on their schedule and Washington opponents will have to take this eleven very seriously or they are apt to be considerably surprised themselves.

Hufford scored Washington's first touchdown after the Huskies got the ball on California's 24-yard line following a fumble. Wentworth made the next tally, intercepting a pass to run seventy yards to the goal line.

Oregon defeated Idaho, 20 to 6, while Washington State ran over Montana, 61 to 0. These two teams are now the only undefeated elevens in the Pacific Coast Conference.

In the Rocky Mountain Conference Utah continued on its way to another title by swamping Denver, 59 to 0.

"TIMES" NINE IS NEAR NIGHT LEAGUE TITLE

Having won twelve straight games in the Municipal Night Baseball League, the Los Angeles Times baseballers are now but one game from the championship. The Times nine plays a practice game with the Evening Express team Thursday night, having a bye on the schedule, and will meet the Hollywood Cubs for the title next week. Following the scheduled games, the squad will meet any independent ball club in the city.

SHAW HERO OF S.C. TRIUMPH

linesmen who get in there and do a lot of hard work while others get the credit.

In this case it happens to be Jess Shaw, the Selma senior who plays right guard, but left guard on defense.

Jess is the chap who knifed through time and again, busted up those Stanford plays and made them look as one local writer put it this morning, "The Milpitas High School formations."

All the local writers broke out loud paeans of praise over the Southern California team.

KICKING ONLY EDGE

Of course, there wasn't anything else they could do about it, in view of the complete domination the Trojans exercised over the field of play.

Only in Rothert's great kicking was there a single edge for Stanford.

You might add the forward passing angle to that column because Stanford scored twice on passes. On the other hand some of the tosses were so amateurish they made the good ones look bad.

And while the boys are praising Orv Mohler for his splendid offensive play, they can remain to take him down the line.

One chap wrote that there aren't enough superlatives in the English language to describe this "whirling, twisting, driving, slippery 160-pounder."

Quite true. He is all of that offensively.

But he is still a sophomore on defense. Both of those Stanford touchdowns were on Mohler. In each case it was Moffatt, the Stanford back, who carried the ball across the line—first on a pass from Rothert toward the tail end of the first period and again in the last quarter.

Southern California was playing a man-to-man defense against passes, and Moffatt was Mohler's man.

Moffatt didn't score when Duffield was in the game, and he scored twice when Mohler was the safety man.

DUFFIELD PRAISED

This isn't mentioned by way of decrying Mohler's great play, but Marshall Duffield, the Santa Monica blond, is the boy who started yesterday's drive, and he is the one who engineered the engine of attack that brought the Trojans two touchdowns in the first ten minutes of the game.

What happened after that didn't make much difference. As events transpired, those two touchdowns would have won the ball game.

And, in reality Duffield scored both touchdowns. It was his 26-yard run on that foxy spin play Howard Jones gave the Trojans this year that put the ball on the 1-yard line for Musick to make the tally.

And if you don't think Duffield was unselfish in the matter of physical glory just consider that he twice handed the oval to Musick after his brilliant run on which he literally fought off at least four potential tacklers.

And Duffield also gave Musick a chance to make the second score in that first period, but Musick failed from the 4-yard line and Marshall had to take it over himself on the old Trojan power play to the right.

POP FLABBERGASTED

That was one of the few times the old power play was employed. The Trojan quarters spent most of the afternoon fooling the Stanford boys with that spinner to the left which was good for three touchdowns.

Old Pop Warner was just as flabbergasted over the result as the rest of the experts. He gave his Stanford team a chance, and thought they would win if they played sixty minutes of football.

But Stanford could do nothing with the charge of that Trojan line yesterday and Pop admitted that the Trojans kicked the pants off his boys.

"That's one of the best-coached teams Howard Jones ever turned out at Southern California," he said.

"My boys looked like students playing a bunch of he-athletes.

"Individuals didn't impress me so much as the remarkable team play of the Trojans."

However, there were old Stanford stars who spent a large part of Saturday evening explaining what they thought Pop could not describe.

"What was wrong with Stanford?" chorused Bob Sims, Dick Hyland and Herb Fleishhacker.

"Why, nothing, except that Warner doesn't stress fundamentals at Stanford like Jones does at Southern California.

Pop was lucky in the first few years he spent at Stanford in having boys who had learned their fundamentals and were experienced players when he took hold of them.

"But the Stanford team this year is terribly deficient in blocking, tackling and clipping, and you can pin it on Warner.

"Man for man, Stanford was just as good as Southern California, but team for team there was no comparison.

WARNER FLAYED

"There was just one system that looked like a real system on the field and that was the Jones system. The old fox was outfoxed."

That's a terrible castigation on the part of his former pupils for the old fox, but the Stanford boys were feeling pretty bad about matters last night, and they spoke right out in meeting.

Any time S.C. gets 41 to 12 they figure it's time to say something about it. The Trojans have never made a score before like that over Stanford. Two touchdowns is as much as either team has scored over the other in the past six years.

But the Trojans made six yesterday and that is cause enough for even a Presidential investigation in Mr. Herbert Hoover's own back yard.

Race Course for Olympiad is Dedicated

LONG BEACH, Oct. 26.—Before an estimated crowd of 10,000 spectators the rowing course for the 1932 Olympic Games, which is to be in the lagoon at Recreation Park here, was dedicated by exhibition rowing between singles and four-men teams from the San Diego Rowing Club and by a fifty-mile outboard runabout marathon staged by the newly formed Long Beach Power Boat Club. Turning the half-century in 1h. 43m. 14s., Richard Collins of Los Angeles at the wheel of Hot Stuff Too, won the speedboat event from fifteen starters.

STARS CAPTURE COAST PENNANT

share of thrills for the fans, the first three contests especially being crammed with excitement.

The Stars started the afternoon's entertainment by shoving over two runs off Ballou in the opening inning. Gazella led off by drawing a walk and went to third when Lee doubled to left center. Mike scored and Lee moved to third as Haney threw out Brannan. Barbee drove a long sacrifice fly to Moore and Lee came home after the catch.

Hollywood added another counter in the third, after Gazella had fanned when Lee got another double, this one off the top bleacher rail, went to third as Moore bobbled the ball and scored on Brannan's single to right.

The Angels lost a chance to score in their half after Haney had singled and Harper walked to lead off. Moore's long fly to Carlyle moved Haney to third, but Shellenback got out of trouble by fanning Schulmerich and then retiring Jacobs on a foul to Bassler.

Brannan leveled on one of Ballou's pitches in the fifth and drove it over the right-field screen to give Hollywood a 4-to-0 lead.

ANGELS BOMBARD SHELLY

Skipper Leliveit's athletes found their batting eyes in the sixth and put on a home-run bombardment to nick Shellenback for their first three tallies. A walk to Schulmerich and Jacobs's drive over the left-field wall accounted for two runs. After Hill had made a sensational catch of Statz's short fly in center, which Carlyle lost in the sun, Dittmar banged another one over the left-field barrier for the third Seraph score.

But Ballou wasn't equal to the occasion and was promptly rapped for three runs by the Sheiks as they came up in the seventh. Lee led off with his third double, a drive to center that Mo re played badly, and took third on Brannan's out. Barbee singled, but Harper made a neat catch of Carlyle's long drive to left. Heath walked and then both runners scored on Bassler's sizzling two-base smash to right center. Heath might have been out at the plate had not Ballou cut off Dittmar's relay.

The Angels rose up again in their half of the seventh to score a run but Shelly stopped their rally cold. Parker, batting for Ballou, opened the round with a single to left and took third when Brannan let Haney's double-play grounder roll through him. Hill then made another spectacular running catch of Harper's short fly to prevent more trouble. Moore's single scored Parker and put Haney on second, but Schulmerich forced Moore and was in turn forced by Jacobs to put the damper on Angel hopes for victory.

Delaney blanked the Stars in order in the eighth but was removed for a pinch-hitter in the home half when Statz led off with a double off the center field wall. Dittmar flied to Barbee following Jigger's two-bagger and then Shellenback disposed of Pinch-Hitters Sigafoos and Warren to leave Statz stranded on third.

BARBEE HITS HOMER

With Peters pitching in the ninth Barbee accounted for Hollywood's eighth and last run by clouting one over the left-field wall. It was Dangerous Dave's fourth circuit clout of the series and cinched for him home-run honors in the play-off as well as for the season.

After Haney had flied out in the Angel ninth, Shelly walked Harper but Moore and Schulmerich were disposed of to make certain of bringing another pennant to the Hollywood Sheiks. Score:

FIREMEN FACE ONEONTA TEAM

Smoke Eaters Favored to Capture Tilt Tonight

Coach Bill Blewett sends his Fire Department football team on parade tonight again for local fans when the Smoke Eaters tangle with the Oneonta Military Academy team at Wrigley Field. The firemen will be playing their fifth game of the season and they rule heavy favorites to win over the Cadet gridders. To date the Fire Laddies have dropped but one game and that was to the Olympic Club of San Francisco. Blewett still claims his team would have copped the honors if they had gotten any of the breaks at all.

E. O. BARNETT

In Oneonta the firemen are facing a team made up of prep stars who are just biding their time before they can break into college football circles. The military academy players in most cases have seen quite a lot of service on the gridiron. The thing that will count most against them tonight, the experts point out, is the fact that the firemen have the greater reserve power.

The Cadets have a fast backfield in Morgan, Livesay, Pickens and Tex Jones. They will give the Smoke Eaters plenty of trouble if they get going right.

Blewett will start his first string with his power backfield composed of Moses, Byers, Grimes and Nolan against the Cadets.

E. O. Barnett announced last night that the policy of admitting women and children free will be continued at Wrigley Field.

The kick-off is scheduled for 8 p.m. Next Sunday the firemen play at San Diego against the Submarine Base. Their big game of the season is scheduled for Christmas Day at the Coliseum against North Dakota University.

The line-ups:

Firemen		Oneonta
Wheeler	L.E.	Marsh
Artman	L.T.	Meegee

STRIBLING IN STAR BOUT

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (AP)—The headline position on the nation's boxing program this week seems to be the Young Stribling-K.O. Christner ten-rounder in Boston, on Friday night. The Georgia heavyweight and Christner originally were slated to tangle in Newark last week, but K. O. developed knee trouble, when it appeared the financial returns would not be sufficient, and so the bout was shifted to the Boston arena.

The Chicago Coliseum features Tuffy Griffith, whose opponent is George Neron, an unknown who calls Greece his home.

A rodeo has ousted boxing from Madison Square Garden for a week.

Other bouts:

Monday—At St. Louis: Jack Barry, Chicago, vs. Jimmy Bean, Oklahoma City, light-heavyweights, ten rounds; Babe McCarthy, Tulsa, Okla., vs. Tommy Murphy, Youngstown, O., light-heavyweights, ten rounds. At Des Moines: Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., vs. Tony Losasio, lightweights, ten rounds. At New Haven: Al Friedman, Boston, vs. Ralph Pigmalio, New York, heavyweights, ten rounds.

Tuesday—At Indianapolis: Roy Wallace, Indianapolis, vs. George Larocca, New York, light-heavyweights, ten rounds.

Friday—At Chicago: Nattie Brown, San Francisco, vs. Larry Johnson, Chicago, light-heavyweights, eight rounds.

ALBIE BOOTH DOING WELL IN HOSPITAL

NEW HAVEN (Ct.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Yale's most important hospital patient, little Albie Booth, is "doing well," his physicians reported tonight. The midget quarterback, who was smeared on the first play after he entered the Yale-Army game yesterday, will remain in the college infirmary tonight and possibly until Tuesday.

Foul Tips

Stars and Stars batted out twenty-one runs during their play-off series. Of these the Sheiks contributed eleven for the Cherry-Red Barbee, who led the Coast batsmen, got four during the game. Heath and Ray Jacobs, apiece. Carl Dittmar, Wes Schulmerich and Statz banged out two four-baggers apiece.

Records of Lefty Grove and Lefty Gomez were not endangered by Brownwood and Los Angeles. Not a pitcher was credited with more than one victory. Shellenback and Turner were generous enough to last a full game.

Only twelve hits in nineteen games, or for a .632 average, to be hitter in the series, Fred Haney drove with eleven hits in twenty trips to the plate.

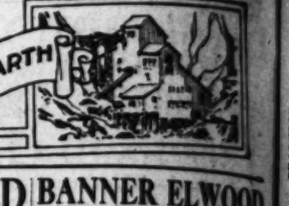
Sheiks beat Barbee out of runs scored by driving thirteen Stars across the plate to eleven for Dangerous Dave.

Fans remained at the foot of the Stars' clubhouse after the game to cheer the champions when they came out. They also mauled the players to get them to autograph baseballs and programs.

Some many good baseball games at Wrigley Field. On Thursday the big league All-Stars, with Babe Walberg, Blue Boy Rowe and others in their lineup, will play a four-game exhibition series there. They meet the Kelley Kars and Vitanola nines once more. Admission free.

Manager Oscar Vitt and his Seattle Indians will get an early start for home tomorrow, when they depart for Chicago to entrain for his 1931 Angels.

OIL and MINING



TOM REED MILL HEAVY SHIPPER

Bullion Output of Plant Held Largest on Coast

Monthly Returns From Mint Set at $100,000

Increase in Production Due on Program Soon

OATMAN (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Declaration is made that the Tom Reed mill here is sending more gold to the San Francisco mint than any other gold property on the Pacific Coast, with production monthly of bullion valued at $100,000 or more.

The last shipment was of seven 700-ounce bars, produced in ten days and valued at $63,000. Ore from the raise between the 1100 and 950-foot levels is asserted to be so rich that other ores have to be mixed to keep the mill heads below a $40 average, this to secure the best percentage of milling recovery.

The mill is handling about 100 tons a day and there is declaration that 200 tons will be the average when stoping is started on the 1100 level. On the 1100 a south cross-cut is being driven to intersect the Aztec vein and also a vein that leads in from the Telluride property.

On that level the ore has been followed already for 300 feet, with all of it productive stuff. An eastern drift, toward the American line, is expected to add 400 feet more of the same sort of material. The vein is running from five to seven feet in width.

In the Big Jim development a snag was struck below the 400-foot level of the old shaft, when the clean-up crew encountered the wreckage of the old metal cage, left there in the fire that destroyed the shaft lining a number of years ago. Blow torches had to be used to cut the steel into sizes that could be hoisted. The shaft now is about clear to 500 feet of depth, where lateral workings are to be reopened, with a drift carried over toward the Tom Reed.

It has been found that the Reed pumping has taken all water from the Big Jim workings, aiding much in the work now in progress. It is announced that development also is to be continued down to the 700-foot level.

SAN JOAQUIN PRODUCTION SHOWS GAIN

Increase in September Over August Reported at 27,041 Barrels

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Production of oil from the fields of the San Joaquin Valley increased a total of 27,041 barrels during September over the August output, according to figures just released by the American Petroleum Institute. The total for September was 4,384,815 barrels, compared to 4,357,774 for August. The daily average yield for September was 146,162 barrels, a daily average increase of 590 barrels over August. Production came from 4403 wells. Yield by fields follows:

Midway-Sunset, 1,845,938 barrels; Kettleman Hills, 660,806; Elk Hills, 535,637; Kern River, 381,114; Mount Poso, 287,425; Coalinga, 273,924; Round Mountain, 124,019; McKittrick, 120,273; Fruitvale, 70,228, Lost Hills-Belridge, 67,730; Wheeler Ridge, 17,721 barrels.

Nine new wells were completed during the month, with a total daily initial production of 11,491 barrels. Kettleman Hills had one new well with an initial daily yield of 10,150 barrels, while four in the Midway-Sunset had an initial output of 642 barrels. Kern River brought in one 200-barrel producer and Round Mountain had two which yielded 495 barrels the first day.

There were eleven new rigs erected and thirty-five wells actively drilling.

AJO HEARS REPORT OF RICH FIND

Gold-Silver Ore Strike Near Border in Mexico Held Promising

NOGALES (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—At Ajo has been report of a notable gold-silver strike in Northern Sonora, about twenty-five miles west of the border port of Sonoyta and close to the international line.

Y. C. Quiros of Sonoyta states that ledges over eight feet wide yield ore that assays up to $300 in gold, much of it coarse, while silver is native and in large chunks. The new district is close to the road leading to the Sierra Pinta gold property. Good results also are attending operation of the mines of the Sonoyta Mining Company, nine miles from the border port.

Machinery is being moved from Mayer, Ariz., to the site of a new smelting plant of the Federal Copper Company in the Altar district of Sonora. There is to be completion by Christmas, according to the management, which has headquarters here. Expenditure of $200,000 is estimated.

Fifteen per cent copper ore, at least eighteen feet wide, is reported cut in the Copper Prince mine of the Altar and Cananea Mining Company in Altar distrct. The corporation is composed mainly of Bisbee mining men, with employment of twenty-five men. The new ore is at 200 feet depth.

KETTLEMAN PLAN DUE SOON

Final Decision on Program for Development Expected Within Short Time

Within the next week or ten days, important plans are expected to be adopted in regard to the future development of the Kettleman Hills oil field. No definite decision was reached last week, when oil company executives and engineers met in Los Angeles to discuss the proposed double-unit plan.

The fact that no agreement was reached among the operators brought out several interesting angles, according to reliable reports. Before any plan is adopted whereby drilling operations at Kettleman Hills may be controlled by a board of governors, several differences of opinion must be smoothed out.

It is a matter of importance to all operators at Kettleman Hills that the exact boundary of the supposedly productive area be established and it is to that end that petroleum engineers held a number of sessions in the assembly rooms of the California Oil and Gas Association, last week.

During one session held at San Francisco, it is reported, the operators voted to extend the proven area to a certain line, and again in Los Angeles, to determine what territory should be admitted as proven, some of the operators cast another vote. It is understood that several operators have not accepted the findings of the engineers and as a result no definite boundary for the field has been established.

For a time it was thought that the completion of the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on Sec. 29, 21-17, might change the entire status of the north dome and extend the present limits of that dome some distance farther north. But that has now been settled, and it is asserted that while the field was extended a little to the north, the extension is more of a northwesterly trend, and has widened the field to the west. The north dome is thought to be from two to two and one-half miles in width and from ten to twelve miles long.

Considerable argument has revolved around the matter of setting a line in the southerly portion of the north dome structure at Kettleman Hills. The most southerly project that has developed oil is the General Petroleum Corporation's Ochsner No. 2 at the southwesterly corner of Sec. 26, 22-18. It is the contention of operators on that portion of the structure that their holdings are just as productive as the area in the extreme northerly portion.

This difference of opinion is more or less technical and may be decided only by the bringing in of new projects. It is not expected to delay adoption of the double-unit plan. The Kettleman Hills oil and gas conservation committee has until January 1 to prepare a plan for the approval of Secretary of the Interior Wilbur, and indications are that little real difficulty will be experienced from now on.

Executives of the various operators at Kettleman Hills are expected to meet today or tomorrow at San Francisco to consider a few small details which troubled them here last week. William Reinhardt is chairman of the conservation committee. Joseph Jensen, petroleum engineer of the Associated Oil Company, presided during the engineers' meetings in Los Angeles last week.

PENNZOIL PROGRESS INDICATED

Two Members of Staff Promoted to Important Executive Positions

The progressive development of the Pennzoil Company everywhere in the West and particularly in Southern California during the past year is indicated by two important executive appointments just announced by Norman M. Day, vice-president.

Willard G. Gregory, formerly advertising manager for the Pennzoil Company, has been made manager of sales promotion, a newly created department, and Howard E. Bohannon, next in line in the advertising department, has been appointed advertising manager.

The new sales promotion department, under Mr. Gregory's direction, has been organized to facilitate closer sales and merchandising co-operation with Pennzoil dealers in the twelve western States. Pennzoil advertising, at present the most extensive in the history of the company, closely supplements this effort, with Mr. Bohannon as its director.

Other developments this year in the company's long-existing policy of strong dealer-service co-operation, include the establishment of branches at Santa Barbara, Sacramento, Seattle and Portland. These more recent Pennzoil units complete a far-flung network of branch and distributor representation everywhere in the western portion of the United States, serving more than 12,000 independent dealers.

LEAN ORE LEACHING COST LOW

Phelps Dodge Continues to Employ Process at Copper Queen Branch

BISBEE (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Though the greatest supply came from the low-grade ores of Sacramento Hill, the Copper Queen branch of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation is continuing its leaching operations on the plain below Don Luis. It is reported that the cost is almost negligible, beyond that of transportation of the lean ores, and that the return is a material income item.

Seventy per cent of the copper may be recovered by leaching within three years and 50 per cent within a much shorter time. All that has to be done is to pile the ore in great heaps on the plain and flood it periodically with acid mine water, speeding oxidation. The material mainly consists of disseminated copper glance and pyrite in much-altered porphyry. Precipitation is on metal scrap shipped in from canning works and other sources.

Leaching is no new thing in Bisbee. About thirty years ago a system of wooden troughs, filled with scrap through which were carried acid waters from the old Czar workings was set up under the site of the first smelting plant. There has been copper precipitation also from water that has been pumped into and out of mine fire areas which have had to be flooded.

Forney Project at Fruitvale in Gray Shale Zone

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) — More than 2100 feet of oil formation has been cored in the Forney No. 1 well being drilled by L. C. Osborn in the Fruitvale district, just west of Bakersfield.

Sandy gray shale is found at bottom. This is the first well at Fruitvale financed by Mr. Forney of Bakersfield, following the drilling of the Osborn-Sayre No. 1 project in the Edison district.

Hard gray sand still is predominating in the Standard Oil Company's K.C.L. No. 5-4 at Fruitvale, which has progressed to more than 5800 feet, the greatest depth ever attained in any Fruitvale well.

Standard produced 1098 barrels of oil from its Oak-street well in the same district during September.

Test Under Way at Lost Hills Well of Getty

LOST HILLS, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) Testing of George F. Getty's Lincoln Drilling Company No. 1-A test well in the Lost Hills district is under way. Total depth is 1198 feet, with casing at an even 1000 feet. It is reported that the 18 5-8-inch casing froze in the hole.

The Universal Consolidated Oil Company's No. 49 is drilling ahead beyond 4000 feet and is in a shell formation.

Both are deep tests going 5000 feet or more, and for the formation from which Kettleman and Belridge gushers are producing.

METEOR MOUNTAIN SURVEY COMPLETED

FLAGSTAFF (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—A geophysical and magnetic survey completed at Meteor Mountain, east of this city, indicates that the meteoric nickel-iron body sought lies within the great crater and not to one side, as has been assumed in recent years. A new shaft is to be sunk at the indicated point. Recent work was stopped by a flood of water.

CHINA LIFTS DUTY ON AIRPLANE PARTS

NANKING, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—The Ministry of Finance, in an order to the Inspector-General of Customs instructs that all airplane parts and accessories from abroad shall be exempt from import duty for a period of five years.

REFINERY MOVE IN TERRA BELLA

Plans Under Way for Small Plant in Field

Hope of Extending Oil Area Basis of Action

Absorption Project Also on Sponsor's Program

There is a movement afoot to build a small refinery in the Terra Bella oil field, according to Fred Gholson, superintendent of the Mills-Wilkie No. 2, one of the projects that is expected to develop steady production in that district.

At present, the needs of the Terra Bella field are not imperative, but operators who have been active there since completion of the Gardiner No. 1 discovery well, think that the possibility of extending the present limits of the field justifies a small refinery, as well as an absorption plant to treat the gas.

That the field is spotted is indicated by the Miami No. 1, in which granite is said to have been penetrated a few days ago. None of the cores taken showed any trace of oil sand and it is believed that the hole will be abandoned. The Miami No. 1 is north of Deer Creek and east of the highway.

Electric-pumping equipment is expected to be installed in the Campbell-Murray No. 1 in the Porterville district. A production test may soon be made at the Barbara No. 1 in the same area. Bottom of the holes is at 736 feet with thirty-three feet of oil sand in evidence.

GOLD FIELD IN ARIZONA ATTRACTING

Keen Interest Reported in Properties North of Bradshaw Mountain

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Keen local interest is being taken in gold properties of the Northern Bradshaw Mountain section, south of Prescott, all the way from Groom Creek and the Hassayampa River to Crown King.

At the latter point is reported discovery of a fine large body of free gold ore in Ed Block's Fairview mine, in a vein parallel to one that was worked for sulphide ores years ago. The values are in quartz, in combination with manganese oxide.

At Groom Creek, the Linden-Coburn Mining Company, a new Phoenix corporation, announces that a fifty-ton mill is to be built at once, to work ores from four parallel veins that have an average sample of $12 gold.

Nuggets valued at $1200 have been brought in from the Windy placer property, on Big Bug Creek, between Mayer and Humboldt. Water from the creek is used in sluicing. The property, operated by Charles Roman, is owned by C. A. Logsden. In pioneer days the Big Bug field was noted for nuggets, one of them valued at $800. Arizona placer production almost wholly is dependent on rainfall.

General Runs Casing in Hole at Poso Creek

POSO STATION, Oct. 26 (Exclusive)—The General Petroleum Corporation is running casing in its Sill No. 1 well on Sec. 26, 28-27, at Poso Creek, following discovery of oil sand between 2009 and 2029 feet. At present the casing is being lowered. Total depth is 2029 feet. Both of General's other Sill sites on the same section are idling with rigs up.

The Chanslor - Canfield-Midway Oil Company's Mon No. 2, on Sec. 26, 27-28, remains idle with rig up. The West Coast Petroleum Combination, Inc., also idles its 1460-foot well in the same field.

Old Bodie Mine Estate Due for Working Over

The Treadwell-Yukon Company is shipping a gasoline-driven shovel, disc-crusher and other heavy equipment to its properties at Bodie. The shovel will be used to mine old ore dumps and hillsides believed to contain shoots and deposits of rich gold ore.

Vigorous work continues to be pressed from the 700-foot level of the Red Cloud shaft, with the object of locating extensions of ledges that yielded profitable ore in old areas.

OIL PUBLICATION HOLDS INTEREST

Study of Foraminifera Off San Pedro Issued

Dr. Cushman and Dorothy A. Moyer Collaborators

Work Held Highly Important Contribution on Topic

"Some Recent Foraminifera From Off San Pedro," a new publication of special interest to the oil industry, written by Dr. J. A. Cushman and Dorothy A. Moyer, the latter a graduate in geology of the University of Southern California, is the result of the most extensive work done showing the relation between fossil and modern forms of foraminifera, according to Dr. Arthur J. Tiege, chairman of the department of geology.

"The work, in pamphlet form, is regarded as a research report on a matter of vital concern to oil workers, especially those connected with laboratorical research," states Prof. Tiege. "Foraminifera—microscopic forms of marine life—are of significance to the oil industry as their remains, found while drilling oil, are used as indicators of oil horizons. Expensive laboratories and staffs are maintained to study this minute form of life."

Dr. J. A. Cushman is director of the Cushman Laboratories for Foraminiferal Research, and Miss Moyer is at present in the research laboratory of the Western Gulf Oil Company in Los Angeles. She received her M.A. degree from the Trojan institution in 1929, when she wrote her thesis on the foraminifera of the Southern California coast in collaboration with the geology and zoology departments of Southern California. The thesis attracted nation-wide interest among scientists.

Miss Moyer is a member of Phi Sigma, national honorary society in the field of biological research, and is also a member of Alpha Phi Social Sorority. She obtained her bachelor's degree in 1919 from Northwestern University.

MINE FORCE BACK AFTER SHORT LULL

Old Dominion Operating Again Following Brief Halt for Improvements

GLOBE (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Four hundred miners have returned to work in the Old Dominion property, after a five-day layoff, due to installation of the shaft of a new gallows frame and new skips, as well as a 1500-ton ore bin. Two shifts are working on production and cleaning up, while a third is on repair work and concreting. The shaft is to be completely lined with concrete.

The company has an improvement program that will take several years for completion, with expenditure of several millions of dollars. There is to be deeper and broader exploration of the mine, with expectation that ores developed will necessitate increase of the size of the milling plant. The company for years past has shipped ores and concentrates to the Miami smelter, after determination that its old blast-furnace smelter would have to be entirely rebuilt if modernized and made economical of operation.

The Globe mill of the Edward C. O'Brien Company is to be enlarged to twenty-five tons a day capacity. It mainly handles tungsten and vanadium ores. One shipment recently was brought from the Baboquivari Mountains, sixty miles southwest of Tucson. W. X. Osborn is manager of the plant.

Superior Oil New Entry at Buttonwillow

BUTTONWILLOW, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Superior Oil Company will soon enter the Buttonwillow district of Kern county to drill an oil well. The company has recently leased Sec. 32, 29-25.

Site for the first well has been selected 250 feet south by 250 feet west of the center of Sec. 32. The well will be called K. C. L. No. 1 due to the fact that the land was leased from the Kern County Land Company.

Superior geologists have been working in the field for several months and their findings have prompted the company to begin the first well at once.

NEW TEXAS OIL NEWS TOLD

Outstanding Recent Developments in Various Fields of State Reported

SAN ANGELO (Tex.) Oct. 27. (Exclusive)—A mile western extension of the Sherk pool in Upton county; new production in Northern Winkler county immediately south of the Leck area, in the Wheat field of Loving county, and in the Pecos Valley field in Pecos county, improvement in a well indicating Ward county's fourth field and a new production peak by Big Lake No. 4-C University, one of seven of the world's deepest producers, in Reagan county, were outstanding oil developments this week in the West Texas Permian Basin.

PROJECT AT KETTLEMAN NEARS GOAL

Standard's Offset to Producer of Superior Due in Shortly

The Standard Oil Company's No. 65 well in the northeast corner of the southeast quarter of Sec. 29, 21-17, on the north dome of the Kettleman Hills oil field is expected to be the next completion there and will be a direct offset to the Superior Oil Company's Huffman No. 1 on the northwest quarter of the same section.

Standard's well yesterday was making progress with the drill below 7120 feet in a hard, gray sand formation, and if Superior's Huffman No. 1 is a definite marker in point of completion depth, the former should soon be coring oil sand. Superior's project is producing from a depth of 8323 feet, and is only one foot shallower than the State's deepest producer. The A. T. Jergins Trust has the deepest steady producer in the State in the Signal Hill oil field.

There apparently is nothing that stands in the way of Standard eventually completing three or more wells on Sec. 29, 21-17. Indications are that the company intends to make an energetic campaign on that portion of the north dome, based on the excellent yield by Superior's well which has been flowing in excess of 11,000 barrels of 46-deg. gravity oil per day for more than a month.

HOBBS OIL INTEREST SHIFT DUE

Eunice Field Expected to Claim Attention of New Mexico Operators

ARTESIA (N. M.) Oct. 27. (Exclusive)—Oil play in Lea county is expected soon to partly shift from the Hobbs field south to the Eunice district, with the Continental Oil Company leading the way. It is understood that Continental has staked two locations in the vicinity of the discovery well, A. E. Meyer No. 1, on Sec. 17, 21-36, which was completed by Continental more than a year ago and ordered shut in.

When this well was recently opened up it made 76.5 barrels per hour for eight hours. On the original test when drilled to 4001 feet the Meyer No. 1 made 983 barrels in twenty-four hours.

The Shell Petroleum Corporation has recently entered the Eunice territory with a location on the Coleman permit, 2310 feet from the east and south lines of Sec. 17, 21-36.

Gold Standard Claim Leasers Report Strike

TONOPAH (Nev.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—A promising gold strike is reported from the Gold Standard claim in the southeastern part of the Gilbert district. Leasers are said to have exposed a two-foot shoot carrying shipping ore at a depth of fifteen feet, with a streak of talc assaying $1 to $5 per pound in gold. Excellent ore continues to be shipped from the Mammoth, Homestake, Last Hope and other Gilbert properties.

Construction of the new mill of the Original Bullfrog Company is nearing completion at Beatty. The plant is of the latest design and will treat ore from the Original Bullfrog property near the old town of Rhyolite. A substantial tonnage of profitable ore is reported in sight. New equipment is being placed in the mill serving the Denver mine, near Rhyolite, preliminary to steady production. The Pioneer Mines Company is reported to be preparing for resumption of operations.

Almost overshadowing these, however, was the failure to flow oil by Cranfill Brothers and Gulf's J. B. Tubbs No. 1, a west central Crane county wildcat, when turned into tanks through a separator for several hours Tuesday after encountering an increase in gas at 4352 feet. In deepening to 4375 feet Thursday the well, wide open, sprayed only a small amount of oil, estimated at twenty-five barrels daily, with about 2,500,000 cubic feet of gas.

Tubbs No. 1 is on Sec. 8, B-27, public school land, fifteen miles from the nearest production, the Hayzlett field in Ward county, on the west. Cranfill Brothers No. 1 Muir, two and one-half miles south of Tubbs No. 1 and higher on the lime, had drilled to 3130 feet in lime without showings, having missed heavy gas which Tubbs No. 1 had at intervals between 2665 and 2935 feet.

COMPLETION MADE

The Prairie Oil and Gas Company's Johnson No. 1 on Sec. 16, Block 74, school land, in Winkler county, came in at 3133 feet for initial production of 150 barrels an hour, but declined to 950 barrels of oil with 3000 barrels of water during the next fifteen hours. Later in twenty-four hours the well flowed 950 barrels of fluid, only 6 per cent water. It was to be tubed. When the Prairie well came in, Atlantic's Daugherty No. 1, two locations south of it on the same section, ceased to flow.

Leo White's Russell No. 1 on Sec. 80, Block 1, W. & N. W. Railway Company survey, in Loving county's deep, high-gravity sweet oil Wheat field, produced 480 barrels of oil the first fourteen hours after shooting the pay with 160 quarts, and 387 barrels the next twenty-four hours. With an elevation of 2677 feet, it topped the Delaware lime at 4175 feet, topped the sand at 4216 feet and drilled in one foot.

OUTPUT PICKS UP

The Texas-Pacific's M. Barker No. 1 on Sec. 27, Block B-29, school land in Ward county, showed a gradual increase in drilling to 2425 feet and while cleaning to run tubing placed 159 barrels of oil in storage. The well struck its first oil and gas at 2255 feet and had increases to 2404 feet. It is about two and one-half miles southeast of the Bennett pool and approximately six miles northwest of Ward county's Hayzlett field discovery.

Greene Oil and Refining Company and Getty Petroleum Company's Denman No. 1 in Sec. 14, Block 30, Township 1, south, T. & P. Railway Company survey, in eastern Howard county, swabbed 135 barrels of oil in twelve hours and continued swabbing, preparatory to going on the pump at 2703 feet. Pay was topped at 2615. Greene & Getty's Snyder No. 1 in Sec. 27, block 30, two and a quarter miles south of Denman No. 1, was bailing to test a shut-off at 1886 feet, the total depth, where six and five-eighths-inch casing was cemented some time ago.

NEW PEAK SET

Big Lake Oil Company's University No. 4-C, the largest of seven of the world's deepest producers, in Reagan county, established a new production peak of 3573 barrels of high-gravity oil during twenty-four hours ending Wednesday morning. The previous peak was 3242 barrels the 13th inst. The well is 8697 feet deep.

Four of seven of the deep producers registered production gains during the week ending the 18th inst. This led to complaints made to the Texas Railroad Commission at a hearing in Austin that the Big Lake field has increased production instead of curbing it in line with the State-wide curtailment plan. It also was charged that gas is being wasted. Owners of the deep wells have been experimenting with the wells continually over a long period in an effort to curb production and minimize loss of gas, but have had little success. The work has to proceed cautiously owing to the danger of ruining the gushers, it is declared.

Six Drilling Jobs Active in Midway Field

TAFT, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Six drilling jobs are active in the Midway field.

Rigging up is going ahead on Chanslor-Canfield-Midway Oil Company's No. 88 on Sec. 8, 32-23.

Brown shale formation is being drilled through to 3200 feet by the General Petroleum Corporation in its Moco No. 218 on Sec. 35, 12-24, while on Sec. 26, 11-24, General continues to do preliminary work in its Orloff No. 1.

The Standard Oil Company's LC well, with a total depth of 3265 feet, continues to produce water, while attempts are being made to shut it off. Standard has casing cemented near bottom in this well. Standard's 3D is running tubing. Its depth is 4190 feet. No. 112 on the 33G lease, is beyond 2300 feet and drilling ahead.

BANNER ELWOOD AREA PRODUCER

Project on Tideland Permit Star Performer

Completion Held Best Made in Several Years

Daily Flow Exceeding 14,000 Barrels Indicated

One of the State's best completions in several years was brought in during the past week off the Elwood coast by the Pacific Western Oil Company and, after establishing its potentiality, has been shut in to conform to the field-wide oil-curtailment program.

Pacific Western's tideland permit No. 92-6 came in for an initial flow of 4600 barrels of 36.1 deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 3515 feet and within twenty-four hours increased its yield to more than 13,000 barrels daily. During the last two days of the test it put out 14,000 barrels and operators believe it could have surpassed that had it been allowed to continue to produce.

As a result of this completion, Pacific Western is said to have proven the possibilities of its permit. The new producer indicates that good producers may be obtained still farther out in the ocean. The company is preparing to drill two projects on the same pier which prospected the easterly side of the permit, and is also planning to drill several on the westerly side of the permit.

KERN FIELD OPERATIONS REPORTED

Only One New Project Started During Week in Entire District

BAKERSFIELD, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Only one new well was started last week in Kern county. It was the No. 2 hole of the Chanslor-Canfield Midway Oil Company on Sec. 6, 28-29, in the Round Mountain field.

Five tests for water shut-off were made, these being Union Oil Company's Editor No. 1 on Sec. 22, 32-23, in the Midway; Union's Rosedale No. 4, on Sec. 10-23, Sunset; Getty, P. Getty, Inc., No. 1-A, on Sec. 11, 26-20, Lost Hills; California Star Oil Company's No. 3-40, on Sec. 2, 32-27, Kern River, and Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company's No. 9-4, on Sec. 28-29, Round Mountain.

Abandonments reported were Edward Oil Company's No. 1, on Sec. 34, 27-20, in the Belridge field, and Shell Oil Company's Olcese No. 1, on Sec. 21, 28-29, at Round Mountain.

COPPER DROP BOON SIGHTED

TUCSON (Ariz.) Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Partial suspension of operations in the copper mines may have an indirect beneficial effect on Arizona as a whole, according to George R. Fansett, mining engineer of the bureau of mines of the University of Arizona. He states that lack of employment has caused many miners to take to the hills on prospecting expeditions, this especially marked in the gold districts in the northwestern part of the State. Mr. Fansett is helping by lecturing in various localities on "Prospectors' Mineralogy."

A trip to Ajo, as guests of the New Cornelia branch of the Calumet and Arizona Mining Company, is to be afforded attendants on the fifth Arizona mining revival meeting, to be held in this city on the 31st inst. and November 1 and 2. This is to follow the meeting. A. J. Harshberger is general chairman of the arrangements committee, Max Pooler of the entertainment committee, P. G. Spilsbury of Phoenix of the program committee and Charles F. Willis of Phoenix of the publicity committee. The mining staff of the university will have a part on the program.

Prominent mining men of Arizona are to be honored by framed photographs to be hung in the mines and engineering building of the university. Among those honored are Senator W. A. Clark, who developed the United Verde mine; Seeley W. Mudd of the Ostman mines, William Boyce Thompson of the Magma mines, and James Douglas, head of the Phelps-Dodge Corporation and pioneer in the development at Bisbee.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Earl's, Eighth, between Broadway and Hill—"Lady Windermere's Fan," with Ronald Colman and Irene Rich. Ruth Chatterton and Clive Brook enact romance pleasingly.

Boulevard, Washington at Vermont—"The Trial of Mary Dugan." Will Rogers's wit is still good for a couple of hours.

California, Main near Eighth—"Estrellados." Buster Keaton breaks into Spanish and does himself proud.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Just Imagine." A fantasy and simply swell. With Maureen O'Sullivan.

Chinese, 6931 Hollywood—"The Big Trail." Spectacular in settings and photography, this production demonstrates the power and sweep of Grandeur film.

Criterion, 642 South Main—"The Big River." A funny satire on prison life with a fine cast, headed by Spencer Tracey.

Egyptian, Hollywood Boulevard—"Monte Carlo." A delightful Lubitsch satire with Jack Buchanan and Jeanette MacDonald.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Let Us Be Gay." Norma Shearer is good in a made-over musical comedy.

Filmarte, 1228 North Vine—"South Seas." An entertaining voyage through the beautiful South Pacific.

Forum, Pico at Norton—"Moby Dick." Excitement, cruel realism and John Barrymore.

Loew's State, Broadway at Seventh—"Love in the Rough." Pleasant and musical, with a good cast, headed by the inevitable Robert Montgomery.

Metropolitan, Broadway at Ninth—"The Girl of the Golden West." The old melodrama for no good reason. Ann Harding.

Million Dollar, Broadway at Third—"Follow Thru." The musical comedy of golf, and Buddy Rogers; but it's pretty endless.

Pantages, Hollywood at Vine—"The Big Fight." A big climax tops a rather enticing story. Guinn Williams.

Paramount, Hill at Sixth—"Laughter." One of the best pictures of the year. Splendidly done by Frederic March, also Nancy Carroll.

Rita, Wilshire at La Brea—"The Spoilers." The third version of this famous story is somewhat disappointing. Gary Cooper.

R.K.O., Hill at Eighth—"Brothers." The popular Bert Lytell in one of his favorable spheres.

R.K.O., Orpheum, Broadway at Ninth—"Lady Surrenders." An interesting film, with excellent portrayal by Genevieve Tobin and Basil Rathbone.

Tower, Edgw. at 8th—"Extravagance." Average stuff, which will always please some. June Collyer.

United Western at Tenth—"All Quiet on the Western Front." Remarque's gripping account of war makes a splendid film. Lew Ayers.

United Artists, Broadway near Ninth—"Whoopee." Eddie Cantor in the best of screen musicals.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at Seventh—"One Night at Susie's." Billie Dove and Ricardo Cortez (Jacob Krantz, Jr., overcome many limitations with good work.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox—"Maybe It's Love." Or maybe it's college, anyway you can see the All-American football team, and if you like, Joe E. Brown.

Wilshire, 8440 Wilshire Boulevard—"The Santa Fe Trail." A western and not so bad; with Richard Arlen.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th—"Young Sinners." More of youth; wild doings, which should prove popular. John Darrow.

Biltmore, 6th near Grand—"New Moon." Opens tonight.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland—"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." Charlotte Greenwood brings onto the stage, and the play matters not at all. Destined for a healthy and wealthy run.

Figueroa Playhouse, 940 S. Figueroa—"Peg o' My Heart." Dorothy MacKaye return with this farce in which she recently scored a personal hit.

Hollywood Playhouse, Vine near Hollywood—"Little Orchid Annie." Fast farce about a naive gold-digger. Betty Bronson and a veteran supporting cast.

Mason, Broadway near 1st—"Women Who Take." Opens tonight.

Majestic, Hill near 11th—"Temptations of 1930." A modern revue exhibiting some tuneful songs, clever dancing and colorful ensemble work.

Vine St., Vine near Hollywood Blvd.—"My Girl Friday." A fast and funny farce about the business man at play. With John T. Murray.

BURLESQUE

Follies, Main at Fourth—Burlesque.

FUND WILL EDUCATE MUSHANEY CHILDREN

SAN FERNANDO, Oct. 26. — A fund of about $1400 has been subscribed by numerous citizens here as a small trust und for the widow and two small children of Ben W. Mushaney, police officer who was slain by a crazed Mexican about two weeks ago. Next week the money is to be placed in trust to be used in later years for the education of the children. According to committee heads who aided in the collection of the money additional sums probably will be added to the present total.

BLAZE EXTINGUISHED BY QUICK THINKING

RED BLUFF, Oct. 26. (AP)—Cuspidors are mighty valuable fire-fighting equipment, in the opinion of Dave Bayles, assistant postmaster here.

Walking through the postoffice lobby the other day, Bayles discovered a large wastepaper basket was ablaze. Without a moment's hesitation he grabbed two cuspidors and drowned the flame.

The fire was blamed on the supposition somebody threw a hot cigarette in the wrong container.

RAIL BRIDGE DEDICATION THIS WEEK

Southern Pacific Span Over Carquinez Straits Near Completion

MARTINEZ, Oct. 26. (AP)—Twelve girls of seven Solano and Contra Costa county communities are waging a lively campaign for the crown to be worn by the queen of Martinez's celebration held November 1, next, in connection with the formal dedication of the Southern Pacific Company's $12,000,000 railroad bridge across Carquinez Straits.

Senator Shortridge is to dedicate the new mile and one-eighth bridge. The bridge supplants the Sacramento River ferry, on which trains running between San Francisco and points north, east and into the San Joaquin Valley have long been conveyed.

Jobless Exceed Three Millions in Rhineland

BERLIN, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Germany now has 3,116,000 jobless, according to an official statement. This represents an increase of 112,000 during the first half of October. Only 1,980,000 received dole or "crisis" support, while another 500,000 were supported by welfare organizations. The remainder were dependent on personal charity.

Science Studies Burning Effect

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 26, (AP)—A new method of learning exactly what happens to a burning particle is reported to the American Chemical Society by Austin Gudmendson of Carnegie Institute of Technology and David F. Smith of the Bureau of Mines.

The particle is heated in an inert gas, that is one in which it cannot burn, then suddenly blasted with a stream of air.

The touch of air produces instant burning, but before this has gone far the particle is plunged back into the inert gas. This puts out the fire, without changing effects of burning. Thus a particle is burned step by step, with stops to study what happens after each air blast.

Grape Board Buys Outright

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—Further clarifying a point reported to be the subject of some misconception, it was announced today that all grapes sold under contract to the California Grape Control Board, Ltd., central agency in the government's stabilization program, are the exclusive property of the board and cannot be resold by the grower at any time.

Reports from the field in the past few days indicated that some growers, particularly of raisin varieties, were under the impression they could resell grapes purchased by the control board, but whose disposition had not been ordered, after the final payment is made on November 15.

YOUTH LOOKING FOR DANCE MONEY HELD

VENICE, Oct. 26.—Little sympathy for dancing enthusiasts was felt by Ben Harris of 1226 Cabrillo Canal, Venice, when a youth he caught prowling about his home early yesterday morning told him he had been merely looking about the house to get some money in order to go to a dance. Harris turned the youth, who gave his name as Oliver Matson, over to the police, and he is being held on a charge of suspicion of burglary.

PEDESTRIAN ON DARK ROAD KILLED BY AUTO

OWENSMOUTH, Oct. 26.—An inquest was conducted this morning over the body of Philip Ornelas, 60 years of age, of 7016 Deering street, instantly killed when struck by an auto driven by Russell Morin at the intersection of Sherman Way and Wilbur street. Young Morin is an employee of the Bank of Italy at Van Nuys. Testimony showed that Ornelas was walking in the street in the dark when struck.

HERMOSA RECEIVES OIL-ROYALTY CHECK

HERMOSA BEACH, Oct. 26.—City Clerk Ben Brown yesterday received the first oil-royalty check due this municipality as revenue from the Holston No. 1 well, drilled on city property. The amount, $34.29, represented the city's share of the week's earnings on the well, on an output of a little less than 1000 barrels.

RUSE GIVES THIEVES CHANCE TO ESCAPE

SOISSONS (France) Oct. 26. (AP)—Robbers who stole a marble statue of the Virgin, made in the fourteenth century, from a church at Ursel left in its place a copy in plaster, and the theft was not discovered for several days.

BIBLE CLASS ELECTS

HUNTINGTON PARK, Oct. 26.—Archie G. Reynolds started his sixteenth year as teacher of the Berean Bible Class of the Friends Sunday-school, on Belgrave street today, having been re-elected at the annual meeting for another year. The class was organized at the Training School for Christian Workers, before the Friends' house of worship was erected here. There were twelve members in the class at that time. Later, the name was changed to Berean Bible Class and at the present time the membership is fifty.

STATE ALLOTS FOREST FUNDS

Counties Will Strengthen Fire Safeguards

Lookouts, Telephone Lines Being Installed

San Diego County to Get New Tractor

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26. (AP)—More than $20,000 of State forestry division funds has been allotted to counties for winter work in strengthening the fire-protective system, State Forester M. B. Pratt has announced. While rangers are not engaged in fighting fires they will construct firebreaks, lookout stations and telephone lines, in preparation for next season's activities.

Other allotments of funds will be made later, Pratt said. State money and Clark-McNary funds received from the Federal government are being used for the work.

WORK PLANNED

Inspector A. E. Frost has gone from Sacramento to the San Joaquin Valley to make arrangements for winter work, including the transportation of materials to high points in the Sierra before bad weather makes mountain roads impassable.

Considerable work will be done in Fresno county, funds being appropriated for lookouts on Smith Mountain, to cost $1200; a telephone line from Smith Mountain to Coalinga costing $1000; a line from Clovis to Copper Creek, $300, and $500 for firebreak construction work.

San Diego county was given $4000 to purchase a tractor and grader for use in firebreak building.

STATION IMPROVED

Improvements to be made soon on the Santa Cruz county fire-truck station near Woodwardia are to cost $1500, which was allotted.

Tehama county was given $500 for firebreak work in greasewood areas and opening of old roads, and $750 to build what is known as the Beegum line, to connect a national forest lookout station by telephone.

Other allotments for firebreak work were:

Mendocino, $1500; Sonoma, $1500 for continuation of work on the Russian River; Napa, $500 for work in Los Pacedos forest; Colusa, $500; Tuolumne, $300; Kern, $500; Tulare, $250; San Luis Obispo, $250; Madera, $250; Placer, $995.

Allotments for telephone line work included El Dorado, $250; Siskiyou, $750; Kern, $500.

Lookout station work included $1800 for a steel tower on Blue Ridge, Tulare county; $1000 for Siskiyou county; and $500 for improvements to a lookout station in Humboldt county.

NEW YORK MESSENGER HIGH FLYER

Errand Boy in Monoplane Rated Power Glider Soars to Apparent 11,800 Feet

ROOSEVELT FIELD (N. Y.) Oct. 26. (AP)—Paul Clough, 16-year-old errand boy at Roosevelt Field, today soared to what he says is a junior altitude record for light planes.

In a little monoplane with a thirty-horse power motor—a craft which is really a power glider—Clough climbed until the plane would go no higher. His altimeter read 11,800 feet. He also carried a barograph which will be sent to Washington for calibration. It is believed no record had been established previously for such a flight.

Clough, who recently obtained a flyer's license, is the son of a Garden City real estate man. After school he works at this field, his chief task being to hop on his bicycle and obtain the names of occupants of planes taking off and landing.

X-Ray 'Doses' Standardized

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Invention of an apparatus for standardizing the measurement of X-ray "doses" may unify all X-ray treatments.

Developed by the Bureau of Standards, the sensitive instrument measures X-ray intensity within one one-hundred-billionth of an ampere. With this as a standard, dosage meters used by physicians may be calibrated at the bureau in the accepted unit.

It is necessary, bureau experts say, for physicians to use some standard dose that can be duplicated generally with the knowledge that they are giving the exact amount in the treatment.

Farmers Can Cull Animals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26. (AP)—Many farm families in the drought area are solving the live-stock feed problem by slaughtering cull animals and canning the meat.

In one instance a calf, for which the owner could get only $10, was converted into 362 cans of roast, steak, hash, chile, and soup stock. One family canned ninety-eight quarts of chicken.

The movement is well advanced in Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and other southern States. It has the two-fold purpose of providing food for the family and saving feed for the better animals left in the herds.

SCRUB WOMEN AT HARVARD GET HELP

NEW YORK, Oct. 26. (Exclusive) A group of Harvard alumni headed by Corliss Lamont has undertaken to raise $3880 to pay Harvard scrub women who have been "docked" 2 cents an hour for rest periods.

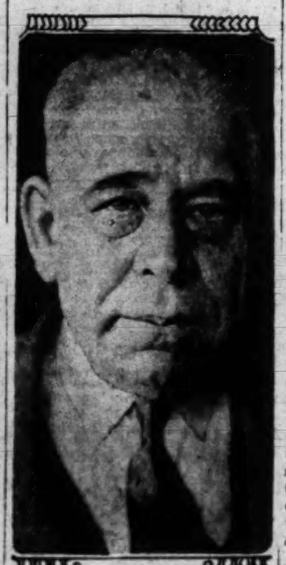
PIONEER MERCHANT FIGHTING FOR LIFE



Moses A. Hamburger

HAMBURGER PRONOUNCED GRAVELY ILL

Merchant and Leader in City Progress Sufferer From Heart Condition

Moses A. Hamburger, pioneer Los Angeles merchant and long identified with the city's growth, is gravely ill at the home of his brother-in-law, T. L. Nathan, 505 South Windsor Boulevard, it was announced yesterday.

Several weeks ago, Mr. Hamburger suffered a severe heart attack. He was removed from his apartments at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, where he has resided many years, to the home of his sister. Several days ago his illness assumed a critical stage. Since that time there has been little change, his physicians, Drs. Fulton and Hawkins, said yesterday.

Mr. Hamburger was born at Sacramento in 1850, and was educated in the grammar and high schools of that city. He entered business here in 1881, when his father, A. Hamburger, founded the Hamburger Department Store at Main and Requiena streets. The public witnessed, October 17, 1905, the turning of the sod for the great store at Broadway and Eighth street, now known as the May Company. With his brother, David Hamburger, and others, Moses Hamburger ran this concern until 1923, when he sold out to the May Company. He also owned Blackstone's and was identified in banking and financial business.

Mr. Hamburger's benefactions to charitable and religious institutions have been many. With his brother, he donated $250 000 for a working girls' home. He has also donated liberally to various hospitals of the city.

Plans Approved for Play Center

Plans and specifications for a swimming pool, bathhouse and community building at the Roscoe Playground in the San Fernando Valley district, have been approved by the Playground and Recreation Commission and the city purchasing agent has been instructed to call for bids.

The project, to cost approximately $50,000, is to be built through funds derived from a bond issue in the Roscoe district.

SHULER CHURCH BLAST "PRANK"

Fireworks Explosion Meant "Just to Scare"

Damage, Mostly in Broken Windows, $150

Arrest of Two Men Reported at Scene Expected

An aerial bomb, designed by fireworks experts to make a loud noise but cause no damage, was exploded early yesterday morning near the southeast corner of Trinity Methodist Church at 1201 South Flower street, according to the police reports of blast investigators, and brought an estimated loss of $150, and no casualties or injuries.

The noise-making contrivance is one of a variety used extensively in fireworks display throughout the country for supplying the detonations. They are usually shot into the air by a small charge of powder and on exploding make a great noise and release a ball of light.

Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of the church, in which is located his broadcasting station and which was not damaged in any way, could not aid police investigators in information that might lead to the apprehension of the vandals.

BOMB MEANT TO SCARE

"I have not been threatened and know of no one that would attempt to blast the building," he said when questioned by Capt. Frank Katzenberger, police explosive expert. "I believe the blast was intended more to scare away members of the congregation and keep them from attending church, than to damage either the structure or the radio station," Shuler said.

Belief that the explosion was the result of a prank and not intended as an attempt to wreck the building, was expressed by Katzenberger and his assistants, Inspector Kleinfeld and Detective Lieutenant Kirksey after a complete investigation of the scene and the discovery of pieces of the aerial bomb.

JUST TO MAKE NOISE

"There is every indication," said Katzenberger, "that the bomb, or as some would say giant firecracker, was placed in the pile of debris near the church building with only an intent to make a loud noise.

"The parties who handled the black-powder bomb are certainly novices at wrecking buildings, and inexpert in choosing their explosive if extensive damage was intended," he said, in pointing out that the noise-maker had been placed on a pile of softly packed rubbish from roof repairing and near the solid rocks that form the outer wall of the building.

Damage from the blast, practically all from concussion which crashed and cracked window glass in the immediate neighborhood as well as the church, will amount to $150, according to Katzenberger. Two windows were shattered in the church; one plate-glass show window of the building on the south was cracked; twenty-two small panes in windows of residences across the street were broken, and five were cracked in the auto salesroom at the corner of Eleventh street and Flower street.

MAN WITNESSES EXPLOSION

Julius H. Dreyfuss, 1236 South Flower street, is believed by police to have been the only eyewitness to the blast and definitely established the time as between 1:07 and 1:10 a.m.

Dreyfuss, according to a statement to Detective Lieutenants Loomis and Hull, was just entering his home across the street from the church when the bomb exploded.

"I was just stepping into the doorway when the bomb exploded," Dreyfuss told Loomis. "For a minute I was rather stunned and then turning quickly in the direction the blast came from I saw a roll of smoke or fog coming from between

VANISHINGS GIVE COURT SOME WORK

Missing Persons' Estates Will be Considered Today as Relatives Ask Writs

"Mysterious disappearance week" is to be celebrated in Probate Court beginning today.

Rev. Harold Palmer mysteriously disappeared twice, and so was the object of Superior Judge Crail's attention, when a petition was filed to distribute a $5000 estate in the hands of the Public Administrator.

And John A. Lenk left home five years ago, leaving a $100,000 estate in the hands of the Public Administrator. Now Mrs. Ruby Lenk, 1115 Heliotrope Drive, through Attorney Lois Mead is filing a petition that the court appoint her trustee.

Mr. Palmer's mother, Mrs. Imagene Palmer, is asking to be appointed trustee of her son's estate. She believes Palmer is dead. But court records show he disappeared once before.

Eight years ago, he took a trip to Arizona, leaving his son, Harry C. Palmer, now 18 years of age, at their home, 332 Linden avenue, Long Beach. Later, he was reported to have married Mrs. Mary Lundquist, a widow, who died, leaving him an estate of $5000. Six years ago, Mr. Palmer disappeared again, and has not been heard of since.

Lenk left home January 19, 1925, three years after he was married. He started for the office of his father, John C. Lenk, wealthy meat packer, and has not been seen since by friends or family. The father spent $50,000 in a nation-wide search for his son, according to attorneys, but with no success, and in 1929, he died, leaving an estate of $300,000 to his widow, and other sons.

Mrs. Lenk still believes her husband to be alive, according to Attorney Mead, and has kept a room in their home ready for his return.

CARDINAL CELEBRATES MASS

High Dignitary of Church Takes Lead in Most Colorful Religious Ceremony of City's History

BY JAMES WARNACK

Devotion to a great ideal was demonstrated once again in Nuestra Senora Reina de Los Angeles yesterday when more than 4000 Catholics and hundreds of members of other churches attended solemn pontifical mass at St. Vincent's Church, celebrated by His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Archbishop of New York.

While only 1600 printed invitations had been issued it was estimated that fully 2500 persons, in addition, attended the mass, listening to the music and the sermon by Archbishop Hanna of San Francisco, which were broadcast through amplifiers to the throng outside.

Long before 11 a.m., a crowd had gathered on the front steps of the church and on the broad walks and spacious lawn. Officers were present to direct the throng. A few minutes before the processional it was announced that because of limited seating capacity, only those holding tickets would be allowed to enter the building and the announcement had a magical effect, for within a few seconds those without tickets had quietly moved away from the steps to the lawn below. Those on the outside not only heard the music and address but another mass was said on the lawn by Father Kernagahn, following the sermon for the benefit of the attentive throng.

IMPRESSIVE MARCH

Forming at the parish house, the procession wended its way into the magnificent church, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Doheny, which was built and furnished at a cost of more than $1,500,000. Walking in the order of their rank, beginning with the lowes, they came, probably the most colorful procession that ever entered a Los Angeles temple of worship. Came first a young man bearing the national colors, followed by one bearing the papal cross-headed yellow flag. Then came the bearer of the cross, followed by altar boys.

EAST-WEST SHIP BEATS TIME HERE

First New York Plane in Thirty-six-Hour Transit Ahead of Schedule

With the motors roaring the first New York-Los Angeles thirty-six-hour mail plane of the Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., swept in from the East and landed safely at the Alhambra terminal on Valley Boulevard last evening at 7:40 o'clock, twenty minutes ahead of schedule.

Beating in out of the darkness, the passenger plane which followed the mail ship arrived promptly at 8 o'clock.

On the Atlantic Coast the same epic was being enacted when the plane which left Los Angeles yesterday morning winged safely across the continent and dropped to the landing field at Newark, N. J., at 6:26 p.m. eastern time.

Piloting the mail plane were Col. Alton Parker, who was with Byrd at the South Pole, and L. J. Chiappino. One passenger only was aboard, Clarence M. Young, assistant Secretary for Aviation of the

FLEET TO FETE VISITORS TODAY

Open House Festivities Will Feature Navy Day

Major Units of Port Armada to Join Celebration

Admiral Reeves Scheduled for Luncheon Talk

Los Angeles today will have the honor of being the center of the Navy's celebration of its one hundred and fifty-fifth birthday; the occasion being also the seventy-second birthday of Theodore Roosevelt, "Father of the Modern Navy." Fourteen major units of the battle fleet, all of them decked out in the colorful bunting of "dress ship," will be "at home" at San Pedro today to the people of the Southland and tonight the armada will climax the day with a spectacular searchlight drill.

Of the various Navy Day speakers on the program, the feature address will be delivered in the Biltmore at noon by Rear-Admiral Joseph M. Reeves, recently elevated to commander of the aircraft carrier divisions of the United States Fleet, and thus the Navy's supreme aerial chief afloat. Admiral Reeves will be the luncheon guest of the aviation, military and naval affairs committee of the Chamber of Commerce and he will tell 100 of the Southland's aviation leaders how, in the space of five years, the Navy has risen to world dominance in naval aviation. The address will be broadcast over Radio Station KFI at 12:45 p.m. The program will be in charge of Lieutenant-Commander Ligon B. Ard, United States Naval Reserve leader.

VISITORS WELCOME

Visitors will be welcomed aboard the Battle Fleet ship at the harbor from 11 a.m. until 5 p.m. today. There will be a fleet of eleven ships' boats operating from the Fifth-street navy landing at San Pedro, and an equal number from the Santa Barbara-street landing at Long Beach. The San Pedro boats will ply to and from all ships except the aircraft carrier Lexington, while the Long Beach boats will carry guests to and from the Lexington and all battleships.

Ships that will prove of high interest to the civilian visitor will include the 888-foot Lexington, ten dreadnaughts, including the California, West Virginia, Maryland, Tennessee, New Mexico, Idaho, Mississippi, Nevada, Oklahoma, and New York; the hospital ship Relief, the fleet repair ship Medusa and the train flagship Procyon. Catapulting of seaplanes from battleship decks, gun drills, exhibits of projectiles, diving gear, machinery and torpedoes and band concerts will be part of the battleship programs, while at Trona Field there will be two football games at 2 p.m.

Visitors to the flagship of Admiral Frank Schofield, commander-in-chief of the Battle Fleet, will have an opportunity of hearing Master Billy Lennon, only juvenile honorary member of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, sing "Sleep Sailor Boy," one of the organization's anthems, at a brief ceremony to be conducted aboard the ship at 2:30 p.m.

LUNCHEON PLANS

Rear-Admiral Reeves will be accompanied to the luncheon by six officers of his staff, who will be seated at the speakers' table and will be introduced by Lieutenant-Commander Ard, chairman of a special Chamber of Commerce navy committee, following the greeting to the naval and aviation officials expressed by President Austin of the chamber.

The officers who will accompany Rear-Admiral Reeves are Capt. E. J. King, commander of U.S.S. Lexington; Capt. A. B. Cook, chief-of-staff; Commander J. H. Hoover, executive officer U.S.S. Lexington; Lieutenant-Commander A. C. Davis, Lieutenant-Commander H. B. Sallada and Lieutenant-Commander G. W. Bashiell.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THIS is written at the checking station at Daggett, where the officers stop all cars coming into California.

A highly indignant woman in a big touring car has just left. She has ridden all the way from Pittsburgh carrying a dinky little potted plant in her lap . . . California being in pressing need of plants from Pittsburgh. The officers found a specimen of the deadly Japanese beetle pest on her plant. They confiscated and destroyed it.

The bereft owner is furious. And it looks to me as though California would have to manage to struggle along with what plants it has.

BOLL WEEVIL

Two girls were almost as mad because the officers took from them two cotton pods they were wearing for bouquets. They were from New York and these Texas pods were the first live cotton plants they had ever seen.

The officers showed them eight live boll weevils crawling out of their pods; but they considered this a miserable, trifling technicality. The fact that these bugs, with progeny to come, would be enough to destroy all the cotton fields of California, they brushed aside as of no importance compared with their desire to have souvenirs.

LOVE'S SWEET SONG

A bedraggled motorcycle with patched tires has just crawled in.

The driver is a worried-looking farmer boy from Nebraska. He wears overalls and his face is haggard with anxiety and exhaustion. Bundled into the side car of the machine—which gives her the effect of sitting upright in a coffin—is his wife. She is a tired-looking girl. In the hollow of each arm she has a sleeping baby. The older is about 2 years—the other an infant of a few weeks.

Unable to find work in Nebraska, they are coming to California in a desperate hope. All their worldly belongings are in two small papier-mache suit cases which have almost fallen into pieces during the hard trip. Isn't love grand?

HINDU ARISTOCRATS

A snappy-looking car with a Michigan license plate. The passengers are four Hindu boys—sad-eyed, shy and self-effacing.

They get the thrill of their lives. One of the young inspectors come up and speaks to them in their own language. He is an attractive young Englishman who was for years in the British government service in India.

After they roll along, he tells me that they are all four sons of rich rajahs—Bombay, Calcutta, etc. They are college students in the United States.

THE TOURIST CROP

A lot of the tourists who have been rolling in during the summer months have been of a class who will do California no good—men out of work in decrepit old Fords. Some of them only buy a gallon of gasoline at a time. They run out of gas on the road and beg from passers-by, knowing by experience that this is a plea never refused.

Some of them are worthy but unlucky. Others are undesirable. Some of the cars smell so that the officers almost have to hold

SEVEN DIE IN AUTO CRASHES

Four Others Near Death as Series of Rail Crossing Accidents Take Sunday Toll

Seven persons were killed in automobile accidents in Los Angeles yesterday, four being killed and three others probably fatally injured in a series of three railroad crossing tragedies. Other traffic casualties added another two dead to the toll of Sunday deaths.

Four members of a family were almost instantly killed and another seriously injured when their automobile was struck by a Santa Fe train at the Lincoln-avenue crossing in La Verne, near Pomona.

The dead are: Fred B. Douglas, 45-year-old salesman, of 201 West Mariposa street, Pasadena, his wife, Mrs. Blanche Douglas, 45, their daughter Nita, 15, and their son, Kenneth, 4. Shirley Douglas, 20, physicians at the Pomona Valley Hospital said, was not seriously hurt and was taken to the home of B. P. Baldwin at Chino.

Investigators said Douglas apparently became confused when a Pacific Electric train passed and thinking the wig-wag signal ringing for its passage, continued over the tracks to be struck by the speeding steam train. The bodies of the dead were taken to the Todd & Reeves mortuary in Pomona.

The second section of the Trojan special on the Southern Pacific returning with rooters from the University of Southern California-Stanford football game at Palo Alto, Saturday, struck an automobile driven by John Elsie, 48, of Diaz street and Sherman Way, at the Bel-Air crossing, tossing the automobile sixty feet. Elsie was catapulted from the car and landed thirty feet farther on. His skull was fractured, his left arm

EX-"BEST SELLERS" GET DUSTY

City Libraries Reveal Strange Trends in Reading as Many Books, Popular Five Years Ago, Rest Now on Shelves, Scorned by Reading Public

Books once placed in the list of the "one hundred best" once read by thousands and acclaimed by critics as great works of art and destined to live forever—lie now, untouched and unread, on the shelves of the Los Angeles public libraries, scorned by readers for the latest thing in murder, mystery or love story. This was disclosed by Everett R. Perry, city librarian, following a check of the more than 1,100,000 books in the city libraries.

From a 1925 list of the 100 best books, it was found that the following, in great demand five years ago, are out of favor and are rarely read. They are: Page, "Gordon Keith;" Churchill, "The Inside of the Cup;" Wells, "Mr. Brittling Sees It Through;" Ibanez, "Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse;" Little, "Lady of the Decoration;" Bachelier, "Eben Holden;" Parker, "Weavers;" Porter, "Just David;" Harrison, "V V's Eyes;" Ward, "Lady Rose's Daughters;" Nicholson, "Port of Missing Men;" Cholmondely, "Red Pottage."

Among authors whose books now have very little demand, but who five years ago were listed among the 100 best authors, are Ralph Conner, Thomas Dixon, Henry Harland and Maria Thompson Davies.

Other writers whose works now are largely unread are Dickens, Elliott and Bennett. "The Tale of Two Cities," and "David Copperfield," by Dickens, remain moderately popular, but others such as "Nicholas Nickleby," "The Old Curiosity Shop," "Martin Chuzzlewit" and "Pickwick Papers," are no longer in great demand.

The unusual popularity characteristic a few years ago of such books as "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire," by Gibbons; "Education of Henry Adams," by Adams, and "Short History of England," by Greene, exists no more. "Letters," by Page, once read by all who wished to consider themselves well read, is now very rarely taken from the shelves.

Children's adventure story series such as "What Katy Did," by S. C. Woolsey; "Hildegarde," by L. E. Richards, and "Billy Topsail," by Norman Duncan, are no longer of interest to modern youth. Jules Verne, once the most popular author among young readers, is no longer read. "Around the World in Eighty Days," and similar tales by Verne, prove too slow and too much a matter of fact to present-day children.

True adventure stories, biographies of famous men, pioneer tales and stories of achievement and enterprise are in greatest demand among juvenile readers. The chief interest is in stories about aviation.

There is often a revival of interest in some long-forgotten book. This is brought about by news articles, book reviews, motion pictures, radio reviews, visiting authors, newspaper columnists and best book lists.

WORK PROVISION URGED

Chamber to Call Meeting of City and County Heads on Program of Employment

A call for a meeting of city and county officials who will be asked to devise an immediate program of employment through the start of public projects, will be issued today by President Austin of the Chamber of Commerce.

Officials of the chamber said yesterday that letters urging such a meeting will be delivered to the City Council and Board of Supervisors today.

Mr. Austin in his letter will say the city is faced with the problem of providing employment during the next six months not only for Los Angeles citizens, but a large number of transients as well. It will suggest the formation of a "work test" to be given in city parks in return for food and lodging to applicants for relief and for sitting out transient dependents, drifting vagrants and chronic paupers, the establishment of prison work farms.

In his letter he will say:

"The problem of proper and sufficient employment for our citizens during the period of the next six months or more has engaged the earnest attention of our committees and our board of directors for some time past.

"The problem is national, although Los Angeles, because of its mild climate and lacking proper organization in this particular direction, may likely be called upon to assume far more than her proportion of the responsibility.

"We seek the co-operation of the city and county officials in the following program.

"That an immediate conference be called of city and county authorities, executives of the County Welfare Bureau, and of the heads of the street, park and engineering departments of the city and county for the purpose of co-ordinating their efforts in furnishing employment by the application of funds now available in these departments and by the immediate inauguration of other projects sufficient to meet any emergency.

"We approve and urge the plan of registering dependent transients and of providing a work test in the park and by other means in exchange for which they are to receive meals and lodging.

"That the city and county also if necessary establish prison work farms for those able-bodied transients and vagrants who show a disposition to evade the work test instead of furnishing food and comfortable lodgings in the city, and county jails.

"We urge and encourage the support of the District Attorney, the Sheriff and the Police Department in the enforcement of all vagrancy regulations as seem necessary to meet the situation.

"We urge the proper court officials and judges give their fullest co-operation to this movement of sifting out the transient dependents, drifting vagrants and chronic paupers.

"We urge immediate appropriation of the necessary funds to the police departments of both city and county, to the end that these recommendations may be immediately put into effect."

TRADE REVIVAL PLAN ADOPTED

Junior Commerce Chamber to Stir Optimism

Slogan Drive Will Open Against Pessimism

Campaign Will Be Pushed Throughout Nation

As the contribution of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce to assist in the revival of business conditions a national campaign will be launched today to foster the adoption both in intention and in action of the slogan, "Make business better, work more, earn more, buy more," according to an announcement by Durwald Howes of Los Angeles, who is national president of the chamber. The plan has been adopted by the directorate of the national body and will be set in motion simultaneously in every leading city of the country today, he said.

The plan involves the placing of posters bearing the slogan, radio broadcasts in leading cities and luncheon programs at which the subject of better business will be discussed by competent speakers from Junior Chamber organizations. Merchants will be requested to give prominence to the slogan in their advertisements in the daily newspapers and also urged to adopt letter inclosures, display cards, etc.

CAUSE OF SLUMP

Commenting on the plan, Howes gave the following expression on business conditions over the country generally:

"The basis of the present slowing up of business is psychological—optimism has given away to pessimism and has caused the wheels of industry temporarily to mark time. This pessimism is based on no decrease in population, no decrease in national resources, no decrease in the normal consumption of our people, nor of their ability to progress or develop. We must begin at once to think differently.

OPTIMISM NEEDED

"In thought, speech and in action, it is the duty of every man, be he producer or distributor, to encourage instead of discourage. We must look to the future, intelligently and optimistically.

"It is well to bear in mind that whether or not we have prosperity depends on the standard used for comparison. If we compare our present condition with past conditions, then we have prosperity. If, however, we compare what we now have with what we shall have in the future, then we have hardly scratched the surface of prosperity, for much as many think we have developed this country, actually, we have scarcely begun its development."

MAYOR ISSUES PROCLAMATION

By authority vested in me as Mayor of the city of Los Angeles I, John C. Porter, do hereby proclaim to our entire citizenship the fact that Monday, the 27th inst., 1930, marks the opening day of Community Chest week, during which time all patriotic and public-spirited citizens should devote the greatest possible thought and assistance to furthering the cause of our charitable organizations.

It is my sincere hope that every man and woman in Los Angeles will give unselfish and generous consideration to the seriousness of the present situation, and the importance of this year's appeal. Never before in the history of our city have the social and welfare agencies been confronted with such demands for help.

We are all proud of Los Angeles . . . We are happy to know that we are residents of such a magnificent city . . . We like to tell the world that we are citizens of Los Angeles . . . Yet we are confronted with the stern realization that it is our duty and responsibility to give sympathy and care to the unfortunate in our midst.

Only one channel is offered through which we may give effectively to organized charity—the Community Chest. The success of this annual campaign will be a guarantee against the neglect of human suffering and distress locally.

Every resident of this city who has been blessed with the good things of life must shoulder cheerfully and generously his share of the responsibility of caring for the poor. The cries of the helpless and afflicted must not fall upon unsympathetic ears. At the close of the Community Chest campaign we must be in position to announce to the world that Los Angeles is not only a city of many people, but a community of citizens in whose hearts there abides the principles of the Good Samaritan.

Mayor.

support of two such outstanding men.

"The result of the work of this committee, in my opinion, will determine the immediate financial future of the charitable organizations of Los Angeles. There will be bitter distress in our city during the coming winter, and consequently ours is a large responsibility. A time of dire need has come and we must not fail."

PONTIFF'S MASS COLORFUL RITE

Came then the priests, nearly 200 of them, in their black cassocks and white surplices, the deacons and subdeacons in yellow robes and the bishops and archbishops in their r- habiliments.

Forming a bodyguard for the archbishops and preceding them came fifty Knights of Columbus in their uniforms of the Fourth Degree. On each side of the central aisle they stood with raised swords while the prelates passed. Last and perhaps humbiest of all, came Cardinal Hayes. And all marchers faced the high Spanish altar in the center of which, on a cross, was suspended the cosmic symbol of victory through love, the image of Him who chose to be least among men and who today is adored as the greatest of the sons of God. Above His head is printed the word "Inri," meaning Jesus of Nazareth, King of the Jews—but language meant little to those who looked and listened and who seemed to realize that, whether written or intoned in Latin or English, all words within that sacred edifice were dedicated to Him who knows all tongues and understands the spirit of man.

SUBLIME MUSIC

The musical program, preceding and following the consecration of the sacred host, was furnished by one of the best trained choirs in the Southland, directed by J. B. Poulin, with Amedee Tremblay at the organ. Soloists included Mme. Elfrida Wynne, soprano; Mme. Gertrude W. Barry, contralto; Lewis Meehan, tenor, and Glenn A. Levitt, baritone. The program included selections from Gounod and other masters and the singers were accompanied by the organist and by Sylvain Noack, violinist; Ilya Bronson, 'cellist, and Alfred Kaster, harpist.

Father F. X. McCabe of Chicago, formerly vice-president of St. Vincent's College, voiced appreciation of the assistance of the visiting church dignitaries and the help rendered by all those who have cooperated in bringing the church and parish to their present status in the field of religion. He requested that special prayers be said for Rev. Martin J. O'Malley, pastor of St. Vincent's, and for Mary O'Malley, his sister, whose funeral was attended by Father O'Malley last Thursday at Chicago.

"BEAUTY OF HOLINESS"

Mgr. John Cawley, vicar-general of the Los Angeles diocese, announced the receipt by Bishop Cantwell of a message from Pope Pius XI, in which His Holiness granted plenary indulgence, under the usual conditions, (when the members are in a state of grace) to all who attended the solemn mass. Apostolic blessings also were sent by the Pope to Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Doheny, donors of the church edifice.

Extolling all those servants of God of past and present times, whose energy and devotion have been responsible for the building of temples and cathedrals of beauty, Archbishop Hanna said that if God is to be worshiped in the beauty of holiness no edifice can be too beautiful as a house of prayer.

"As the image of God, man should reflect something of the wisdom, power and love of his Father," said Archbishop Hanna. "Man always has recognized the need for sacrifice, and the most sublime sacrifice, that of the Lamb of God on Calvary, is repeated, century after century, at the altars of the church. This sacrifice also is the Divine Presence, food for the soul of man. The Church is the chair and the champion of truth, and man's greatest desire is to know truth and to live it.

"From the altars of the church go forth those who are to become brothers of Christ and joint heirs of Him to the glories prepared for them that love the Father. At these altars the love of men and women shall be blessed and they shall go forth to people the earth with a new and better generation. Here the weak, the poor, the distressed shall find peace for their souls and the weary shall find rest. Los Angeles is becoming one of the greatest marts of the world, and when men tire of things material they may come to this holy house to drink of the water of life. In time these walls may crumble, but the spirit that built them shall endure forever. May the heavens be opened to us, may we hear the songs of the cherubim thundering in our ears, may the veils that cover our eyes be lifted and may we catch the vision transcendent of uncreated, everlasting glory."

Following the mass a dinner and reception was given at the home of Bishop Cantwell, 100 Fremont Place, in honor of Cardinal Hayes and other visiting prelates.

Another large audience was present last night at solemn pontifical vespers at which Bishop Cantwell officiated. The sermon was by Archbishop John J. Glennon of St. Louis. At 8 a.m. today solemn requiem mass for deceased priests and parishioners will be celebrated by Mgr. Cawley and a sermon will be preached by Mgr. John McCarthy.

With a view to developing a breed of sledge dogs which will surpass the present dog used in Arctic regions, experiments will be conducted by Capt. E. E. Goodale of the Byrd South Pole expedition at Ipswich, Mass. "Turnavik," giant huskie, will be the master dog.

ROBBERS OBTAIN $4734 IN RAIDS

Two Women Knocked Down by Ruthless Bandits

Detectives Unable to Find $4500 Gem Gunmen

Victims in Stores Lose to Bold Marauders

Two women were knocked down, a motorist was severely beaten and robbers obtained $4734 in cash and jewelry in a series of week-end robberies, according to reports filed yesterday by police.

Mrs. B. D. Walsh of 1103 Valencia street, was brutally struck down from behind and robbed of her purse containing 2 cents and a string of rosary beads. The attack took place near her home as she was returning from Saturday evening church service. She reported her left hip is injured.

Mrs. Harold Brown was similarly assaulted near her home at 2500 San Fernando Road. She lost her purse containing $13.

Detectives were unsuccessful in their search yesterday for the bandit who, after convincing his victims he was aided by three men "on the outside," robbed the De Carlo Jewelry Company store at 322 1-2 South Broadway of $4500 worth of diamonds. The robbery was perpetrated while scores of pedestrians passed back and forth in front of the shop. The bandit, armed with a pistol, forced E. B. Lewis, clerk, and A. De Carlo, owner, to pour a tray of diamonds he had asked to look at, into a bag. He then threatened that his confederates would kill them if they moved for twenty minutes, and escaped in the Broadway crowd.

Philip J. Raffin and E. Blake were placed in an ice box by two bandits who held them up and robbed them of $93 in a corn-beef shop at 3112 South Western avenue. Soon after the bandits fled the victims released themselves by forcing open the door, which had been barricaded shut with packing cases.

The same bandits are believed to be the ones who held up Sam Saffel and Miss Helen Torbecki in Saffel's delicatessen store at 990 South Western avenue and obtained $50.

As he leaned over the motor of his automobile after it had broken down at Main and Ord streets, John Chopp of 4455 Huntington Drive was struck on the head by one of two Mexican bandits. Dazed, he whirled to give battle to the pair, but, barehanded, was no match for his assailants armed with a heavy wrench and a piece of gas pipe. While one of the pair held him down the other searched his pockets and took $45 in cash and a $50 watch.

L. S. Knouf, grocer, reported a bandit held him up in the Goodyear Market at 1020 East Florence Boulevard and robbed him of $33.

roadway and plunged down a fifty-foot bluff, landing alongside the tracks of the Redondo line of the Pacific Electric. Several minutes later a Los Angeles-bound car came along and the motorman stopped when he saw the wrecked truck. He and the conductor took Gilliland aboard the car and rushed him to the Culver City Community Hospital, where it is said his condition is serious.

Motorcycle Officer Harry Thompson, 33, of 8452 Redpath street, suffered a sprained back and other bruises, when his machine collided with an automobile driven by Miss Nancy Dover of 1242½ Havenhurst Drive. Thompson said he was chasing a speeding car on Crescent Heights avenue when the Dover car wheeled into the Norton-avenue intersection. He was unable to avoid the collision with the car which had stopped and a sideswipe threw him to the pavement. Miss Dover was accompanied by Miss Helen Simmons of 4319 Price street. Both went to Georgia Street Station to inquire for the officer's welfare and to report the accident. They were not detained.

Edward Stewart, 45, of 435 West Fifty-seventh street, baseball umpire, and Rod Murphy, 38, of 609 West Pico street, were injured last evening when the car in which they were riding was struck by another automobile driven by an unidentified man. Stewart suffered a possible skull fracture and was taken to the Georgia-street Receiving Hospital in a serious condition.

The driver of the other car ran from the accident scene and has not been located. The crash came when both drivers were nearing the intersection of Sixteenth and Paloma streets.

the church and the building just south.

"I started across the street and saw the caretaker, C. A. Miller, and his family coming out. A few minutes later police arrived and took charge."

Miller, with his two daughters and wife were asleep in the building at the time, but were uninjured and did not feel the blast in their apartment on the second floor.

Information that two men were seen in a parked car near the church a short time before the explosion is in the hands of the investigators and their arrest is expected.

TOM MIX, HOME AFTER CIRCUS SEASON, MAY RETURN TO TALKING PICTURES

Tom Mix and His Daughter Thomasina

Tom Mix, once Hollywood's highest-salaried and outstanding western actor in films, is back home again for a family reunion at the Mix domicile in Beverly Hills following his tour with a circus. Mix was full of good news yesterday, once more spiking rumors that all is not well with Mrs. Mix and announcing the possibility of his return to talking pictures.

Mix and his daughter, Thomasina, 9 years of age, appeared in his circus act with the Sells-Floto unit of the Ringling Brothers circus, which just ended its tour. She appeared in a horseback and trapeeze act.

"It's sure great to be back home again with members of the family," said Mix with his wife, daughter and a number of in-laws gathered about him. "Everything's all right, I am happy to say. We are all at peace with the world and things couldn't be finer."

Mix is to decide within the next few days just what his future plans will be. He has had a number of offers, he said, to return to the screen which brought him fame as an actor, but he first will go to Mississippi to confer with circus executives regarding a contract for next season.

"It is possible I will make one or two pictures during the winter months and rejoin the circus in the spring," he said. "But nothing has been definitely settled and I will not make any decision until after my return from the conference with the circus people."

Mix brought his picture career to a close in May, 1929, when he was offered a circus contract said to pay him about $15,000 per week.

ONCE-POPULAR BOOKS SHUNNED

tucky, by Elizabeth Roberts, gained great popularity when Harry Carr, writer for The Times, mentioned it in his column. Other books for which a demand has been created by having their names printed in newspaper columns are "The Universe Around Us," by Sir James Jeans, and "Of Human Bondage," by Somerset Maugham.

Publication in The Times of the list of books taken by Byrd on his Antarctic expedition brought about an instant demand for James Stephens's "Crock of Gold" and Hudson's "Green Mansions," both mentioned in the list. Publication of Will Durant's book list for background reading also caused a great demand for the books he listed.

Perhaps the greatest demand for a book revived to popularity was evidenced when Premier MacDonald in a radio address spoke of "The Road Mender," by Margaret F. Barber. An unusually large number of requests for this book are still received by the library.

Other books which lost in popularity for many years and have but recently been demanded again are "Ships That Pass in the Night," by Beatrice Harridan; "The Way of All Flesh," by Butler, and the numerous books which have been adapted for the motion-picture screen.

An unexplainable oddity in the public's request for a particular author's books is illustrated in Thornton Wilder's works. Wilder's "The Bridge of San Luis Rey," which gained world-wide attention last year, is still popular, but "The Woman of Andros," Wilder's latest book, which received just as high a rating and as much publicity, is rarely taken from the shelves. Librarians are unable to account for the partiality.

POPULAR BOOKS

Popular books which have regained their favor and remain widely read are given by Librarian Perry as follows:

Biography: Maurois's "Byron;" Strachey, "Elizabeth and Essex;" Clemenceau, "Grandeur and Misery of Victory;" Dakin, "Mrs. Eddy;" Rolland, "Beethoven the Creator;" Taylor, "Leonardo, the Florentine;" Sparkes, "Hetty Green."

Religion and philosophy: Dimnet, "Art of Thinking;" Durant, "Mansions of Philosophy;" Russell, "Marriage and Morals;" Mencken, "Treatise on the Gods."

Science: Millikan, "Science and the New Civilization;" Jeans, "The Universe Around Us;" Menninger, "The Human Mind;" Eddington, "Nature of the Physical World."

Education: Mearns, "Creative Power;" Powys, "Meaning of Culture."

Travel: Haliburton, "New Worlds to Conquer;" Mayo, "Mother India;" Flandrau, "Then I Saw the Congo."

Fiction: Remarque, "All Quiet on the Western Front;" Roberts, "The Great Meadow;" Tomlinson, "All Our Yesterdays;" Peterkin, "Scarlet Sister Mary;" La Farge, "Laughing Boy;" Ferber, "Cimarron."

Wadsworth, superintendent of mail service, at Kansas City. Amelia Earhart, who also was aboard when the plane left the East, disembarked in the Middle West.

A tumultuous welcome was accorded the planes at the Alhambra landing. Postmaster O'Brien of Los Angeles and John C. Austin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, heads and a huge crowd were present. Col. Parker and his co-pilot brought the ship from Albuquerque, N. M.

The mail plane carried 948 pounds of mail. The passenger ship was piloted by Lemar Nelson and O. M. Gove and carried eight passengers.

"Check and Double Check"

Sue Carol, RKO star featured in Amos 'n Andy's new picture, joins the thousands of Ben-Hur enthusiasts who have "checked and double checked" on coffee.

Costly scientific research has proved that coffee properly prepared is healthfully stimulating and beneficial. There is just one way to PROPERLY PREPARE coffee and that is by the drip (filtration) method. This method filters out the harmful substances always present in ALL coffee—without losing any of the full-bodied flavor in the beverage.

Ben-Hur Drip Coffee is the ORIGINAL and ONLY coffee that is specially selected—blended—roasted and steel cut to the exact point of fineness required for this drip method of making!

Personality is an overworked word, but it's the salesman who makes people like him who succeeds. Why should it be any different with advertising?

THE GOOD HUMORIST, a little house organ we print for the Good Humor Ice Cream Company, is a sales stimulant that has a kick to it. The jokes are really funny and the advertising is written in an interesting "newsy" style. It is "good will," "reminder" and "sales-producing" advertising all in one.

Perhaps you might profitably use well planned direct advertising in your business. We don't claim to know it all—that is, not quite all—but we're always glad to give you the benefit of our experience. Just phone TRinity 5631. No obligation, of course.

Mimic of Signs Points to Espionage Fears

Sleep Resident Reads 'Em and Gets Peeved

Prosecutor to Look Up Animus Today

Read 'Em and Weep" might describe the situation out on Weepah Way, sometimes termed Utica Way, Laurel Canyon, in explanation of a row of mysterious signs which recently have blossomed on fifteen poles.

"Slanderers Must Stop," "Rid Our Community of Trouble-Makers," "Who Takes Care of the 'Sparrows' While Someone Else 'Watches Us,'" "Tar and Feather 'em in Texas for Slander," and many others.

As a result of the appearance of the signs Mrs. R. Hankins, who resides in what is known as The White House on top of the hill reached by Weepah Way, complained to the police that the signs are directed against her.

Today the office of the City Prosecutor at 10 a.m. tomorrow the matter will be discussed and both sides of the case gone into. Charles A. Hall, one of the neighbors, has been asked to appear at the prosecutor's office at that time and he has said to be there, he said yesterday. He intimated that other residents of the community also would appear and discuss things in general.

Some of the signs which appeared on the houses covered the sides of the building in length and were from four to six feet high. Others were smaller but all had a certain pep and vigor.

Two Face Court as Smugglers

Accused of smuggling alien Chinese into this country from Mexico, Frank Welch, 31 years of age, and Ralph Williams, 22, are to be arraigned today before United States District Judge Hazel. Chan Le-[illegible] of Los Angeles, who pleaded guilty to a similar charge, is accused of engaging the young men to bring the Chinese across the border near Mexicali.

Engine trouble resulted in the arrest of the two in Riverside county.

Tax Collector Ready Today to Take Your Cash

Beginning today at 9 a.m., the office of Tax Collector Welch on the third floor of the Hall of Justice will be open for collection of the first installment of taxes for the fiscal year 1930-31.

First installments include taxes on all personal property secured by real property and one-half of all real property taxes. They become delinquent if not paid by 5 p.m. on December 5, at which time a penalty of 10 per cent is added.

Total taxes to be collected this year are estimated at approximately $126,000,000, about 60 per cent of which will be collected as first installments.

The second installment becomes due on January 20, 1931, and delinquent if unpaid by April 20, 1931.

Collections will be received at the Tax Collector's office between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m., with the exception of Saturday, when the office closes at noon.

Blast-Injury Damage Asked

Explosion of natural gas in a building at the Grand Central Airport, February 18, last, led to a $100,000 damage suit on file yesterday by A. L. Mumford, hurt in the explosion, against eight of his fellow-workmen he asserts were responsible for his injuries.

Defendants named are Ralph Douglas, Val Walters, John Swanson, C. Byers, Cecil Sears, Floyd Bowman William Pierson and Fred A. Ziegler.

PLEAS IN ROMOLA CASE WILL BE OFFERED TODAY

Pleas of thirty persons formerly associated with Romola, Inc., a real-estate concern, will be heard today by United States District Judge James. Alexander Hursh, former president of the company, and twenty-nine others are charged with using the mails to defraud by misrepresenting the value of lands.

The company is said to have carried on a nation-wide campaign, with offices in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Phoenix and eastern cities. The misrepresentations are said to have related to statements made regarding the development of fig and grape lands in Maricopa county, Arizona, and Riverside county, California.

ROMOLA HOLDERS AGREE TO YOUNGWORTH PROPOSAL

HEMET, Oct. 26. (Exclusive)—A group of contract holders of the Romola Corporation, numbering 225 persons, agreed yesterday to the plan of Leo V. Youngworth, receiver of the company, which would continue the farm operations and the erection of a cannery for preserving figs.

Representatives of Mr. Youngworth explained that if the contract holders would agree to continue their payments, the farms could be operated and the debt eventually paid and that unless this were done the property would revert to the creditors.

Other regional meetings will be held in Southern California when an attempt will be made to obtain the indorsement of the remainder of the 2700 contract holders, it was announced.

MACREADY'S FAST PLANE DEDICATED

Thousands Get Close-up of Craft Groomed for Part in Good-will Trip

Almost 10,000 persons were accorded a chance to get close-ups of thirty-five different types of airplanes at Grand Central Air Terminal yesterday afternoon during the preview of the second annual California good-will air tour, scheduled to start Wednesday at 8:15 a.m. from United Airport.

As a highlight of the inspection program Leoti Zborowsky, wife of a Russian Count, christened the new Lockheed-Vega executive monoplane delivered to Capt. John A. Macready, formerly the United States Air Corps' outstanding test pilot and now head of the aviation department of the Shell Oil Company. The new craft has a top speed of 186 miles an hour and carries seven persons. It is powered by a 450-horsepower Wasp motor.

Ted Weems and his Hotel Roosevelt Orchestra entertained with musical numbers on the program.

Following the christening of Capt. Macready's ship he was the honor guest at a buffet lunch and reception in the Flying Club of California, at the airport.

The California tour, sponsored by the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, is expected to be made up of sixty planes and its five-day itinerary calls for stops at the major cities throughout the State.

New Air Line Opens Office

Offices of the American Airways, Inc., new Los Angeles-Atlanta airline, will open today at 1301 Security Title Insurance Building.

According to Victor F. Grima general traffic manager, this will be the home office of the western division. Ike Sewell will be divisional traffic manager in charge of passengers, and Ned Kimbrough in charge of mail.

Today's Bible Text

Blessed is the man that endureth temptation: for when he is tried, he shall receive the crown of life, which the Lord hath promised to them that love him.—Jas. 1:12.

RISE AND FALL

There was a "Rise and Fall of the Roman Empire," and now we have the rise and fall of miniature golf. Thus does history ever manage to repeat itself.

PAY-AS-YOU-ENTER

After meditating upon the expense accounts of various candidates for office this fall, we are impressed that the pay-as-you-enter idea has been extended to politics. We feel greatly bothered about them getting their money back.

FLASH

Marshall Duffield, flash quarterback of the Trojan football team, has been chosen by the Rhodes scholarship committee of his alma mater. Evidently all this talk about football cutting in on studies is the bunk.

FUR-THER

It may be further stated that Los Angeles has also become one of the greatest fur-producing centers of the hemisphere. Our rabbits furnish more seal, squirrel, fox, beaver and skunk skins than other more reputed sections. This is a great country.

WINTER WEATHER

A San Diego scientist predicts a dry winter. The temperature of the sea water is his cue. But next day a Lompoc Celestial, Gin Chow, also a weather prophet of note, predicts plenty of rain. Knowing that it will be either wet or dry, we may prepare for it accordingly.

SENSIBLE SHERIFF

A candidate for sheriff refuses a medal for distinguished service during the war. He feels it would be making political capital out of his war record. Gosh! Let's elect him! However, his candidacy is confined to Hackensack, N. J.

WHERE THE NUTS COME FROM

As nearly as can be guessed the Germans and Italians in Southern Brazil are out of tune with the Portuguese in the north. This is material enough for a revolution, especially at a time when the coffee and rubber markets are gone to smash. Nothing much to do but quarrel and fight.

PAY CHECK AND DOUBLE CHECK

Chicago is again payless. October finds her policemen and firemen without funds. These city employees are minus a million and a half with but ten thousand in the treasury. Sometime the scratching of the wolf at that door may awaken somebody! And we have a few who want the regime in Los Angeles. Some folks have been selling more than wheat short in the Windy City.

NEWS ODDITIES

This isn't such a humdrum, commonplace old world after all.

A young man in Richmond, Va., desiring to make his girl a birthday present, gave her a fire extinguisher he had stolen from a church. Perhaps she needed it to suppress the flaming youth of her acquaintance.

Gerald Peak of Newberry, Mich., recently bit a police dog that bowled him over and the Associated Press flashed the information all over the country. There is an old saying in newspaper shops that if a dog bites a man it isn't news, but if a man bites a dog it's a first-page item.

In Sparta, another Michigan town, where wheat is selling for 67 cents a bushel and a hair cut is valued at 40 cents, barbers are accepting a bushel of wheat in payment for head trimming and giving 27 cents change. It is the only kind of farm relief yet devised which seems to work.

For the second time this year a Chicago man's house was struck by an automobile, hurling two girls out of bed, and injuring them.

A Minneapolis judge would not allow the $75 damages sued for a girl whose boy friend hugged her so hard that he broke two of her ribs, but judgment was given for a $3 doctor's bill. "A good squeeze like that is worth $72," remarked his honor.

All of which goes to prove that for novel entertainment blase people should read the daily news.

THE ORATORICAL CONTEST

The International Oratorical Contest, conducted in Washington Saturday night, indicated anew the great value of this annual world-wide competition to the good understanding and peace of the earth. Representatives, directly, of eight nations, and indirectly of twenty-two, comprising practically the whole of Europe and America, competed in the contest, but they were more than that; they were representatives of the youth of the world. Each brought his contribution to a great symposium and each will carry back to his home land the thought that no one man, no one nation, no one epoch and no one geographical division is entitled to a monopoly of the credit for the world's progress, but that each has made contributions of substantial value to the cause of constitutional government.

The general distribution of that idea throughout the world will be a powerful force for peace, as the distribution of the laurels among the orators in the series of contests so far has been an illustration of it. This year's contest was won by Edmund Gullion of Washington, D. C., representing the United States. In previous years France has had a winner, Mexico a winner, Canada a winner and the United States a winner.

This distribution of honors is fortuitous in that it indicates something of the growth and spread throughout the world of the central theme of all the local, national and international contests—the theme of popular, representative government. It is a theme upon which the progressive nations of the earth can and ultimately will meet upon a common basis of mutual understanding, not through the labored efforts of diplomacy but through the inculcation of its ideals in the minds of the peoples. By the agency of the oratorical contest those ideals have become firmly ingrained in more than 20,000,000 youthful minds and, indirectly, in the minds of many millions more of the families, teachers and friends of its participants. Competitors in the earlier contests have already carried those imbued ideals out into the world of practical citizenship. As with the 6,000,000 young people who competed this year, each successive contest brings a new army of recruits for this campaign for international understanding.

In his address to the great crowd in Constitutional Hall at Washington Saturday night President Hoover laid stress upon this in his tribute to the contests as "a great inspiration not only to millions of our high school students but to millions of our fellow-citizens. They have advanced the knowledge and understanding of government, of history, of social and political questions . . . building mutual understanding of these questions between the youth of our different nations."

The League of Nations, the Kellogg Pact, the World Court, the Pan-American Union and other instrumentalities for the development of peaceful international relations depend for their successful functioning upon the assumption that there is substantial equality between nations, whether those nations are compact racial groups, as a few are, or whether they are cosmopolitan, as most are to a greater or less degree. To the extent that this equality is conceded by each to all, and by all to each, are friendly and mutually respectful relations between nations made possible.

And if this feeling that each has its rights, not to be infringed, is to be fostered and furthered in its development, it must be done through the educational systems; at least, that is the simplest and easiest way in which to inculcate it. The fate of the world in the future is being decided, not at the council tables at Geneva or before the bar at The Hague, but in the schoolrooms. Who can doubt that these educational oratorical contests, which culminate each year in the International Contest, just decided, and in which millions of students take part, are a powerful factor in shaping the world's destiny? The international contacts which they provide at their climax are not so important as the fact that vast numbers of growing minds are each year bent in the same general direction.

In this year's contest the eight orations, in their variety, showed the breadth of the general topic. That of Edmund Gullion, the American contestant, was on John Marshall and on Federal supremacy; the English entrant, Jack Mallard, German, spoke on David Lloyd George; from Chile, and representing, in general, the South American continent, came Clemente Perez-Zanartu, to contrast Bolivar and San Martin, Ibero-American liberators; "What does History Mean to the Young Generation?" was the subject of Heinz Bockhacker of Germany; Paul Leduc of Canada spoke on "Canada and International Peace," those three powerful words, Liberty, Equality, Fraternity, were explained for France by Andre P. J. Fioux; "Nationalism and its New Ideology" was the topic of Javier Vivanco, R., of Mexico, and William Hayes of the Irish Free State, with the topic "Ireland," mentioned some of that commonwealth's outstanding contributions to the world.

Different as their topics were, as a whole the orations indicated a trend of world thought toward a third phase of the world's development, when the reign of law as expressed in constitutional government of, for and by the people will be universal. In the first phase, that of savagery, every man had such rights as he could conquer and retain; in the second, that of nationalism, there was organization for mutual defense of individual rights, in the third there is organization for mutual international defense of national rights. This third phase will consider war as much an anachronism as present civilization considers the duel.

And the international oratorical contests are speeding the day.

THIS IS NAVY DAY

How much of our civic security, of our extensive foreign trade, of our prestige on the seven seas, of our present world position, of the respect accorded us by other nations we owe to that first line guardian of our coasts, the United States Navy! Go through the pages of our history, read again the records of our bulldogs of the ocean, who have never fired a shot in an unjust quarrel and never been defeated in a just one, yesterday the defenders of a nation's liberty, today guardians of world peace, and take off your hats to the officers and crews of Uncle Sam's warships.

For this is Navy Day. On this one day in the year the American people are invited to a better understanding of their sea defense, of the activities of their Navy, its needs, its purposes, its power to protect Americans abroad and keep the ocean lanes open for friendship between our own and all other peoples.

Those who, like the residents of Los Angeles, live in seacoast cities can appreciate better, perhaps, the significance of Navy Day than those whose lot is cast in inland sections of mid-continental States.

The life of the Navy is to a large extent part of the civic life of California's seaboard from San Francisco to San Diego. We have in a way lived intimately with its officers and men. The bluejacket is a familiar sight on Los Angeles streets. Captains, rear-admirals, naval officers have entered largely into our social circles, have been welcome speakers at public banquets and dedications, and added grace and color to the festivities, as well as to the formal ceremonials of our citizens in general.

We may say, and say with pride, that Los Angeles knows its Navy. Today ships of the great fleet standing off Los Angeles Harbor are open to all visitors who wish to see for themselves the inner workings of these floating fortresses. Many Los Angeles citizens will take advantage of the occasion. And their only regret will be that others less fortunately situated are unable to share in this privilege.

NO CONSTITUTIONAL CONVENTION

Though the Legislature has provided for the appointment of an expert commission to study the constitutional needs of California and report to the 1931 Legislature with a draft of a model constitution, the voters are being asked in Proposition 23 on the November ballot to provide for calling a constitutional convention. It would be well to wait till the experts have had their say before taking so important a question out of their hands.

California has gotten along since 1879 with her present organic law, amended till it bears faint resemblance to the original document, and can do with it a while longer. It must be admitted that the present constitution is a good deal of a patchwork of more or less incongruous parts, but it is working, and on the whole satisfactorily.

Constitutional conventions seldom bring forth the fine fruit their proponents expect. An outstanding example was that of New York just before the war when a great convention of all the best minds in the State drew up a document containing rather more words than an encyclopedia. Before election day Elihu Root and Alton B. Parker, acknowledged to be the State's best lawyers, were in violent dispute as to the meaning of some of the most important sections. Both had been delegates to the convention. The voters decided that if the State's best lawyers could not agree on the effect of the proposed constitution they had best not take a chance with it and all the work went for nothing.

There is no reason to believe a constitutional convention, called here in the manner planned, would do any better. It would be advisable to postpone action, at any rate, until the Legislature's commission has reported. There is something to be said, too, for changing the constitution one step at a time instead of all at once, as less disturbing to the legal structure. This enables the Supreme Court to keep reasonably even with its work of interpretation.

Vote "No" on Proposition 23.

MORE FLYERS

Amelia Earhart reports that the New York, Philadelphia and Washington airlines are now carrying an average of 200 passengers a day and the service is being regularly extended. Politicians and business men find it handy to be able to flit and flutter back and forth every day.

WILL DO!

By James J. Montague

In China the dance has been wholly unknown
Since the dark immemorial ages;
'Neath the jessamine bowers no saxophones moan,
No leather-lunged trombonist rages.
Since the time when the kingdom was known as Cathay,
And the folk of both sexes wore wrappers,
There was never a wicked and wild cabaret
To lure the Mongolian flappers.
They were sweetly content, without having their flings,
For they never had heard of such terrible things.

Quite happy and carefree was little Wun Tu,
Devoted, and quite clinging-viny,
Though she could not hop 'round as the Western girls do,
For her little pink feet were too tiny.
She sat in pajamas of silken brocade
In a nook where no male could behold her
Till a lover turned up and a bargain was made
And her parents or guardians sold her.
The rest of her days she might live as a wife
And doubtless be wholly contented with life.

But at last she has learned of the night club's romance,
As she sits in her home, closely hidden,
And pathetically hungers to step out and dance
For she knows that dance is forbidden.
And soon she will flit from the little home nest,
Her trim little ankles exhibited,
As she moves with an eager and feminine zest
Through the measures she knows are prohibited.
For the will of a woman has little Wun Tu
And she must do the things she is told she can't do.

LEE SIDE O' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

HURRY out to Griffith Park and you can see fall colors—sycamores and numerous other trees which have colored just as they do "back east" in the fall. You don't have to get off Los Feliz Boulevard to see one grove of trees which have changed from green to gold, and if you go up into that glen made beautiful by Woodwardia ferns, the entrance to which is at the head of Western avenue, those noble sycamores overhanging the creek will give you a memory full of crimson and gold.

Surprise to Him

I never dreamed I was so rich
(And growing richer fast, I fear)
Until my tax bill came to prove
I'm so much wealthier than last year.

Short-Cut Paths

Every suburbanite knows that when a corner lot is vacant a short-cut path soon will appear across it, if it is on the level of the adjoining streets. You may never use those short-cuts and most of the people you know may habitually go to the corner and turn where the sidewalk turns, but the short-cut paths suddenly appear and soon they become main lines of travel.

A man given to speculations and theories visited Ourville the other day and noticed those short-cut paths on many corners. "Why is it?" he inquired, "that those paths are so remarkably straight? If they had been placed there by surveyors they would hardly follow straighter lines, except when some topographical obstruction interferes, when they curve in the most logical way."

We couldn't help him with an explanation, so finally he figured it out for himself.

"The people who are lazy enough to make those short-cut paths," he concluded, "are simply too lazy to waste one unnecessary step, so they naturally choose the most direct and undeviating course."

Color Lines in Pasadena

We knew Pasadena hostesses were fussy about color schemes for dinners and such, but didn't realize how fussy till Mrs. J. C. W. sent us this clipping from a Pasadena market's announcement:

Colored hens, lb., 42c.
White hens, lb., 33c.

Due for Promotion

You can't have an army without casualties. In a family as big as ours accidents will happen, so last winter our faithful help spend took the Red Cross first-aid course. This summer she had to test her skill on everything from an automobile accident to stubbed toes, and at one time all seven of us were bandaged for various injuries. As she was bandaging Charles, our 8-year-old, who recently has been promoted in school, he exclaimed:

"Mother, you've had so much practice since you took first aid that you ought to be able to take second aid now."

"First in War, First in Peace," Etc.

These Red Cross first-aid courses are a mighty fine thing, and here where any of us are likely to be smashed up in automobile accidents any day everybody ought to take a course. They are given free in any neighborhood or community which evinces sufficient interest, and we know of several cases in which they have resulted in the saving of life. Four-fifths of us are likely to do just the wrong thing in case of an accident or a near-drowning. There are times when just the way in which a person knocked unconscious in an automobile smash is picked up or moved may mean life or death. There are times when those who wish to help rush in and lift up the head of a shocked person whose head should not be lifted at all. And there are times when ability to produce artificial respiration will save a life—and any schoolboy who knows how can do it.

This teaching of first aid is only one of many great services the Red Cross renders. It does not have to wait for an act of Congress before it can go to the aid of sufferers from flood, storm or accident. It isn't hampered by red tape, and can do things when they have to be done and trust the public to raise the needed funds later.

Between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving the Red Cross puts on its annual drive for members. It costs only $1 a year to belong to it, and Southern California is one of the banner districts. In our suburb there are more members of the Red Cross than there are families, or an average of more than one member to the family. It ought to be that way everywhere, for the Red Cross is always first on the ground where help is needed.

THE WASHINGTON WASH

BY STRICKLAND GILLILAN

The other day, passing through Alexandria, that thriving suburb of Washington (where George in person used to attend church but not to the exclusion of other manly sports and activities,) I was reminded of a Coolidge story—one of the best authenticated of the stock lot:

Calvin the Terse was one Monday morning returning on the since-spurned-by-Hoover Mayflower, from a silent buttermilk week-end debauch down the raging Chesapeake. As he was walking along the deck accompanied by the White House kennels, he was accosted by Homer Dodge. Homer, by the way, is the pride of "Buddy" (Fred) Haskins's interrogation brainery. What Homer hasn't at his tongue's tip in the way of information, isn't worth reading the Library of Congress through for.

"Mister President," said Homer, pushing back his heavy mustache so as to be clearly heard, "it might interest you to know that once upon a time George Washington warned the people of Alexandria that if they did not bestir themselves and exhibit more enterprise, New York might surpass their town as a seaport."

Turning to gaze thoughtfully and long at the passing house-roofs and chimney tops of the late Washington's home town, Mr. Coolidge remained in status quo (which means silent,) for a good long minute or two. He might have been counting the houses.

Then, as he rejoined the dogs and resumed his stroll, he said solemnly:

"Sound prediction."

Sir Ronald Lindsay, successor to Sir Asthma Howard this name, you know, is Esme, but asthma is always good for a wheeze,) has been visiting his wife at their Long Island summer home, and has returned to Washington. Welcome home, Ron! We like that new house you're building.

There was not even a threat of a let-up in Washington's three-months' drought until about 5000 Disciple preachers coagulated here and began presenting the merits of baptism by immersion. Then nature chuckled thunderously and sprinkled a lot of them right out in public—and very lightly at that.

* * *

I am a little bothered about Ruth Bryan Owen. She had been proving herself so much smarter a man than her saintly, illustrious but vagaristic father had ever been that I had set a mark for her that was an altitude record for women in politics and statesmanship. Now she is said to be coming out with a plan for making a place in the Cabinet for some sort of glorified truant officer to look after our already-too-much-featured kids. Half the amount of money such an office would cost the country could be used to tremendous advantage and with telling effect in propagandizing this country with the cold facts about the horrible status of children over in Burton Wheeler's and Smith Brookhart's beloved red Russia. To be sure, some of our American children have to work almost half as hard as did their parents who by that means acquired the momentum necessary to get rich later in life and protect their offspring from everything that gives people good sense. Of course, if Ruth's idea is to try to show parents how to be such in every sense of the word, it would be more nearly worth considering. Many parents put off telling their children certain things, until the child is sorely puzzled over "What and how shall I tell my parents?" Ruth had far better be trying to get an appropriation for building a 500-foot solid porphyry seawall between the Windward Islands and Florida's seacoast, so as to keep the rest of my flounder-infested mortgages from salt-water liquidation.

But if they do get a cabinet officer to look after the offspring, the first toter of the portfolio should be a spinster or a bachelor—they are the only ones on earth who have any really definite ideas about how to bring up and care for children. And special care should be taken to prevent parents dropping children on their heads so as to make them into future movie stars.

When you hear a fellow stomachaching about how terribly governmental affairs are going, ask him if he has voted in the last few elections. If he has, you can have a little bit of patience with him. If not, tell him he has not the slightest right to object to anything done in Washington or his State's capital. He isn't a citizen if he doesn't vote.

The fellow who goes around with some sort of chip on his shoulder, looking to be offended about his religion or something else has either a shortage of religion or a dearth of intelligence; in some instances, both. Charity is not only kind, it "suffereth long." Going off half-cocked over imaginary offenses—running to meet an injury—isn't suffering long, by any means.

There is one thing above all others that the wiser and farther-seeing Democrats dread just now—success in their effort to acquire control of Congress. To obtain a majority in one branch at present would be to play a dirty joke on themselves, and to win in both would be a debacle. They would thus rob themselves of their favorite occupation—finding fault with things after they are done, and pointing their constituency with scorn to the record of the dominant party. They would have to unscrew the inscrutable. The buck would have been passed, the shoe transferred to the other foot. The wiser Democrats know that the present situation is one that could not have been avoided and that cannot be removed by any presto change abracadabra incantations or tom-tom thumping. It is the easiest situation in the world to michelson about, and the hardest one either to have prevented or to cure. No longer would a dominant Democratic party be able to tell what they "would do if" they were in power—they would have to show what they actually can do, which is something decidedly else again. Partisan constituents would stand embarrassingly rubbing their hands with embarrassing looks of expectation, "Fine! Now everything will be all right. Do your miracle!"

No, they ought not to want success. Their best bet is to retain a wise-cracking minority, though it is generally believed they may have success wished on them. However, there never before was an election impending whose outcome had the political weisenheimers picking at the coverlets as this one has.

I still say Al Smith—the lucky stiff—won the last election.

They are having, and will have for some time, difficulty in securing the right actors to impersonate the Parson Weems-libeled sire of his country in the historic film under contemplation and preparation for the world's biggest pageant, in 1932. To begin with, if they try to find a modern boy of 10 or 12 years to fit the Weems ideal of inability to prevaricate, they will have to secure one from a deaf mute institution. I do not know whether they will stress the cherry tree episode, but it will be easier to find willing juvenile hatchet soloists than incurable truth addicts. And even then the scene will have to be explained to some of the historically ignorant, so that they won't think it is Carrie Nation dressed up as a Boy Scout bent on destroying the source of cherry bounce. Also, there will be great difficulty finding men to represent George during days of real greatness. But when it comes to finding one to impersonate him as a dead one, the difficulty will be to choose from the vast number of qualified entrants among our present-day statesmen.

LETTERS TO The Times

Our California Imperialist

ONTARIO, Oct. 19.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In your issue of the 19th I read a letter regarding the experiences of three war veterans who were refused camping privileges on the Hearst ranch. Some few months ago myself and family were spending a vacation at Morro Bay and having heard about the wonderful $1,000,000 castle owned by William Randolph Hearst at San Simeon, about twenty miles distant from Morro, we thought we would take a trip there and look at it. On arrival at San Simeon, however, we were surprised to read a sign at the entrance to the road leading to the estate, some two miles distant, which stated that no passes were issued and "do not ask for them." There was also, we noticed, a wooden bar or traffic gate that could be pulled across the road to prevent any cars passing through.

We felt just like W. R. must have felt when the French told him, "No passport allowed. Please do not ask for one" and reluctantly turned around. If this is not imperialism what is it? Why, even in imperialistic England one can get a permit to go over the estates of lords and dukes by asking for one. Democracy, where art thou? Certainly not in the vicinity of San Simeon.

Community Chest Is Open

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 21.—[To the Editor of The Times:] I would very much like to help the out-of-work people. I am only a maid and get $85 a month, but I would be willing to pay 10 per cent of all my wages each month. Do you think it possible to tax everyone that is earning 10 per cent of their wages? Also to tax the one who hires? Everyone should be willing to help those who can't get work. Christmas so near and nothing in sight. My little bit wouldn't do much good, but if everybody would help it would do a great deal of good. L. I. P.

Reminiscent Error

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 23.—[To the Editor of The Times:] In a published interview in The Times of the 19th inst. Mr. Eaton is made to say that a cannon ball had been fired into the adobe walls of the old jail on New High street, and that the missile was hurled by Fremont. It is strange that everything connected with the capture of Los Angeles is credited to the poser, Fremont. He had nothing to do with the capture of the pueblo, and there was not a cannon ed at the time, or even a shot from a musket. On the tenth f January, 1847, according to history, Commodore Stockton and Gen. Kearny marched into the pueblo with their united forces and took peaceful possession of the town. There was no resistance. On the evening of the 10th of January Fremont with his company arrived at San Fernando, ten miles away. So, they were not within firing distance, even had there been any firing. And so much for history. The Spartan, arrived on the field of Marathon the day after the battle.

RIPPLING RHYMES by Walt Mason

THE INSURGENT HUSBAND

The husband's place is in the home, his duty is quite clear, but he has rankling in his dome strange dreams of a career. He is not satisfied to wear his apron clean and gray, it does not please him to prepare the three meals every day. He does not like to sweep and dust and keep the curtains clean, he views his labors with disgust and thinks them low and mean. With frowning brow he makes the bed and sweeps the kitchen floor, and sees the cat and kittens fed outside the cellar door. So when the wife comes home at night from labors in the mart, her husband's face is such a sight it nearly breaks her heart. It is a mask of discontent, not cheery, kind and coy; he has a grouch and he seems bent on killing all her joy. Thus foolish husbands often feel they are downtrodden guys, when they are frying pork or veal, or making pumpkin pies. And wives come home distraught and tired from their commercial game and miss the peace they have desired, which surely is a shame. They fain would see their husbands come to greet them at the gate, nor look indignant, cold or glum, as though consumed by hate. Bread-winning is a grievous task, and when the day is done the hardworked wives would gladly bask in love that's fairly won. But husbands have a vain desire for life in larger phase; they'd sing soprano in a choir, or star in uplift plays. They are not satisfied to do the work that suits them best, to cook the goulash and the stew, and swat the household pest. And so our home life fades away, it is not what it was; and we can't go so far astray when we would learn the cause.

FUTURE OF COUNTRY SEEN TO DEPEND UPON CHURCH

Dr. John McDowell Pleads for Faith by Which to Work Moral Regeneration in America

"The church, more than any other institution, holds in her keeping the future of our country," said Dr. John McDowell of New York City speaking yesterday as a guest of the Immanuel Presbyterian Church. Dr. McDowell is secretary of the board of national missions of the Presbyterian Church. He is in Los Angeles on a tour of the Pacific Coast.

"The Church of Christ is still the chief instrument by which the moral regeneration of the nation is to be effected," Dr. McDowell said, "and no nation ever needed more than ours the high inspiration and guidance of a compelling faith. For such a faith the nation has a right to look to the church. To her has been intrusted for all mankind the noblest inheritance of our race, the wealth of divine love and grace, of human faith and hope and devotion, of saintly memory and heroic achievement, and only as the church makes this inheritance the possession of all in the land is she true to her divine commission. The new age needs the church. The power that makes man wise enough to rule and good enough to be trusted is in her keeping. Her sacred charge is to declare the wealth of the Christ nature and to impart it; to proclaim ideals for humanity; to purge life of the unrighteousness that rends and slays and to base the world order on the righteousness of God. The church, more than any other institution, holds in her keeping the future of our country. If she is to be the moral guide the nation needs now, she must realize that her strength does not lie in political policies, or economic programs, or ceremonial pomp, or material resources, but in the truth she teaches and the life she communicates and the character she forms.

"Never did larger responsibilities fall on the Church of Christ than today. She has apprehended and proclaimed the will of God for the individual—wistfully the wise-hearted look to her to apprehend and proclaim the will of God for all the realms of human interest and human activities. The Church of Christ is still the chief instrument by which the moral regeneration of the nation is to be effected. The touch that is to renew the hopes of men and again make life healthy and happy is the touch of the Church of Christ. It is the Church as the guide and inspiration of the nation that is most needed today. As the body of Christ her work is to save souls, to teach truth and to inspire duty and discipline. This is the most radical work possible. It is deeper than politics for it deals with the men who make and administer and obey the laws. It is more fundamental than economics, for it touches the sources and ends of wealth, the men who create and distribute, and who accumulate and apply it. It is more determinative than society for it judges the social units, limits, yet guards their rights and tries their conventions. The church today must be faithful to her whole mission if she is to bear worthily the name of Christ."

CHRIST CALLED IDEAL OF HERO WORSHIPERS

Analysing the psychology of hero worship and stating that the average person admires a conqueror mainly because he identifies himself with the victor and his conquests, Dr. Willsie Martin, in his sermon at Wilshire Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday pointed to eJsus as history's supreme hero and declared that those who follow Him in the spirit of truth and love shall become victors over all things, including even death. Discussing "The Secret of Victorious Living," Dr. Martin spoke in part as follows:

"Each of us has his Hall of Fame in which his great are honored. The reason we are hero worshipers is that our hero represents the kind of life we long to lead. He is valorous, he achieves gloriously. Therefore, we identify ourselves with him and, in feeling and sentiment, we tread the road of the victor. In imagination, we share the hero's struggles and his laurels.

SUCCESS DESIRE COMMON

"The great desire common to us all is the desire to live victoriously. We long to be brave, to be adequate, successful. We strive for self and place that we may have the resources and powers by which to achieve. We crave talents, abilities, power that we may live a victorious life. We want to be known, loved, appreciated, acclaimed. We covet by day and night the wreath of victory. But over against this desire, passion, longing, what do we find? We find ourselves limited, handicapped, baffled. We are like folks who are eager to go somewhere but are caught in a maze. Circumstances chain us to obscurity. The eagle spirit finds itself walled in by ill health, poverty, obligations to others. We feel the throb of potential genius—talent, leadership—but the doors are closed and there is no way out except the back gate of mediocrity. The battles that might have given us a chance to be heroes find us unprepared, disorganized. Seeking the heights, we weary ourselves, climbing canyons that end at sheer precipices.

"Many times when we have won the thing we have struggled for, we find that the golden apples of allurement have turned to ashes on possession. In the midst of wealth and place and honors, we are pitifully aware of the emptiness and futility of it all. The gray wolves of fear and worry hang on our flank. When the fields are golden with fruits and glory, the frost of subtle defeatism causes us to shiver with the thought that the winter of life is at hand.

"We find we can buy railroads, but we cannot purchase worth for our sons, happiness for our daughters or health for our wives. As the days go by, in your mind you hear the footfalls of decrepitude. You have beaten all opponents on the gridiron, the tented field, the arena of industry, but on the horizon is one you will not foil. Men call him Death.

SECRET IN CHRIST

"In the face of all this, I dare to proclaim that it is possible to live victoriously. The secret of victorious living is Christ. First of all He furnishes us, through His teachings, the principles for such a life. Quickly stated, they are in part: Trust God, bank on Him, rest on Him. Ask—see—dare. Let your ambitions and plans come into harmony with the Divine. Be prepared to lose your life. Serve, give—love. Set your heart on eternal values. Have your citizenship in that eternal kingdom that cannot be shaken. In the second place, Christ furnishes us an example of the life victorious. He faced limitation, poverty, obscurity, cowardice, misunderstanding and treachery—but He won. In plain terms, He tells us that He will give us power to live this victorious life. Multitudes testify in every age that He can and does. By His grace, handicaps are changed to stepping stones, hardships become the road to glory. He redirects our aimless wanderings to fine purpose. He puts our cumbered, dusty values back into circulation. He brings us from the husks and the swine to the banquet table of the Father. Living with Him, trials, dangers, difficulties are faced and conquered. Old age comes on, but the man in whose heart Christ abides sings: 'The best is yet to be.' Death comes at last, but Christ's man meets it with a shout, for death is but the page who summons him to coronation and more glorious days."

DEATH PROBATION SUBJECT OF SERMON

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon was "Probation After Death" yesterday in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

One of the Scripture citations included the following statements from John: "Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in their midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you. And when He had so said, he shewed unto them His hands and His side . . . . And after eight days again His disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said. Peace be unto you. Then saith He to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands, and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into My side: and be not faithless, but believing."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, said: "Jesus's unchanged physical condition after what seemed to be death was followed by his exaltation above all material conditions, and this exaltation explained his ascension, and revealed unmistakably a probationary and progressive state beyond the grave."

SCHNITZLER SCORED BY RABBI LEIBERT

Arthur Schnitzler's statement in a recent magazine article, to the effect that anti-Semitism benefits the Jew and that thousands of Jews are kept within the fold because they are not wanted elsewhere, was sharply criticised yesterday by Rabbi Julius Leibert in his sermon at Temple Emanu-El. Dr. Leibert spoke in part as follows:

"Personally I differ greatly with the eminent author. The physical gains occasioned by Juda-Phobia are not wholesome. I, for one, like Jews by conviction and detest Jews by eviction. I like Jews who are conscious of their mission, and am rather cool to those who are constantly conscious of their submission. Judaism can benefit only by those who serve it out of love and not by those who are driven to it by the lash of fear. The latter variety only acts upon it as does a corpse around the neck of a living man. Besides, even if we were to grant that anti-Semitism benefited the Jew, it should still be discouraged for the reason that it hurts the larger community. When a nation is caught in the bog of racial antipathies, its best efforts go not toward the struggle for a higher life and civilization but are squandered, instead, on considerations that degrade and ultimately divert it from the course of progress."

COSMETICIANS' FEES CUT

The cost of beauty culture may decrease slightly, as the City Council has adopted an ordinance reducing the license fee for beauty parlors from $8 to $4 annually, with a reduction of from $4 to $2 for operators.

SMALL FORTUNE SAVED BY FRUGAL HOUSEWIFE

Mrs. Molly Tanner was like the squirrel that lays up secret supplies of food for the winter, according to the records of Superior Judge Stephens's court, where her estate was probated.

Her husband, Harris Tanner, merchant, told the court a year ago that her fortune "didn't amount to much," as she had no source of income except a household allowance he gave her. The couple had been married thirty-two years.

But when Tanner filed his accounting of his wife's estate, it developed that she had made her household allowance go a long way. She had six bank accounts, in her own name and in the names of Molla Tampio, Molla Tanner, Molla Tamper, Molla Tannery, and Molla Tammor. And the total was more than $10,000, amassed in the last few years.

Tanner, to whom the estate was ordered distributed in the absence of a will, said he could not explain his wife's saving habits, as she always was in good circumstances.

"I guess she just wanted to surprise me," said Tanner.

AMOS 'N' ANDY DRAW THRONG

"Check and Double Check" Hit in Humanness

Two Stars Stay Themselves in Movie Plot

Many Laughs Due to Fresh Air Taxi Maneuvers

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

And now you can see their faces—that is, in black make-up—as well as hear their voices. Amos 'n' Andy, two prime favorites of radioland, are on the screen at the Orpheum Theater, and long lines of showgoers over the week-end attested to the interest in their screen debut. They are appearing in "Check and Double Check," and the husky treble of the one, and the barrelly bass of the other are just as natural as when they come from the loud speaker in the living-room.

Amos 'n' Andy (namely Freeman F. Gosden and Charles J. Correll) have crossed the treacherous trail into the movie speakies with no end of good results. They are decidedly a human pair. They act their roles simply and directly, and furnish plenty of amusement as well.

Often film enterprises featuring famous stage players or popular radio personalities are fraught with disappointment. There is a visible effort connected with the transition, generally discernible in too much plot or two many gags.

Admittedly a motion picture can't have the informality of a fifteen-minute parley on the air, and there must be story, situations and frequently some sort of thrill finish. All these, of course, "Check and Double Check" has, in addition to an extraneous love romance.

But even in the conventional action climax of the picture, where there is a haunted house for a scare and a race to the Pennsylvania station in the Fresh Air taxi, Amos 'n' Andy succeed very well in just rambling along in their own customary way. They mangle words divertingly, with the assistance of Russell Powell as Kingfish, and they argue their business affairs in the good old way.

To be sure, there isn't a great deal of novelty about the story of "Check and Double Check" from a movie standpoint, but at all events the two characters are preserved intact, and they possess the winning characteristics that have made their admirers legion.

The introduction of Amos 'n' Andy holding up traffic with their taxicab, their conversations over the telephone with the lady friends; the manner in which they try to figure out interest of 10 per cent; the meeting of the secret order to which they belong—these are some of the high spots of a consistently enjoyable picture. Even the chase through traffic at the end, though it has been done many times before, provided infinitely more hilarity than usual for the audience. The haunted house sequence, by virtue of excellent direction, evokes no little suspense.

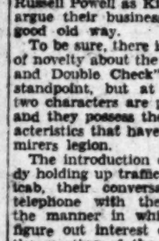
The counterplot involves the usual "paper," without which Charles Morton as the hero cannot expect to wed the girl played by Sue Carol and Amos 'n' Andy quite accidentally prevent the villain from coming into possession of a certain valuable deed, which will make Morton rich. Nobody sat up nights thinking up that idea but the way it is worked out is creditably entertaining.

Ralf Harolde is the heavy, and Irene Rich and Edward Martindale enact society folk, while Rita LeRoy is a plotter with Harolde. Bert Kalmar and Harry Ruby wrote the story, which was adapted by J. Walter Ruben. The picture was directed by Melville Brown. The humanness of Amos 'n' Andy themselves is the recommendation of the feature par excellence.

Mickey Mouse and Minnie Mouse in "The Picnic" garner many laughs. This comedy averages high in the list of clever Walt Disney cartoons. Bert Levy's "Humaneties" (really marionettes) is a novelty of variety and laughs. Knute Rockne delivers some pithy talk on the subject of football, with slow-motion illustrations.

Film Actress Will Appear on Pantages Stage

Lola Lane will make a personal appearance on the stage of Pantages Hollywood Theater tonight.



Miss Lane has the leading feminine role in "The Big Fight," James Cruze's picturization of David Belasco's stage play which starred Jack Dempsey and Estelle Taylor.

Miss Lane was seen recently in "Good News" for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and was featured in "Speakeasy" and "Fox Movietone Follies," by Fox.

A stage presentation accompanies the showing of "The Big Fight" at the Pantages house.

Sunday Concert Seat Sale Opens

The seat sale for the opening Sunday afternoon concert of the Philharmonic Orchestra, Dr. Artur Rodzinski conducting, will open today at the east box office, Philharmonic Auditorium. Richard Bonelli, leading baritone of the Chicago Civic Opera Company, will be the soloist at this concert.

The program of Sunday's concert includes Beethoven's overture, "Leonore," No. 3, Op. 72-a; Beethoven's Symphony No. 7 in A Major, Op. 92; three songs by Richard Bonelli and "Till Eulenspiegels."

ANCIENT CARS USED

Seventeen early model automobiles are used in R.-K.-O. Radio Pictures' "Cimarron." Among the ancient cars are a one-cylinder Cadillac and first model Ford.

"New Moon" Shines Forth Again

Perry Askam

Will sing his romance on the Biltmore Theater stage beginning tonight when the Romberg operetta is presented by Lillian Albertson.

"LIFE OF PARTY" BOOKED

Marking somewhat of an innovation in local theater history, two film houses will start the same picture simultaneously Friday. The theaters are Warner Brothers' Hollywood and Downtown, and the feature is "The Life of the Party," starring Winnie Lightner.

The supporting cast includes Irene Delroy, Jack Whiting, Charles Butterworth and Charles Judels. Roy Del Ruth directed.

According to reports from the studio, "The Life of the Party" is not a musical picture, and marks the first time Miss Lightner has appeared in a film without a background of musical numbers. The story deals with two girls who trail, trap and trim the elusive millionaire on his own terms and grounds.

The story is by Melville Crossman, with the screen play and dialogue by Arthur Caesar.

'LILIOM' WILL PLAY AT LOEW'S

Charles Farrell Enacts Leading Part in Franz Molnar Story

Adapted from Franz Molnar's stage play of the same name, "Liliom" will be the new Fox picture opening at Loew's State Theater Thursday. Charles Farrell and Frank Borzage, the combination responsible for "Seventh Heaven," also worked together on the new attraction.

Farrell is cast in the role of swaggering barker for a Budapest carnival and figures in a series of love affairs, chief of which are provided by Rose Hobart, of Broadway stage note, and Estelle Taylor, who portray the leading feminine roles. H. B. Warner and Lee Tracy also have important roles.

"Love in the Rough," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's comedy of golf and romance, featuring Robert Montgomery, Dorothy Jordan and Benny Rubin, is the current screen attraction.

Rocket Plane Displayed Near Carthay Circle

Autoists and pedestrians in the vicinity of Wilshire Boulevard and Rimpau are getting a first-hand look at one of the most pretentious single pieces of "prop" work ever built for a motion picture.

The Carthay Circle Theater is displaying at the corner the original rocket plane used in the trip to Mars in the Fox Movietone production, "Just Imagine."

The plane is substantially built, of hardwood and heavy board, reinforced with steel pipe. It appears that placing rockets in the apertures for that purpose would be the only thing necessary to make it travel on a real trip to the planets. The rocket plane, thirty-one feet in length, weighs more than three tons and required a crew of twenty men to transport it from the Fox Hills studio to its present spot.

Noted Players to Enact Roles in "Du Barry"

"Du Barry, Woman of Passion," Norma Talmadge's latest motion picture, which starts at the United Artists Theater Wednesday, has an outstanding cast of players in featured roles.

This romance also marks the talking-picture debut of William Farnum, star of many silent pictures. He is seen as the King of France.

Playing opposite Miss Talmadge is Conrad Nagel. Others in the cast are Hobart Bosworth, Ullrich Haupt, Allison Skipworth, E. Alyn Warren, Edgar Norton, Edwin Maxwell and Henry Kolker. Sam Taylor directed.

"Whoopee" closes tomorrow night.

Colorful Stage Revue Offered

Jack Laughlin's "Southern Moon" revue at the Million Dollar Theater offers a mixture of lively eye and ear entertainment.

The new show reveals an abundance of gifted dancers, including the Sullivan twins, the Du Vall dancers and the Three Southern Boys. Solo numbers are offered by Ray Williams, Mae McRae and Myrtle Aber.

"Follow Thru," Paramount's musical romance, is the new screen feature, cofeaturing Nancy Carroll and Charles Rogers.

INTEREST IN MASON PLAY RUNS HIGH

Box Office Reports Augur Well for "Women Who Take," Starting Tonight

Keen interest in Los Angeles' newest bid for fame as a stage-producing center is evidenced at the box office of the Mason Theater.

Although "Women Who Take," the initial offering with which Metropolitan Productions, Ltd., enters the field of drama, will not have its world premiere until tonight, tickets for nearly every performance during the opening week have gone so rapidly that the "sold out" sign is expetced to be in evidence every evening, it is reported.

"Women Who Take," by Jane Murfin, promises several distinct novelties in plot and technique. Irene Rich has been given a role that calls for real ability and Fred G. Latham, stage director, declares the actress will be a revelation in the part.

A strong cast has been assembled for the production. Included are Olive Tell, Morgan Wallace, Leynard Hodgson, Lee Shumway, Louise MacIntosh and others.

Actress Steps Into Role at Last Minute

Miami Alvarez for the second time has demonstrated her ability to take an eleventh-hour call and portray a part behind the footlights after one rehearsal. This young actress is now taking the place formerly filled by Katheryn Givney in "A Cup of Sugar" at the Figueroa Playhouse. She received her "sides" on Saturday before the Tuesday opening.

Miss Alvarez, in playing the final matinee in "Among the Married" during its local run, had the same short preparation. She subsequently played the role in San Francisco.

DOROTHY CHRISTY IN FILM AT TOWER

Dorothy Christy is seen in her third screen role at downtown theaters within a week with the current showing of "Extravaganza" at the Tower. Miss Christy elicited praise by her recent appearances as the vamp in "Play Boy of Paris" and the attractive Lady Duckworth in "So This Is London."

EDSON WILL SPEAK

Charles Farwell Edson, composer, lecturer and teacher, will address the City Club next Friday at noon on "The Future of Opera in America." Mr. Edson, who recently returned here from Chicago and reopened his American studio, is an adept advocate of music in our own tongue and by our own composers.

DOG PUTS HALT TO CANYON FIRE

Sounds Alarm as Cabin Bursts Into Flames

Fighters Keep Blaze From Igniting Forest

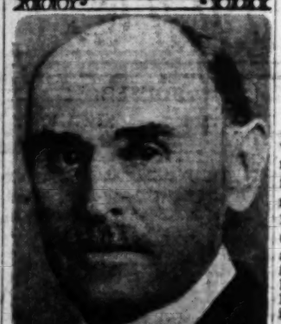
Battle Near Sierra Madre Won Despite Wind

Quick recruiting of a large fire-fighting force, after the alarm had been spread by a dog, prevented a brush fire which started in the Little Santa Anita Canyon near Sierra Madre early yesterday morning from assuming serious proportions.

The fire broke out in a cabin of Orchard Camp, which is conducted by Philip Hartman. The cabin is some distance from the camp's main pavilion and the fire might have gained great headway had not Hartman's dog, Ranger, come bounding down to the pavilion barking vigorously to attract his master's attention. Hartman at once spread the alarm by telephone and within a short time a force of 100 men, directed by county and Federal rangers, was fighting the flames, which had leaped to the brush surrounding the cabin.

There was little wind at the time the fire broke out and the fire fighters, after working strenuously for five hours, had just succeeded in bringing it under control when a brisk north wind sprang up. Three cabins were destroyed, but the area of brush destroyed was confined to three acres.

RAILROAD OFFICIAL MOURNED BY MANY



James B. Finley

MARATHON DANCER SUED

Mrs. Lois Helen Phillips declared she is "too young to keep house," and preferred instead to engage in marathon dances, to the neglect of her home and children, Earnest Warren Phillips asserts in his divorce petition. Mrs. Phillips has two children, but one was adopted by a neighbor, who also cares for the other, the plaintiff avers.

FUNERAL OF J. B. FINLEY TOMORROW

Masons and Elks Will Be in Charge of Rites for Espee Railroad Official

Masonic and Elk funeral services will be conducted tomorrow afternoon for James Buchanan Finley, former vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific Railroad in Mexico, who died Saturday at his home, 3013 Halldale avenue. Services will be conducted first at 4 p.m. at the Edwards Brothers' mortuary, 1000 Venice Boulevard, and later at the grave in Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Mr. Finley was a native Californian, having been born on November 22, 1856, in Santa Rosa. In 1885 he entered the employ of the Southern Pacific as a clerk at Tucson and continued to reside in Arizona for the next twenty-four years. During that period he took a prominent part in the political life of the State and served several terms in the Legislature, in both houses, representing Pima and Santa Cruz counties.

He was sent to Empalme, Son., in 1909 to become superintendent of operations of the Southern Pacific's Mexican road and subsequently rose to be vice-president and general manager. He held these posts until five years ago, when he retired and came to this city to live.

He was a Thirty-second Degree Mason, a member of Lodge No. 4 of Tucson, was a Past Exalted Ruler and life member of B.P.O.E., No. 385, of Tucson, and a member of the Knights of Pythias. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Clara Finley, and a daughter, Clara Eva Finley.

RESULTS SHOW SCHOOL'S VALUE

Metropolitan High Records Disclose Achievements

Sixty-five Per Cent of Student Body Now Holding Jobs

Young Workers Trained to Rise in Chosen Fields

BY ALMA WHITAKER

If 65 per cent of 10,000 students at the Metropolitan High School have been kept employed in gainful occupations during the past year, how's business?

And, with few exceptions, these youngsters are under 18 years of age. The Metropolitan, at 234 Venice Boulevard, across the street from the Wiggins Trade School, is an exclusively part-time school. There have been periods in which 90 per cent of its immense enrollment had paying jobs on the side. They apologize for that 65 per cent as strictly temporary.

Under the law all young people under 18 years of age who have not already graduated from high school must put in twenty hours a week in certain classes, designed to aid them to become self-supporting. Unless they have employment . . . then only four hours a week are required. Very well, then, 65 per cent of the youngsters at that school are employed, and their employers co-operate with the school and arrange for the required four hours. Their salaries range from $9 a week in jobs where a real trade is being learned, to from $12 to $16 a week in various forms of work.

PLAN OF TRAINING

It's one of those jolly elastic places where the individual youngster is catered to and taught the things he finds he needs to know or desires to know. Thus many of the girls specialize in cooking and waitress work. Every Thursday they cook a first-class lunch, serve it daintily, arrange the flowers, and take turns in waiting on table—when employers are invited to consult with the principals. Some of these girls are employed in restaurants and cafeterias, some are young wives who wish to learn housekeeping. Some have stylish notions of running cafes of their own, and they are taught marketing (every meal is budgeted) and every tiny detail in connection with the preparation and service of food for either private or professional purposes.

SYSTEM FOR BOYS

Some of the boys work in factories, sorting rubber, for instance, packing, shipping, etc. At this school they learn all about their business, improve themselves and prepare for advanced jobs. The Automobile Club is able to use several, so do such stores as J. W. Robinson Company and Walker's. The directors of the personnel departments attend these luncheons.

Percy Howland of the Automobile Club, R. E. Le Grant of Taverner & Fricke, Miss L. S. Sodaquist of the Fifth Street Store, Van M. Griffith of the Park Department, Cecil Little of the Little and Martin Manufacturing Company were present the day I visited the school, reporting on the good work of the youngsters they have employed, hiring new ones and offering suggestions to the principals as to future needs.

GARDENERS IN DEMAND

Just show our park department a fellow who really likes to grow things and they snap him up, putting him under a first-class gardener. The nurseries also often are persuaded they need one of these youngsters with an agricultural urge.

Proudly they tell of one Emanuel Bachmann, former student, who later earned his way through U.C.L.A. and now owns a fifty-acre ranch near San Diego. He is growing avocados, mangos and papayas—bringing the tropics to California.

When asked which attributes they most admire in employees from this school, all the employers said, "The ability to take discipline cheerfully," which means being teachable.

OFFICIAL STAFF

H. O. Dyck is the principal of the school and oozes pride. Mrs. Margaret Frost is general co-ordinator—she tackles all the rifts within the lutes that arise occasionally and smoothes out all the little woes. They jestingly refer to her as the "citizen fixer."

Then there's Estelle Churchill, who deals with the employers . . . arch salesman—or saleswomen—and diplomatist. She'll soon raise that 65 per cent back to the 90 per cen they know is possible.

Frances Mantell and Irene Leslie take care of the placement department . . . the former for the boys, the latter for the girls. Their job is to fit the youngster to the right job as nearly as possible, and it's a poor day when no new jobs are supplied.

BRANCH SCHOOLS

P. C. Weber is the principal for all the branches of this school, which spread out over the county in order that the youngsters of every district may be taken care of. Miss F. Lansing teaches "job ethics" . . . which includes all sorts of information about the way to hold a good job when one has it. Vice-principals who also shine in this work are Miss M. A. Jones and Mr. B. Weiss.

There are photographs galore showing their students working at their pay-jobs . . . some real stylish ones of youngsters in airplane factories who bring glory to the school.

Van M. Griffith told how eastern baseball and football managers come out here to find material—one baseball man receiving $7500 a year for just that. You should have seen Estelle Churchill prick up her ears . . . that fellow is liable to hire Metro boys any day now.

GREAT NEED FILLED

There is usually a financial reason preventing these youngsters going to high school in the usual way, hence this part-time school fills a precious need. Ten thousand students pass through it every year. Sometimes, after it is no longer compulsory to attend the school, they return voluntarily to learn something that will help them advance in their chosen fields. For instance, two boys obtain employment at a film studio as minor mechanics. Although more than 18 years of age, they have returned to study French and Spanish with the hopeful possibility of acting in the talking films.

One former Metropolitan boy now is a responsible officer with an aviation company. Another owns his own gas station and garage. The latter, by the way, says he has done more business this month than in the same month last year—that's in Glendale.

Then, too, Metropolitan acts as a feeder for the Wiggins Trade School across the street.

OF THE COMMUNITY CHEST

W. L. STEVENS SAYS:

"Civilized peoples cannot escape their obligations to the unfortunate members of society, consequently, as a cold-blooded business proposition, it is much better to meet those obligations in an efficient, businesslike manner than in the slip-shod, haphazard manner of individual or group effort that so frequently resulted in wastefulness or even dishonesty.

"I believe in the Los Angeles Community Chest because it is handled by men who have made successes in their own business, and who are unselfishly giving freely to the Chest the time and talents that could not possibly be purchased."

SODA PLANT TO RISE IN SOUTH GATE

Philadelphia Quartz Company Will Start on $300,000 Unit at Once

Plans for the establishment of their plant here, involving immediate construction of a $300,000 manufacturing unit, were disclosed yesterday by officials of the Philadelphia Quartz Company, who have recently purchased a twelve-acre site at South Gate.

According to A. W. Elkinton, vice-president of the concern, construction work will start at once and W. E. Lyons, engineer of the company's Berkeley plant, will be sent here to direct construction and installation of equipment. So far as possible, all material purchases will be made here, Elkinton said.

He also stated his company has been impressed with the rapid industrial development of Southern California, particularly the Los Angeles district. The decision to build here was hastened by the recent advent in Southern California of the Procter and Gamble Company, which is constructing a large soap manufacturing plant in the harbor district.

The quartz plant site is located on Independence avenue in South Gate on joint railroad trackage of the Southern Pacific and Union Pacific railroads. The company will produce silicate of soda, which is extensively used in the manufacture of soap and paper products.

Pipe line deliveries of silicate of soda will be made to the plant of the Fibreboard Products, Inc., which is adjacent to the site of the Quartz Company. The Los Angeles Soap Company also uses large quantities of this material. Although the plant is designed primarily to serve the local market, Mr. Elkinton states that it will be gradually expanded to cover all requirements of the southwestern area.

Similar plants are now being operated by the Philadelphia Quartz Company at Berkeley, Portland, Or., and Tokio.

NOTED BAND ENTERTAINS THOUSANDS

United States Marine Day Celebrated at Coliseum With Unusual Program

In celebration of United States Marine Day, Capt. Taylor Branson, leading the United States Marine Band, "the President's Own," assisted by Arthur S. Whitcomb, yesterday played at the Los Angeles Coliseum before a crowd of approximately 10,000 persons.

The program included pieces usually played only by orchestras and never before attempted by a band. The opening number, "Carnival," Op. 92, by Anton Dvorak, was greeted with tremendous applause. "Stars and Stripes," the march made famous by the Marine Band, was received with an equal ovation.

The second special concert number was Victor Herbert's "Pan Americana." Winfred Kemp, cornet soloist, who played Bach's "Hungarian Melodies," was made to give three encores by the enthusiastic audience.

Prior to a fifteen-minute intermission in the program the band played "Second Polonaise," by Lizt. More than 1000 musicians of Los Angeles county high schools played during the intermission under the direction of Harold William Roberts, assisted by Irving Ullman of Alhambra.

Renditions from "Pagliacci," by Ruggiero Leoncavallo, were offered as the next concert number. A xylophone solo by Wilbur K. Keiffer, who played "Valse Caprice," by Joseph Weiniawski, a number originally composed for the violin, was received with great applause.

Concluding the program, "Bamboula," by Taylor, and "Reminiscenses of 'Tschaikowski," by Dan Godfrey, were played. As a final offering the county high schools played "Star Spangled Banner."

ATTACKING OFFICER BRINGS JAIL TERM

Ernie Weiss, 35 years of age, must serve thirty days in jail following conviction of the charge of knocking a policeman off the running board of his automobile. Policeman Goetting, the complaining officer, appeared with the aid of a cane, in Municipal Judge Ambrose's court. He had stepped on the running board of Weiss's car, he testified, which had been parked at Fourth and Crocker streets. Weiss, it was testified, stepped on the gas, and when the car was going thirty miles an hour struck Goetting in the face, knocking him to the pavement.

CITY FACES LEAN PERIOD FINANCIALLY

Only $200,000 Left in Reserve Fund to Last Until December 1

The annual period of penury is descending upon the city of Los Angeles, and this year it looms as more serious than usual. Miss Los Angeles has but $200,000 in her sock to guard against a rainy day, and it is hardly enough.

This is occasioned by the fact that there is a long "lean spell" until December 1, next, when tax collections begin to pour in. The county collects both city and county taxes, under an arrangement. As soon as the money begins to flow into the County Treasury, the city's portion is allocated, and while it is coming in it fills the City Treasury to overflowing.

Therefore, the reserve fund has been established which takes the surplus and saves it until the lean months come. City Treasurer Powell uses this extra money to loan at interest to banks, thus increasing the city's income.

At the present time, the reserve fund is stripped down to $200,000. About $5,500,000 has been loaned to the various departments to meet their pay rolls and charges until December 1. The $200,000 is available for assessments, claims or emergencies. It may all be used, while, should a department run out of funds, it will be necessary to give this department a share of the slim reserve.

Budget Director Knox and Councilman Cooke, chairman of the Finance Committee, of course, cannot tell what contingency may arise requiring extra expenditure. If nothing happens in the next six weeks all will be well; otherwise, Miss Los Angeles must take her jewels from her throat, her rings from her fingers, and go down along Spring street and try to raise a little ready cash from some stoney-hearted banker.

VICTIMS OF BLAST TO BE QUESTIONED

Schulman and Chavin of Garment Building May be Able to Aid Police

Held incommunicado by physicians since the day of the explosion because of his severe injuries, Hyman Schulman, owner of the Beverly Hills Frock, Inc., shop in which originated the blast that wrecked the Garment Capitol Building on the 17th inst., will be questioned by Detective Lieutenant Katzenberger, explosive expert of the Police Department, and Capt. Haguewood, head of the Fire Department bureau of investigation. Katzenberger said yesterday that he has received permission from the injured man's physician to interview him.

I. Chavin, a presser, who was with Schulman in his shop at the time of the explosion and who also was severely burned, will be questioned, Katzenberger said.

It was Schulman who turned the burglary alarm switch which is believed to have set off the explosion in his shop on the fifth floor of the building, resulting in injuries to forty-three persons and a $1,000,000 property damage.

Co-operative investigation by the police and fire department arson experts has resulted in an agreement that the explosion was caused when an accumulation of illuminating gas was set off by an electric spark. This gas is believed to have leaked out into the Schulman shop from pipes on the fifth floor. Whether the explosion was accidental or the work of incendiarists the investigators have not yet determined. Discovery Saturday of a piece of gas pipe, missing since the day of the blast, has given them evidence, the investigators admit, supporting the theory that the explosion was planned.

Questioning of Schulman and Chavin, investigators expect, will aid them to a great extent in clearing up many of the details of the explosion, which, so far, have been doubtfully pieced together.

Veteran Sheriff Will Be Honored for Long Service

Sheriff R. R. Veale of Contra Costa county is due for a pleasant surprise some time this week when he is presented by mail with an elaborate billy or nightstick, the handicraft of Capt. J. H. Harrod, veteran head of the Los Angeles Sheriff's office night crew.

The club, fashioned by Capt. Harrod in his woodwork shop at his home in Santa Monica, is twenty inches in length and is composed of thirty-six pieces of native redwood and white pine, symbolic of Veale's thirty-six years' service as Sheriff of Contra cost a county.

The Sheriff's tenure of office is believed to be one of the longest for an elective office in the United States. He recently was elected to another four-year term.

The names of the Sheriff and Capt. Harrod are engraved on a brass nameplate affixed to the club.

'Food Phobias' Lecture Topic

"Food Phobias" will be the subject of a lecture at 2 p.m. today in the May Company's Exposition Hall by Dr. Orren Lloyd-Jones of Beverly Hills, who was an associate of the late Dr. W. B. Sippy, specialist in stomach diseases and corrective diets. Before he became a physician, Dr. Lloyd-Jones was professor of genetics and experimental evolution at Iowa State College.

Dr. Lloyd-Jones believes there are far too many popular misconceptions concerning the so-called stomachache. In reality, it is his contention, the stomach can stand more rough treatment than any other internal organ.

Smart Affair

At the salon and musicale to be given Wednesday evening at the Hollywood Plaza, Mrs. John Claire Monteith will be special hostess of the evening and Gabrielle Ravenelle has arranged a most enjoyable program with Ann Anderson, Norma Masterson, sopranos; Dodson Blunt, tenor, and Marshall Ames, pianist, while Mrs. Daisy Dunham will be the accompaniste.

Wed in Church

Before an altar beautifully decorated with a profusion of white chrysanthemums and asters, the marriage of Miss Vera Cecelia Ryan, attractive daughter of Mrs. David Ryan of 2056 West Fifty-fourth street, became the bride of Gilbert Shuman, son of Mrs. Tracy Shuman of Eagle Rock, the ceremony taking place Wednesday morning in the Church of the Holy Name, with Father J. J. Truxaw officiating, the double ring ceremony being used.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with veil of tulle caught into a cap of lace and orange blossoms and she carried a shower of bride's roses and valley lilies.

Mrs. Ernest L. Linell of Gardner, Mass., assisted her sister as matron of honor, wearing green satin and gold lace and carrying an armful of red roses and orchid sweet peas, while Hugh J. Campbell of Hollywood served as best man.

A wedding breakfast for fifty guests at the home of the bride's mother followed the ceremony, the decorations being carried out with pink roses and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Shuman are honeymooning at Catalina and will make their home here.

The bride received her schooling in the East. Mr. Shuman is affiliated with Alpha Beta Kappa Fraternity.

Dinner Party

"Luz del Sol," the beautiful Spanish hacienda of Dr. and Mrs. Harvey David Thornburg, was the scene of a delightful dinner party recently given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Goodall, who have just returned to Hollywood after a summer at their home in Sanford, Me.

After dinner the guests enjoyed viewing a motion picture of the Thornburgs's vacation trip to Alaska. The remainder of the evening was devoted to bridge.

Mr. Goodall is the brother of Mrs. Thornburg and resides with his family at 7615 Hollywood Boulevard.

They are the young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thaddeus Libby Up de Graff (Dorothy Gray) and grandsons of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gray of 1 Berkeley Square, with whom they and their parents make their home.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, sties and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HALLOWEEN APPROPRIATE DAY FOR ENTERTAINING CHILDREN

Halloween parties and Halloween pranks may easily be bracketed together, so that fear of the latter is dispelled by the former. There was never a day like Halloween so surrounded by classic customs as to make its entertainment literally foolproof. A children's party given on that day can hardly be anything but entertaining and successful.

This is just the kind of opportunity mothers should embrace to entertain their older children. With most of the entertainments these days decidedly outside the home, mothers should grasp at chances to gather their children's friends under their own roofs and show them what good times are possible with tactful and sympathetic parental supervision.

THE HALLOWEEN SPIRIT

The house may be gay with autumn colorings; black cats are festive and spooky, as are jack o' lanterns made of paper pumpkins and real pumpkins with grinning faces and cavernous, burning eyes to lend reality.

There should be a tub of water with apples to be bobbed for, or apples on strings, the winner achieving a solid bite that spears the apple. Stairs may be walked down backward with a mirror held over the left shoulder, for supposedly at the bottom there will be the face of a phantom sweetheart.

Then there is that excruciating stunt in which the blind-folded victim is put on a board, and the board raised slowly about an inch or more at one end. The sensation of going up to enormus heights is so keen that when told to jump, the poor victim takes a huge jump much to the delight of his audience.

Fortune telling by some adult with a sense of humor and a knowledge of each child will convulse the listeners, and there are fortune-telling cards which may be used in a dimly lighted, curtained-off space to improve the imagination of an adult not accustomed to such stunts.

PROGRESSIVE GAMES

If the group is a small one, all the games should be played together; if it is a large one, it is better to put four or six persons at a table and play the different games progressively. At one table they may be engaged in putting together a huge black paper cat that has been cut apart and scrambled. At another, fortune telling may be in progress, and at still another the apple bobbing is going on. As each game is finished or successfully accomplished it may be passed on to the next table. A favor may be given to the winners at each table, though it is always nicer to give small favors to each person than to tag some superior person with a prize. Children suffer more from a sense of inferiority at being unable to win than adults imagine.

Refreshments are the old favorites, apples, doughnuts and cider or individual pumpkin pies, cider and popcorn. It is well to keep up the spirit of such holidays and enjoy their individual flavor before the children's appetites for simple pleasures are blunted by too much sophisticated apeing of adult entertainments.

Chef Wyman's RECIPES

Every Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CHOCOLATE SOUFFLE

Two and a half squares of unsweetened chocolate, chopped fine, one cupful of milk, two tablespoonfuls of melted butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, one-fourth cupful of sugar, the yolks of three eggs, and the whites of the three eggs, place the milk in a double boiler, add the chocolate to it, and when melted beat with an egg beater until the mixture is well blended, blend the flour and butter together and add it slowly to the chocolate and milk, stir constantly and cook until thick, remove from the fire, beat the yolks of the eggs until creamy, gradually beating in the sugar, and add them to the chocolate and beat until cool. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of the eggs, pour into a well-oiled baking dish, place in a pan of hot water and bake in a moderate oven until the souffle is firm in the center.

LENTIL SOUP

Soak two cupfuls of lentils overnight in cold water, drain them, place in a saute pan two tablespoonfuls of butter or shortening, add one finely sliced onion and brown slightly, add three sticks of celery, cut in small pieces and one-half teaspoonful of celery seed; cook until the celery is tender then combine the lentils with the onions, pour over them two quarts of warm water and simmer slowly until the lentils are soft. Stirring them occasionally season with salt and pepper, press them through a fine sieve, return to the sauce pan, heat again, and serve with small squares of toasted bread.

BEEF A LA MODE

Four pounds of beef shoulder, one onion sliced, eight whole cloves, one bay leaf, one tablespoonful of sugar, one-half cupful of diced celery, three ginger snaps, two tablespoonfuls of shortening. Place the meat, onion, bay leaves, cloves, in an enameled dish and cover them halfway with vinegar, cover the dish tightly and let stand for twelve hours, turn on the other side and let stand another twelve hours. Heat the shortening in a saute pan, add the celery and meat and brown the meat on all sides. Place in a sauce pan and add a half a cupful of the spiced vinegar. Cover tightly and place in the oven and let cook slowly until the meat is tender, seasoning with salt, about thirty minutes, before removing from the oven. Take out the meat, drain the gravy, skim off the fat and add to the gravy the finely rolled ginger snaps.

SWEET POTATOES AND APPLES

Wash and peel long sweet potatoes that are rather large around, cover them with boiling water and cook until almost tender, drain and cut in thick slices, crosswise, about two inches, pare, core and cut apples in one-half-inch slices around the apples. Place in a baking dish the slices of sweet potatoes and on top of each slice of sweet potato a slice of apple, pour over them a half a cupful of maple syrup, one-fourth cupful of water and three tablespoonfuls of butter. Place in the oven and bake until the apples are soft, then add just before serving one-third of a cupful of sweet cooking sherry, place a cherry in the core hole of each apple and serve.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

WHEN YOU CAN'T SLEEP

There are many people who find it difficult to relax sufficiently to go to sleep and who are nevertheless sleep hungry. When we need sleep it seems that we should be able to go to sleep easily, but we know this is not always true. This difficulty in getting enough sleep is very common among all classes of people. Some are unable to go back to sleep once they awaken during the night. Others lie in bed for hours hoping for sleep, meanwhile counting sheep trying to make the mind blank, or some other time-worn sleep-inducing plan. Generally, speaking, the thin, nervous, rundown types, who need sleep the most, are the ones who find it hardest to fall into sound, refreshing sleep.

There are many causes of sleeplessness, but undoubtedly the most common of all is due to irritation produced from indigestion and the pressure of large quantities of gas in the stomach and intestines. I find that those patients who waken regularly about 1 or 2 in the morning are in every case troubled with gas pressure, due to the remains of the last meal which is fermenting inside them and causing gas. This flatulence is also often responsible for the nightmares which disturb sleep.

Other physical conditions which may produce an inability to sleep, or a disturbed sleep, are intense itching, coughing, choking, stoppage of the nose, adenoids, heart trouble, constipation, bladder weakness, diarrhea, worms, high-blood pressure, ringing in the ears and toxic conditions. A loss of sleep is also noticed in nervous disorders, and yet it has been my experience that most of those who think they are troubled with insomnia, because of nervousness, are really being irritated physically by the pressure of impacted feces or gas in the colon, but which has not been sufficiently pronounced to make them conscious of pain. Many of these nervous patients are able to enjoy a refreshing night's sleep a day or two after a fruit fast accompanied with enemas to cleanse the intestines of accumulated waste material. Many people find that an enema taken just before retiring will empty out the colon and insure a deep sound sleep. Others are soothed into sleep by a warm sponge bath. A hot water bottle placed at the feet will sometimes serve the purpose of drawing the blood away from the brain.

I have never known a case of insomnia which could not easily be cured by a combination of treatment for removing the stomach and intestinal irritation, having the patient take more physical exercise, and the use of some simple mental suggestions on going to bed. Lie perfectly relaxed and repeat over and over slowly, "sleepy, sleepy, sleepy." Inhale and exhale slowly without effort while you are repeating this word mentally and you will find that the conscious mind will be readily lulled into a deep sleep. Even the most stubborn cases of sleeplessness will usually yield to the above measures which are to be preferred to the habit of using sleep producing drugs.

GEOLOGISTS TO EXPLORE PARK

Permission to conduct geology and paleontology field trips in Griffith Park, said to be exceptionally rich in peculiar rock formations, has been granted to the Glendale Junior College at request of Clement D. Meserve by the Park Commission. The study parties are to be taken through the park in public service busses when there are more than twenty in each group.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Unused Clothing

With so many people out of work, it is very unkind and thoughtless of the housewife who harbors clothing she is not using this season. If you have no particular charity that you know gets the garments to those in real need, go to your nearest public school. The principal will know the children and the homes that are in distress, but don't keep those warm unused garments any longer; it is a wicked thing to do.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

by THORNTON W. BURGESS

BOBBY COON MAKES A DISCOVERY

Don't tell your neighbors all you know;
Or what you do, or where you go.
—Jimmy Skunk.

"Hello, Jimmy Skunk," said Bobby

It was dusk, Jimmy Skunk was ambling along in that easy-going fashion of his. Bobby Coon was following him. Bobby was glad that Jimmy was fat and that naturally he never hurries for Bobby was himself quite fat and he had no desire to hurry. Jimmy paid no attention to his back trail. He didn't once look behind him to see if he were being followed. You see, Jimmy has so long been independent that it does not concern him much what other people do So Jimmy didn't know that Bobby Coon was following.

Jimmy shuffled along down through the Old Orchard straight toward Farmer Brown's house. Bobby Coon followed. When Jimmy reached Farmer Brown's dooryard he didn't stop; he ambled straight across that yard toward the back of Farmer Brown's house. Bobby Coon, however, did stop.

"Where can that fellow be going now?" muttered Bobby Coon. "Bowser the Hound or Flip the Terrier is likely to show up any minute. Jimmy Skunk is crazy!"

Then Bobby happened to remember that Jimmy was afraid of no one. He remembered that everybody respected Jimmy's little bag of scent. It probably was safe enough for him to cross that dooryard. It wouldn't, however, be safe for Bobby to cross—at least, not if Bowser the Hound or Flip the Terrier happened to be around.

"I'll just climb a tree here and see what I can see from there," muttered Bobby, and immediately acted on his own suggestion. He found when he got up in the tree, however, that Jimmy Skunk had disappeared. He had disappeared over there close to Farmer Brown's house, and, though Bobby looked and looked, and his eyes are pretty good in the dark, he could see nothing of Jimmy. Bobby waited for some time. At last he heard a little noise down below him, a rustling in the leaves. He looked down and could see something white. He was there. What he saw was the white part of Jimmy's black-and-white coat.

"Hello, Jimmy Skunk," said Bobby.

"Hello, yourself!" replied Jimmy Skunk. "What are you doing up in that tree? Getting apples?"

Bobby pretended that he didn't hear this. "What are you doing away over here, Jimmy Skunk?" said he. "My goodness, how fat you are! You must be getting a good living."

Jimmy licked his lips and grinned. He knew that Bobby couldn't see him grin. "It's a fair living," said he. "Yes, sir, I can say that it's a fair living."

"Where do you get it?" asked Bobby.

"Ah!" replied Jimmy. "That is the question—where do I get it?"

"Why don't you invite me to go with you?" inquired Bobby.

"Because," replied Jimmy, "you wouldn't dare go with me if I invited you."

"Just try me and see," replied Bobby.

"Well," replied Jimmy, "supposing I invited you to go into Farmer Brown's house."

"I'd refuse," replied Bobby "And you'd refuse if I invited you to go in there."

"Perhaps," said Jimmy, "perhaps." And, grinning slyly, he ambled along toward the Old Orchard and home.

TREE-PLANTING PLAN PROPOSED

Forestry Division of Parks States Policies

Alternative Schemes Provide for Street Adornment

Co-operative System Fitted to New Districts

A statement of policy on administration of the new forestry ordinance and rules and regulations for the forming of co-operative tree-planting districts, submitted by L. Glenn Hall, chief of the division of forestry, has been approved by the Park Commission, which recently organized the division as a separate branch of the Park Department by authority of the City Council.

The policy provides four methods of planting trees, to be advocated by the forestry division. The first shall be by individual permits to property owners, the second by planting under neighborhood agreement, the third by formation of co-operative tree-planting districts, to be handled by voluntary district organizations, and the fourth by petitioning the City Council for establishment of local assessment planting districts under the tree-planting acts of 1911, 1913, 1915 or other legal method.

TO FILL GAPS

The first method, according to Mr. Hall, is to obtain results in the other settled districts, to fill gaps in street tree planting by individual owners with instructions from the forestry division on the type of tree to be planted and for advice on their planting and care. For such planting applications are to be made at the forestry division office, Room 223, City Hall.

The second, or neighborhood plan, is arranged for districts too large for individual permits and small enough for individual owners to be contacted by the forestry division. The division may supply trees from the municipal nursery if available and plant at a reasonable cost to property owners, provided the owners agree to maintain the trees. The signatures of 90 per cent of the owners within a minimum area of three blocks or 1800 feet, on a petition, will serve as an agreement. The cost of the trees per front foot of property owned and the variety to be planted shall be clearly stated on the petition, which will require no meetings or district organization. The cost of planting will be collected from the property owners by the division and receipts will be issued, so that fees may be refunded in case the planting is not carried out.

COST OF TREES

Hall explained that the average cost and planting of three to five-foot trees will be $1.50 a tree in gallon cans, or $2.75 if wooden tree guards are required. For four to eight-foot trees in five-gallon cans the cost will average $2.50 a tree, or $3.75 with wooden guards. Palms will cost from $4 to $10 each in heights from three to six feet. Larger trees or shrub planting will require special estimates.

The third plan, for forming co-operative planting districts, particularly in new and extensive areas, may be accomplished by the filing of a petition by 90 per cent of the property owners in the district. Hearings will be had in this instance and a district association organized to collect and handle funds for tree planting. The forestry division will supervise and inspect the planting of trees and act as agent for the association. The work may be done under contract or it may be done by the forestry division if the owners desire. If trees from the Park Department nursery are available they will be supplied at reasonable cost. The forestry division will check the validity of names on petitions and prepare preliminary plans and estimates.

HEARINGS PROVIDED

After such plans have been approved by the Park Commission a date will be set for a public hearing and if, after such a hearing, 90 per cent still agree on the improvement, a sum of money equal to the cost of the improvement shall be placed in the bank.

Within five days after the deposit the forestry division will start final plans and estimates and complete them within thirty days for approval of the district association and the Park Board. The district association, through its representative, the Park Commission, shall have the right to accept or reject all bids. A separate agreement may be drawn for the forestry division to maintain the trees, the district to pay for a year in advance.

The fourth plan is that at present in use for formation of local improvement districts under State acts, for which a 55 per cent majority of names is required, but which, according to Hall, takes much longer to get action than under the new method.

To facilitate proceedings the Park Board has set aside $50,000 as a fund to finance tree-planting projects pending the receipt of taxes for such improvements.

TRITT MEMORIAL UNVEILED

Former School Eulogizes Educator

Friends' Tribute

Alfred L. Benshimol, principal of Belmont High School, and William Winters Tritt memorial.

MEMORY of William Winters Tritt, assistant superintendent of Los Angeles city schools, was honored yesterday at a memorial service at the Belmont High School. The service was arranged by the faculty of the school. A bronze tablet, designed and executed by Steven Gaal, sculptor, was unveiled and the formation of the William W. Tritt scholarship fund was announced by Alfred L. Benshimol, principal of the school.

The service was conducted in the auditorium of the school. The platform was draped with flowers. The Belmont faculty trio, Octavia Marx, violin; Chester Perry, flute, and Lillian Sargent, piano, gave several selections and Catherine Jackson played two harp numbers.

Reynold Blight, William A. Sheldon, Jack Whitesel and Principal Benshimol spoke briefly of their friendship for Mr. Tritt.

"He was a particular inspiration to the young," said Mr. Blight. "They believed in him because of his great sincerity and truthfulness."

His Masonic career was traced by William A. Sheldon, who told of his great interest in the work of this order.

Jack Whitesel said patience, persistence and deliberation characterized his actions, coupled with an unfailing courtesy.

Mr. Benshimol, in speaking of the tablet, which was unveiled without ceremony, said the money for the memorial had been raised by the members of the alumni of the school, the faculty members and friends.

Mr. Tritt was principal of John Adams Junior High School when he resigned to become principal of Belmont High in 1923, serving in this capacity until 1929, when he resigned to become assistant superintendent of schools.

DR. COCHRAN HITS POWER BOND PLEAS

Need for Los Angeles to Conserve Its Credit for Vital Uses Pointed Out

"Los Angeles citizens should look to the conservation of the city's bonding capacity for future use in the development of water, for schools, fire and police protection and sewer and street development and maintenance, always bearing in mind that before Boulder Dam is completed we will be asked to vote many millions of dollars to carry on with the city's share in the Colorado River Aqueduct project," says Dr. Guy Cochran. He is one of the large number of prominent citizens who have pledged their support to efforts of the Taxpayers' Antipower Bond Association in opposition to the proposed $13,300,000 power-bond issue which is to appear on the November 4 ballot.

"The city of Los Angeles has plenty of power to take care of its growth for many years to come and there is no necessity for spending additional millions at this time for the development of more power," Dr. Cochran said.

"The city officials who favor this proposed bond issue of $13,300,000, admit that only about one-sixth of it, or $2,000,000, will be used some time in the future for power transmission purposes from Boulder Dam to Los Angeles. Engineers estimate that it will be ten years or more before Boulder Dam is completed, therefore, it is not necessary at this time to vote any bonds for a transmission line.

"The statement that this bond issue is necessary to keep faith with the government for Boulder Dam requirements is entirely without foundation," Dr. Cochran emphasized. "The vital Boulder Dam issue, estimated as between $225,000,000 and $250,000,000, for the Colorado River Aqueduct, will be submitted to the voters probably next spring. This is the issue that is being watched by Congress and other authorities at Washington and has nothing to do with the present proposed bond issue."

WOMEN AID GRAVES FOR RE-ELECTION

Committee Organized to Conduct Campaign for Supervisor Chairman

Formation of a woman's committee which will conduct a vigorous campaign in behalf of Supervisor Sidney T. Graves during the present week, was announced at the Graves headquarters yesterday.

Mrs. Florence Collins Porter, veteran Republican leader and prominent clubwoman, has been named as chairman. Outstanding women of Hollywood and other parts of the Third Supervisorial District, which Graves now represents, are included on the committee.

"We feel that Sidney T. Graves has many noteworthy accomplishments to his credit and on the basis of constructive performance is entitled to re-election on Tuesday, November 4," the women stated in indorsing Graves.

Members of the committee include the Mesdames Rose C. Bryant, Alfred J. Bartleth, Charles H. Bradford, Bernard Brown, Rollin Brown, Louis L. Burns, K. J. Copp, B. Dixon, J. F. Herriston, Charles J. Hubbard, Walter J. Hudson, Mary E. Doherty, William Jones, Rollin B. Lane, Frederick B. Lord, J. R. Lohmeyer, George W. Melville, William A. E. DR. NANCE SUCCUMBS IN HIS HOME

Physician Had Been Active Here in Real Estate and Finances Since 1896

After a long illness, Dr. Hiram I. Nance died yesterday at his home, 1234 West Twenty-ninth street. He had been a resident of this city thirty-four years and had been active during that time in real-estate and financial affairs.

Son of Dr. Hiram Nance, one of the pioneer physicians of Illinois, he was born in 1854 in La Fayette, Ill.

In moving to Los Angeles in 1896, he followed the lead of his brother, Charles H. Nance, who had come here the year before and later became a prominent druggist in this city. He gave up the practice of medicine after moving here and devoted himself entirely to business.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Sarah M. Nance; four sons, Willis and Forrest M., of this city; E. Ellsworth of Strathmore, and Hiram I. Nance, Jr., of Hanford; three grandchildren, a sister, Mrs. Adella N. Shilton of Kewanee, Ill., and three brothers, Dr. Willis O. Nance of Chicago and Roswell S. and Charles H. Nance of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the chapel of Pierce Brothers at 3 p.m. tomorrow and interment will be at Forest Lawn Memorial Park.

Austrian Prince Arrives Here on Tour of World

A pen-pushing prince who also punishes typewriters and paints from palettes is His Highness, Prince Max Karl of Austria, who arrived from Panama yesterday aboard the Dollar globe-girdling liner President Garfield.

PRINCE MAX KARL

The Prince is making a leisurely tour around the world as a reporter for the Berliner Lokal Anzeiger, writing his impressions as he goes. He has just come from South America, where he tried in vain to catch up with some of the revolutions there.

What his impressions will be of Los Angeles is problematical, as his itinerary calls for him to continue on the President Garfield to San Francisco today, thence direct to Honolulu.

He is a handsome youth, still in his twenties, who, passengers said, doesn't drink but "is a regular fellow." As one of the Hohenlohes with a principality in Wurtemberg, his family title goes back to the twelfth century, and included a recent chancellor of the German empire.

Past Heads of Medical Group to Be Honored

Past presidents of the County Medical Association will be honored at a grand ball at the Ambassador on December 6, next. Leading physicians of the county under the chairmanship of Dr. S. M. Alter, are planning to make this an annual affair at which past presidents of the county association will be shown appreciation for work they have done in the interests of public health and welfare.

Of the presidents of the association since 1871, there are twenty-eight still living.

Prisoner Wings From Iron Bars

An inmate of the Hollywood jail escaped yesterday and a widespread search was put under way. The inmate was a carrier pigeon that got out of an improvised cage fashioned for it by Detective Lieutenant Trosper of the Hollywood division.

The pigeon, with a band on its leg marked No. 4, landed in the yard at the home of Samuel Goldwyn, picture producer, 7331 Franklin avenue. It would not leave, so Goldwyn called the police.

Trosper took possession of the bird and made a cage to hold it until an owner might appear to claim possession, but the bird flew the coop.

Pastor Briegleb Indorses Young

Announcement of his support of Milton K. Young, Democratic nominee for Governor, at the general election, was made last night by Rev. G. A. Briegleb, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

The attitude of the minister was made known during the prelude to his Sunday-evening sermon, when he spoke to his congregation on "My Choice for Governor."

WILD SEAS ONCE TOSSED BARGES

Old Hulks Floating Quietly Off Shore Are Ghosts of Days When Iron Men Rode Wooden Ships Through Storm and Calm

Only a few persons of the thousands who swarm the beaches of Los Angeles county's miles of water front know that among the old ships seen riding quietly at anchor at various points off shore, now used as fishing barges or resort places, are some of the most famous vessels in the maritime history of the merchant marine.

The logs of some of these ships, most of them now stripped of their spars and top hamper, tell tales as romantic and thrilling as any of the blood-curdling stories of cannibalism and mutiny told in fiction.

The old vessels, sad and forlorn, belonged to that period when ships were wood and the men on them were iron. Nowadays, old sailors say, the ships are iron and the men are wood. They are the hulks of what were once great ships, queens of the seven seas, manned by hard, two-fisted, fighting, swearing sailors who could skip aloft with the agility of a cat and make three ends to a rope. Ashore they rolled sand in their pockets and wore their hats on nine hairs. They drank until their money was gone, then back to sea for months of standing night watches and reefin' top'sals in gales o' wind.

But few of the shellbacks who manned these ships are living today to see the sad and ignominious end of their old deep-water homes whose decks now swarm with landlubbers.

Many ghosts must stalk about the decks of these old windjammers. Take for instance the George Billings lying two miles off shore from the Santa Monica pier. A terse report shows that this ship was built in Port Blakely, Wash., in 1903. She sailed between Sydney, N.S.W., and Port Townsend, Wash., and Calles, Peru. In 1921 she was caught in a calm which lasted eighty-three days. Five of the crew starved to death and were eaten by the remainder of the men aboard.

And what a sea tale could be written from the log of the Star of Scotland, anchored two miles west of Ocean Park pier. The ship was built at Glasgow, Scotland, in 1887, and sailed between Scotland and China. While in that trade in 1903 her crew mutinied. They lashed the captain to the wheel and made him steer for port. The captain put the ship into a friendly port and saved himself and his ship.

Then there is the four-masted schooner Mindanaar, lying three miles off the Venice pier. Her log tells the graphic tale of a battle with the elements. She was in the trade carrying lumber between Aberdeen, Wash., and Honolulu. On Christmas Day, 1923, she struck a blow which raised seas mountain high and almost swamped the vessel.

The Lahaina, two miles west of Hermosa Beach, made fourteen trips to the South Seas and at one time was becalmed 133 days. One member of the crew died.

Ten miles off Long Beach lies the Johanna Smith, which broke its back at Coos Bay Bar, Oregon, in June, 1926. This craft is known as a floating Agua Caliente.

Instead of ending their days bleaching their "bones" on distant rocks, or being scuttled by mutinous crews, the famous old hulks lie peacefully at anchor off the coast, catering to a new generation in search of pleasure.

POLITICS

THE WATCHMAN

Trend of Political Thought and Action

BY THE SENTRY ON HIS BEAT

In view of the fact that the general election occurs just one week from tomorrow, and that there are numerous important proposals and propositions on the ballot in addition to the several State and local offices to be filled, the Watchman ventures to suggest that the voting public can render itself a considerable service by devoting a reasonable amount of time during the next few days to a study of the election-day issues.

The importance to the reputation of Southern California in recording a high vote at the election will be stressed to the constituency of the United Church Brotherhood November 2, dedicated "Citizenship Sunday" to member ministers yesterday in a proclamation issued by H. L. Herberts, executive secretary and vice-chairman of the Register and Vote League.

"The church feels an interest in solving the problems of present-day government," Mr. Herberts said, "and can do no better than incite a genuine interest in citizens to exercise their citizenship at the polls."

Every agency of communication in Southern California has been utilized in urging a record-breaking turnout November 4, H. B. Wright, league chairman, stated. Appeals have been made to school board officials to urge students to carry the message into the homes, and various other agencies have volunteers to serve as missionaries to remind voters to cast their ballots on election day.

Opposition to Proposition 21 on the ballot on November 4 has been voiced by some of the strongest and most influential farmers and agricultural organizations in the State. Among those groups which have officially protested against this proposed amendment reimbursing counties for losses from State taxation are the California Farmers' Union, the Executive Committee of the California State Grange, and the Executive Committee of the California Farm Bureau Federation.

It is argued that determination of asserted loss on a uniform basis would be very difficult and expensive owing to the variety of methods of assessment in the various counties, and even when such amounts are determined it would be entirely optional with the Legislature as to what counties should receive funds and in what amounts. This would lead to political log-rolling in the Legislature through promises of favoritism, it is charged.

Many Los Angeles firemen are backing the firemen's pension measure, Proposition 2, according to Capt. W. A. Meyers, president of the California State Firemen's Association.

Gov. Young is reported to be a strong advocate of Proposition No. 5, the State Employees' Pension Act.

The Republican County Central Committee has indorsed and is actively working for the re-election of Judges Hartley Shaw and Edward T. Bishop, it was announced yesterday at campaign headquarters.

The statement that approximately $5,000,000 per year has been lost through inability to collect all automobile taxes under the present law is being used as an argument in favor of Proposition No. 18, a measure that would require payment of annual automobile taxes at the time the licenses for motor vehicles are obtained from the State Motor Vehicle Department. About 624,725 automobile owners escaped paying full taxes last year, proponents of the measure say.

Superior Judges Keetch, Shaw, Bishop, Hanby and Hazlett, all of whom are candidates for re-election and all of whom received the indorsement of the Los Angeles Bar Association, seem certain to be returned to office, according to estimates of Mrs. Stella Bryant, manager of the Bar Association's campaign in behalf of these candidates.

Branding California's corporation laws as archaic and detrimental alike to investors and corporate managements, the directors of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce have expressed themselves as favoring a revision and modernization of the laws. The way for such improvement will be paved by passage of Proposition 16, according to Eugene Overton, member of the board.

Every State in the Union except California and one other has adopted some sort of measure providing for the reimbursement of live-stock owners whose stock has been killed to prevent spread of disease, those urging the adoption of Proposition 13, say. The State has already provided plans for the protection of its fruits, grain, hay and other products, and the live-stock men are entitled to like protection, they assert.

The California Fish Canners' Association is opposed to the proposition for the reorganization of the Fish and Game Commission granting the commission greater authority to handle the problems coming before it.

The Pacific Electric Railway, through President D. W. Pontius, is urging the voters to ratify Proposition No. 4 to equalize taxes paid by street railways, Mr. Pontius points out that the electric railways have suffered severely from competition with the automobile, so much so that in some places the lines have had to be abandoned as nonpaying. The State Legislature voted, 97 to 4, to reduce the present rate from 5 1-4 per cent to 4 1-4 per cent, the latter being the present tax rate for motor stages. The State Board of Equalization and the County Assessors' Association have stated that electric railways are being excessively taxed. "Every dollar that can be saved to the electric railways of the State such as excessive taxation will be reflected to the public in improvement in service and will be a contribution to the future development of the State," Mr. Pontius said.

While visiting in San Francisco recently, Mayor Porter pledged "unqualified support" to Northern California for the passage of Proposition No. 9, the $10,000,000 bond issue for San Francisco Harbor improvements. "Los Angeles believes that anything that benefits shipping anywhere in California will benefit all of the State," said the Mayor. "Southern California extends its hands across the Tehachapi to Northern California in this, as in other matters. The north has done the same for us in supporting the Olympic Games bonds and secondary highways." San Francisco Harbor is owned by the State.

A 20 per cent increase in unemployment in California will result if Initiative No. 26 on the November 4 election ballot is adopted by the people, according to the declaration of Tracy T. Journey, Los Angeles district manager of the California Manufacturers' Association which organization along with the Los Angeles and other chambers of commerce is campaigning against the measure.

"Both labor and industry are adversely affected and in extreme measure by this proposed legislation," Mr. Journey stated. "If this so-called Sunday closing law is approved and becomes a part of the California statutes many industries will be prevented from operating and an increase in unemployment estimated at 20 per cent will result."

Jane Arden and F. Stempel Wed

Jane Arden, motion-picture actress, and Frank Stempel, chief executive of the Central Casting Bureau, were married yesterday at 5 p.m. at the new home of the couple in Beverly Hills, by Superior Judge Hanby.

The only attendants were Mrs. Beth Arden, mother, and Cecil, sister of the bride.

A reception for some 200 friends was held at 8 p.m. at the Russian American Art Club at 5525 Harold Way, Hollywood.

FUNERAL RITES CONDUCTED

Funeral services for Mrs. Mille Goldwater, 75 years of age, of 3945 Woodlawn avenue, were conducted yesterday at Glasband & Groman mortuary, 901 West Washington street. Interment followed at Mt. Zion Cemetery. Mrs. Goldwater died suddenly Saturday afternoon while in a downtown theater. The cause of her death was given as a heart attack.

NEW GROUP ANNOUNCED

Announcement of the formation of a new discussion group at Memorial Branch Library, 4625 Olympic Boulevard, is made by Miss Nettie Gulwits, branch librarian. The first meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

WORLD LEADERS GO ON AIR TODAY

Radio to Hook Up London, Washington and Tokio

Naval Treaty Ratification to Be Celebrated

KFI Will Carry Messages of Three Nations

The Times Forum canceled to permit Navy Day Program over KHJ at 12:45, World-wide News, 12:30, 4:45 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

It's a far cry from London to Washington—to Tokio—but you can watch radio forge this picture this morning—KFI from 6:30 to 7:30. Through a gigantic radio hook-up, President Herbert Hoover, Prime Minister J. Ramsay MacDonald, Premier Hamaguchi and Tsueo Matsudaira, Japanese Ambassador to Great Britain, join in expressing the sentiments of their countrymen over the formal ratification of the London Naval Treaty.

Premier Hamaguchi is heard first at 6:48 a.m. from Tokio; President Hoover from the White House in Washington at 7:02; Ramsay MacDonald from 10 Downing street, London, at 7:14, and Ambassador Matsudeiro at 7:24.

Events of this kind dwarf the wildest dreams of Jules Verne. You are witnessing history in the making. To sit in your home in Southern California and receive callers from London, Washington and Tokio is a privilege worth your dial.

They tel us that—

KHJ's Navy Day program, beginning at 12:45 noon is a gala revue of navy notables and battleship bands.

Albert Von Tilzer, composer-guest, KFWB at 8 p.m. He will play some of his hits.

Politics or drama, KNX at 9 tonight—they said, "We will advise you whether it is a play or a politician"—but they didn't.

John J. Raskob, chairman of the Democratic National Committee—KECA at 5 p.m.

A blind World War veteran and his "eyes"—his Shepherd dog Wickeo, KECA at 11:30 this morning.

KNX at 6:30 tonight—impressive ceremonies with Mayor James J. Walker and other notables—the Plymouth world tour party on its way.

"Oooooh" galloping ghosts, bobbing apples, disappearing gates and doors bells are rung—Blue Monday Jamboree on KEJ from 8 to 10 p.m. An avalanche of comedy, novelty and music—here's your radio pumpkin head full of airy giggles.

A playlet—"An Apple Romance"—KECA—7:30 tonight—the Old Timer's in it.

Bohemian, pastoral and romantic themes—Rochester Civic Orchestra, KFI 7 tonight. Then the Los Caballeros, with Georgia Stark and Luis Alvarez at 7:30 p.m.—Spanish rhythms and themes.

KECA at 12:30 noon also offers a Navy Day program from the East.

Pierre Brugnon, master of ceremonies—the Bourjois Quartet—KHJ's Columbia feature—"An Evening in Paris"—6:30 tonight.

Miniature Symphony — Loyce Whiteman, soloist—KTM at 9 tonight. Thirty minutes of love songs.

KECA's "The World Today" and its "Half Hour in the Nation's Capitol" over KECA at 4:15 and 5, respectively—an idea of what Mr. World is doing.

SALESMEN
ARE YOU SATISFIED?
Is your present occupation profitable and congenial? Are you contented and your family happy?
Perhaps You Can Improve Your Condition Find Out With Absolutely NO EXPENSE NO OBLIGATION
To a limited number of select men sincerely earnest and ambitious we offer an opportunity to obtain a thorough sales training in the automobile business. Classes will be conducted in evening and in no way interfere with present employment.
The course will be in charge of a sales engineer of wide experience, a man who has been called by some of the largest National Houses and several Universities.
His staff includes a nationally known Character Analyst who has appeared before Rotary and other organizations. You will receive a personal and private interview—an analysis of your good and weak points—a big help to your success. This course will help you even should you not wish to take up automobile selling.
Successful attendants will be offered positions on our sales staff.
Classes are forming. Call in person. Ask for Mr. Caswell. Call 9 a.m. to 9 p.m.

BUILDING
LOANS

Our 7% loan, with payments on principal deferred ninety days to three years, affords the bona-fide home builder an opportunity to take advantage of the present favorable building costs. Financing costs are added to note if borrower so desires.

REFINANCING
LOANS

$10.00 per month per thousand dollars loaned pays your loan, including interest. This plan removes the necessity of future refinancing, thereby relieving the home owner of expense, worry and uncertainty incident to renewals. These systematic payments are less than rent and lead to the ownership of your home, free and clear.
